Bohlen Scored For Attending Red Party After Plane Attack

Envoy, Defended By Dulles, Lacked Full Information

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 (AP)—Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen drew senatorial criticism today for attending a big Russian celebration in Moscow after Red planes shot down an American photo bomber north of Japan.

Sen. Knowland of California, one of the leaders in the fight for Bohlen's confirmation in March of 1953, told the Senate he was "deeply shocked."

Sen. Bridges (R-NH), who opposed the confirmation, also deplored the ambassador's going to the Red party at such a time.

However, Secretary of State Dulles told his news conference Bohlen had incomplete information on the shooting, and didn't even have that until a few minutes before time to leave for the celebration Sunday night.

Understandable Decision

Dulles called Bohlen's decision to attend understandable in the circumstances, whether or not more time to think it over would result in disagreement with it.

The secretary commented that Bohlen had to make up his mind without time for a full evaluation and without guidance from Washington. He added in passing that it would have been improper for Bohlen to discuss the plane incident with Premier Malenkov without instructions from Washington.

Dulles said he prepared the American note to Russia, demanding "moral and material reparations" for the shooting, after talking with President Eisenhower. He said the significant fact about the Russian note, which apparently crossed his in transit, was that it sought primarily to justify the incident by claiming the American plane shot first.

He said the U. S. government knows that the bomber fired no shots.

Fighter Escorts Considered

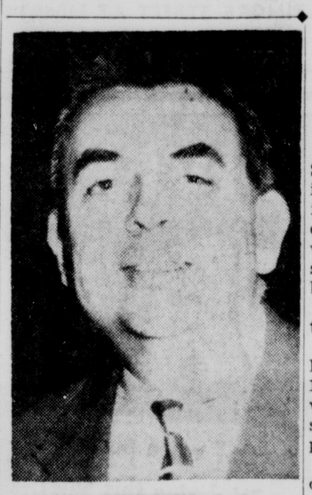

Dulles also told a questioner the United States was considering giving fighter escorts to slower aircraft which fly near Communist territory. At the Pentagon, reporters were told that theater commanders already have such authority, and that it had been used in cases where it was feasible and there was reason to expect possible trouble.

The attacked American photo bomber did not fire back and its captain explained afterward his main reason was that he wanted to complete the mapping mission, and thought he could. The mission was completed by another photo bomber which the Air Force said was escorted by Sabrejets, without incident.

One American was lost, but 10 aboard the attacked plane parachuted to safety. It was Sunday in Japan and Russia, but Saturday in the United States.

Friend Says Brother Asked Dr. Sheppard If He Murdered Wife

Replied, "Hell, No"; Jury Told Osteopath Talked Out Of Divorce

MAYOR TESTIFIES—J. Spencer Houk, mayor of Bay Village near Cleveland, told from the witness stand yesterday how he was called to the home of Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard when Sheppard's wife was found bludgeoned to death. Houk quoted Sheppard as saying "Hell no" to his brother's question whether he murdered his wife. (AP Wirephoto)

CLEVELAND, Nov. 9 (AP) — Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard was pictured in sworn testimony today as crying "Hell, no" to a relative's blunt question whether he murdered his wife, Marilyn Sheppard. That was shortly after the discovery of the body.

The 30-year-old osteopath is on trial for his life in the slaying.

J. Spencer Houk, mayor of the little community of Bay Village 12 miles west of here, testified he was summoned to the murder scene last July 4 in an excited phone call from Dr. Sheppard.

Houk and his wife were the first outsiders to get there.

Houk said he was on hand when Sheppard's eldest brother, Dr. Richard N. Sheppard, arrived and examined Marilyn's bloody and battered body.

Talked Out Of Divorce

"Dr. Richard bent over Dr. Sam," Houk related, "and I heard him say, 'She's gone, Sam,' or words to that effect, and Sam slumped further down in his chair and said, 'Oh, my God.'

"Richard said, 'Did you do this or have anything to do with it?' and Sam said, 'Hell, no.'"

Houk's testimony followed that of a plump little suburban matron, who said Dr. Sheppard was talked out of divorcing Marilyn only a few months before her murder. This witness said she wasn't sure Sheppard loved his wife.

The woman witness was Mrs. Nancy Ahern, a close friend and Bay Village neighbor of the Sheppards. She averted her eyes from the handsome defendant as she told a courtroom hanging on her every word that Mrs. Sheppard knew of her husband's affair with another woman.

Houk Friend Of Sheppard

Houk is a tall man. His deep-set eyes and shock of black hair gave him an owlish look at times. He spoke deeply and so slowly and hesitantly that Asst. Prosecutor John J. Mahon had to drag some of the answers from him.

He was the state's fourth witness. He was Sheppard's family meat dealer, and one of the osteopath's closest friends.

Sheppard contends a bushy-haired burglar killed his pregnant 31-year-old wife, then knocked him out and left him lying on the beach in front of their lakefront home.

However, the state, asking the death sentence, charges Sheppard beat Marilyn to death in her bed after a quarrel over the other woman.

Dulles Discloses New Far East Aid Plan Considered

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles said today the Eisenhower administration is considering a sweeping new Far East aid program to bolster the area against communism.

He told of the plans at a news conference in which he also expressed confidence that Russia, despite its vast military power, does not intend to start a war against the free world at this time.

"As long as we continue strong, united, and ready to fight if necessary, I think that we have a very substantial deterrent against general war," he said.

Strength Deters Russia

Dulles said the Western Allies must continue developing their military might in order to convince Russia's rulers that "their best interests will not be served by a general war."

"I believe that we are doing that effectively," he said, "and that probably the result of it is that they calculate that a general war would not serve their best interests at the present time."

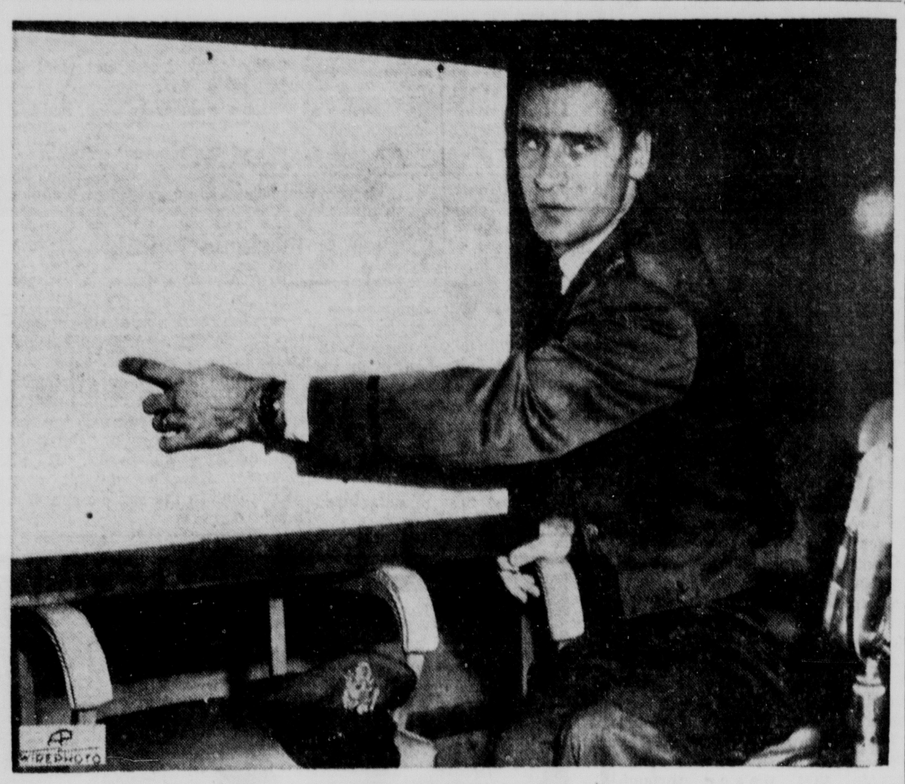

Dulles revealed the possible new American-sponsored aid program for the Far East in discussing a speech yesterday by Japan's visiting Premier Shigeru Yoshida.

In a National Press Club address, Yoshida proposed an Asian "Marshall Plan" involving four billion dollars annually to help build up anti-Communist nations. "There is not much time," he said. "Let us act now."

Asia, Europe Problem Differ

Dulles said it would not be practical to attempt to spend any such big sum annually for such a program, at least not at the start. Far Eastern needs, he said, are considerably different than the situation confronting the United States in Europe, which led to financing the multibillion-dollar Marshall Plan there.

He said Marshall Plan funds for West Europe were used to repair and modernize highly developed industrial countries to recover from war damage. In the Far East, no such comparable problem exists.

Senator Says Watkins Group 'Helping' Reds

Censure Resolution Filed By Committee; Debate Opens Today

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 (AP)—A revised resolution of censure and condemnation—aimed at Sen. McCarthy—was filed in the Senate today. McCarthy counterattacked immediately with a charge that the Senate committee which drafted it was an "unwitting handmaiden" of the Communist party.

The resolution was offered by an investigating committee headed by Sen. Watkins (R-Utah). It is based on the Wisconsin Republican's alleged defiance of a Senate Elections subcommittee in 1951-52 and his denunciation of Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker during an anti-Red investigation last fall.

What threatens to be a long and angry debate on the resolution is scheduled to open in the Senate tomorrow.

Prepared Speech

Without waiting for tomorrow, however, McCarthy released the text of a speech he intends to make on the Senate floor. He suggested in it that the Communists would be the winners if he is censured. He charged that the Watkins committee "has done the work of the Communist party."

During the course of the debate, he said in his prepared speech, he will demonstrate that the committee "not only cooperated in the achievement of Communist goals, but that in writing its report it imitated Communist methods—that it distorted, misrepresented and omitted in its effort to manufacture a plausible rationalization for advising the Senate to accede to the clamor for my scalp."

McCarthy Opposes Filibuster

There were reports that friends of the Wisconsin senator might try to talk the resolution to death in the ensuing weeks, but McCarthy himself said he wouldn't favor a filibuster and would be surprised if one developed.

Watkins introduced the revised censure resolution as chairman of the special committee of three Republicans and three Democrats which recommended unanimously that McCarthy be rebuked publicly for some phases of his official conduct.

The resolution is intended to replace the original censure proposal made last summer by Sen. Flanders (R-Vt), which said: "The conduct of the senator from Wisconsin, Mr. McCarthy, is unbecoming a member of the United States Senate, is contrary to senatorial tradition and tends to bring the Senate into disrepute, and such conduct is hereby condemned."

Resolution More Specific

The revised resolution, based on nine days of hearings conducted by the Watkins committee, is more specific.

It says McCarthy "failed to cooperate with the subcommittee on privileges and elections . . . in clearing up matters referred to that subcommittee which concerned his conduct as a senator and affected the honor of the Senate, and instead, repeatedly abused the subcommittee and its members who were trying to carry out assigned duties, thereby obstructing the constitutional process of the Senate, and that this conduct of the senator from Wisconsin, Mr. McCarthy, in failing to cooperate with the Senate committee . . . is contrary to senatorial traditions and is hereby condemned."

Davies Loses His Plea For Release Of Case Record

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles refused today, for the time being at least, to make public the record in the ouster of diplomat John Paton Davies. Dulles declared publication would be against the public interest.

Davies, fired last Friday after 23 years in the U.S. diplomatic service, has called for publication of the full record in his case and has said he feels his rights might be impaired if this is not done.

Dulles told his news conference he had not made a final decision on release of the record. But his feeling now, he said, is that full publication would reveal some state secrets, while partial publication would be unfair from several viewpoints.

The secretary added it was wholly out of the question that a preventive war with the Soviet Union ever could be accepted as United States policy. President Eisenhower has made this abundantly clear, he said.

This apparently was in reference to Davies' statement last week that he would welcome having the record made public — "including my 1950 recommendations that we seek a preventive showdown with the Soviet Union."

This Davies' statement was by way of reply to critics who contend the policies he advocated while in China helped pave the way for the Communist conquest of that country. Davies has for years been criticized by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) and others.

Actress Jane Wyman Files Suit For Divorce

SANTA MONICA, Calif., Nov. 9 (AP)—Actress Jane Wyman today filed suit for divorce from her bandleader - composer husband, Frederick M. Karger. She charged mental cruelty but cited no specific acts.

The 38-year-old actress and Karger were married Nov. 1, 1952, in Santa Barbara and separated several days ago. She was married twice previously, to actor Ronald Reagan and manufacturer Myron Futterman. Karger was formerly wed to actress Patti Sacks.

Assembly Backs French Premier

PARIS, Nov. 9 (AP) — Premier Mendes-France won a vote of confidence today from the French National Assembly, opening the way to what may be a long, hard battle over the budget for 1955.

The vote was 320 to 207, the smallest he has received, but it was another victory for Mendes-France before he leaves on a trip to the United States for talks with President Eisenhower.

The main opposition consisted of an unusual and largely accidental alliance of the Communists and Catholic Popular Republican Movement (MRP).

The budget amounts to about 9½ billion dollars. This is $1,220,000,000 less than the estimate for the current year, but many of the deputies want greater spending — not less.

They particularly want more spent on wage increases and pensions in the Communications Ministry, the subject of today's vote.

The government's victory was on a question of procedure.

RAF Pilot Visiting U.S. Killed In Crash

EGLIN AIR FORCE BASE, Fla., Nov. 9 (AP)—British Air Commodore Godfrey Dalton Stephenson, head of a six-man Royal Air Force team visiting this country, was killed when his North American F100 Super Sabrejet spiraled to earth and crashed, the Air Force said today.

The veteran 44-year-old pilot, commandant of the Central Fighter Establishment of the RAF, was preparing to join formation at 15,000 feet with Capt. Lonnie Moore, jet ace of the Korean campaign, when the speedy new jet went into a steep spiral yesterday, the announcement said.

Five Killed By Typhoon

MANILA, Wednesday, Nov. 10 (AP) — At least five persons were killed and tens of thousands made homeless by a typhoon which swept across Luzon Island Monday night.

China Charges Air Violations

LONDON, Nov. 9 (AP)—Red China charged today that six waves of U.S. Air Force planes flew over her south coast Sunday and yesterday. The radio said this represented "new encroachments on China's territorial air."

Peiping Radio claimed the U.S. planes flew 50 sorties over the coastal areas of Chekiang Province, about 400 miles north of Formosa. The broadcast claimed the "intruders" fled towards the sea after they were intercepted by Red China fighters and came under antiaircraft fire.

These serious encroachments on Chinese territorial air," the radio said, "greatly incensed the officers and men of the armed forces guarding the Chekiang front. They are closely watching the development of the situation and are ready to deal heavy blows at the American air intruders."

The broadcast said most of the sorties were carried out over coastal islands east of Ninghsien in Chekiang. These islands are near the Chu Shan Archipelago where Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist forces still maintain a foothold.

LONDON, Nov. 9 (AP) — Field Marshal Lord Montgomery left London airport tonight for Montreal on a three-week visit to Canada and the United States.

Baltimore Girl Slain, Body Found On Railroad Tracks

BALTIMORE, Nov. 9 (AP)—The semi-nude and battered body of a pretty, 14-year-old high school girl was found today on railroad tracks in Mount Washington northwest suburb.

Police said the girl, identified as Carolyn L. Wasilewski, had been "brutally murdered."

Their only clue to her slayer was the name "Paul" lettered in lipstick or mercurochrome on the victim's right thigh.

The girl, one of seven children, was identified at the morgue tonight by her father, Stanley Wasilewski, a guard at the Maryland Drydock Co. She was a student at Southern High School, located on the other side of the city, about eight miles from where her body was found.

The body of the small, blonde girl, was dressed only in a pink T-sweater and white bobby sox. A black silk handkerchief and a pink brassiere were bunched around her neck. All other clothing was missing.

The body, face down on the mainline Pennsylvania Railroad tracks under a bridge, was spotted early today by the engineer of a passing Harrisburg to Baltimore train. Normally the train would have passed over the body before it could have been stopped but a last minute operational change caused the train to be switched to a parallel track.

The autopsy showed the girl had been dead since about 11 p.m. last night. She died of a fractured skull. She also had a fractured jaw. She had not been raped.

Russia And India Get Bids To Help Plan Atom Talks

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Nov. 9 (AP) — The West today invited Russia and India to help arrange an international scientific conference slated to meet next summer as part of President Eisenhower's atoms for peace program.

Arkady A. Sobolev, sitting in the U.N. Assembly's Political Committee for chief Russian Delegate Andrei Y. Vishinsky, and V. K. Krishna Menon, India, said nothing publicly in answer to the Western bid but indicated privately that they were interested and would study it carefully. They obviously were surprised.

Offer Made By Canadian

The offer was made by Paul Martin, Canadian minister for national health and welfare, as the committee continued debate on the President's proposals. Martin said he was encouraged by the agreement of the Russians to cosponsor with the West a resolution for new talks on disarmament. He expressed a wish that this "moderate" attitude would be carried over to the atoms for peace talks.

Martin issued the invitation the day after Vishinsky had, for the third time in this 9th Assembly, stated that Moscow has not rejected the Eisenhower plan and that Moscow wants to continue negotiations with the United States on this subject.

Geneva Possible Site

Martin proposed that the Soviet Union, India, Brazil, United States, Britain, France and Canada make up an advisory committee to consult with Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold on invitations to the conference, preparation of the agenda, and selection of the site.

Geneva has a head start as the location. Britain and Belgium both favor that city. The United States is not expected to propose any American city.

Rooster In Stew Following Attack

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 9 (AP)—Police today informed Will Swain that his rooster had attacked a 3-year-old child and spurred its forehead, requiring surgical attention.

"Yes, I heard about it," replied Swain.

"Where's the rooster?" inquired the officers.

Swain led them to the kitchen, lifted the lid on a boiling pot. The rooster really was in a stew.

Stevenson Declares Demos 'Put On Trial'

LIBERTYVILLE, Ill., Nov. 9 (AP) — Adlai E. Stevenson said today that "winning control of Congress has put the Democratic party on trial."

Stevenson, the 1952 presidential candidate told an interviewer he has no fears as to the outcome of that trial as it will be determined by the 1956 elections.

"The record of the 84th Congress and the Democratic members of it must certainly have an effect on the elections two years hence," he said. "But, as one who has faith in the party, I decline to worry about the conduct of its representatives."

DENVER, Nov. 9 (AP) — Police had pictorial evidence today to back up Airman Gilbert E. Morgan's story that his pocket was picked by a woman sitting next to him at a bar on Larimer St.

Someone happened to snap his picture just at that moment, Morgan said. Sure enough, Patrolman Richard Spangler said, the photo shows a woman sticking her hand into Morgan's pocket.

Spangler, armed with the photo, is looking for her.

Airliner Lands Safely Despite Jammed Wheel

CHICAGO, Nov. 9 (AP)—An American Airlines plane, with one wheel hopelessly jammed, made a successful landing today on two wheels.

None of the 40 passengers and three crew members was injured.

The two-engine Convair 240 had circled its destination, Chicago's Midway Airport, for an hour while the crew worked to free the wheel. When it became apparent the wheel could not be freed, the pilot took the craft to suburban Glenview Naval Air Station, some 20 miles to the north.

There, the plane rolled smoothly down the runway for 500 yards before swerving around, the right wing touching the concrete, amid a shower of sparks.

Crash equipment stood ready, nearby.

The right wing, a propeller and engine covering were damaged.

Among the passengers were Mrs. William G. Stratton, wife of the Illinois governor, and Peter F. Mack Jr., Democratic congressman from Carlinville, Ill.

12 Mau Maus Slain

NAIROBI, Kenya, Nov. 9 (AP) — Five hundred African police and British troops fought a pitched battle tonight against 120 Mau Mau terrorist 40 miles from Nairobi.

Radio reports from the area said security forces killed 12 terrorists and captured or injured many more.

Democrats Move To Delay Power Contract Signing

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 (AP) — Democrats on the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee launched a maneuver tonight to head off the signing of the controversial Dixon-Yates power contract until after the 84th Congress meets in January.

And Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas voiced a hope that the contract will have "quiet burial" in the new Congress which his party will control. However, the two senators from Arkansas called for a go-ahead on the contract, which they declared is "entirely justifiable."

Yates Ready To Sign

A well-placed Republican leader said meanwhile that the Eisenhower administration would not retreat from its endorsement of the deal. But speculation has developed, he added, about whether the Dixon-Yates interests will want to go through with it now that it has developed into such a hot political issue.

In Atlanta, however, E. A. Yates, board chairman of the Southern Co., one of the two companies in the Dixon-Yates group, indicated his company was still ready to sign.

"We believe that this proposal is in the public interest," he said in a statement. "Responsible representatives of various government agencies have stated that it is in the public interest. Certainly it is not in the public interest to continue to delay."

Showdown Imminent

The Atomic Energy Commission has indicated the papers will be signed Thursday.

The fight over postponement heads toward a showdown at a closed-door committee session tomorrow morning.

Sen. Pastore (D-RI) sounded the call for it with a resolution which, if adopted, would put the joint committee, of which he is a member, on record as urging AEC to hold off signing the contract until the committee has had an opportunity to study it and all related memoranda "after the convening of the 84th Congress."

Marine Status Battle Rages On Eve Of Statue Dedication

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 (AP)—With a backstage battle over its future status boiling in the Pentagon, the U. S. Marine Corps celebrates its 179th birthday tomorrow with official dedication of a new monument on the banks of the Potomac River.

The White House said President Eisenhower would be among those attending the ceremonies as the monument, largest bronze casting ever made, is formally presented to the nation by Gen. Lemuel C. Shephard Jr., Marine Corps commandant. Deputy Secretary of Defense Robert B. Anderson was listed as the principal speaker.

The $850,000 statue, which took nine years to create, depicts the celebrated World War II flag raising scene on Iwo Jima's Mt. Suribachi. Paid for principally by contributions of Marine and Navy servicemen and veterans, it honors all Marines of all this country's armed conflicts.

But while they gloried in their past history, Marine Corps leaders reportedly were battling to strengthen the future of the Corps against what they consider too close control by Navy admirals.

At issue, informants said, is whether the corps is to be under the jurisdiction of the chief of naval operations, Adm. Robert B. Carney, or responsible directly to Secretary of the Navy Charles Thomas. Pro-Marine sources said an order which would put the Corps under Carney's general supervision has been prepared for Thomas' signature.

Such action, if approved, they said, would give Carney greater leeway in using appropriations and might tend to chip away the Marines' own semi-independent status.

Multiple Killer Doomed By Jury

NEW YORK, Nov. 9 (AP)—A jury today found multiple-killer John Francis Roche, 27, guilty of first degree murder — a verdict making a death sentence mandatory.

The plumber's helper had shocked the city by confessing to four murders — and later a fifth — but was tried only for the rape-slaying of Dorothy Westwater, 14, a schoolgirl.

The jurors did not recommend mercy, which would have permitted a life sentence.

General Sessions Judge Jonah J. Goldstein set Nov. 30 for sentencing.

Roche confessed that he beat and raped the Westwater girl in a hallway of an apartment house as she was leaving for school last June 2. Police picked him up June 5. The girl died June 6 without regaining consciousness.

Police said Roche also confessed killing Marion Brown, 17, a waitress; Mrs. Rosa Chronik, 85; Alex Jablonka, 43, a taxicab driver; and Edward Bates, 22, a sailor.

Resolution More Specific

The revised resolution, based on nine days of hearings conducted by the Watkins committee, is more specific.

It says McCarthy "failed to cooperate with the subcommittee on privileges and elections . . . in clearing up matters referred to that subcommittee which concerned his conduct as a senator and affected the honor of the Senate, and instead, repeatedly abused the subcommittee and its members who were trying to carry out assigned duties, thereby obstructing the constitutional process of the Senate, and that this conduct of the senator from Wisconsin, Mr. McCarthy, in failing to cooperate with the Senate committee . . . is contrary to senatorial traditions and is hereby condemned."

Russia And India Get Bids To Help Plan Atom Talks

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Nov. 9 (AP) — The West today invited Russia and India to help arrange an international scientific conference slated to meet next summer as part of President Eisenhower's atoms for peace program.

Arkady A. Sobolev, sitting in the U.N. Assembly's Political Committee for chief Russian Delegate Andrei Y. Vishinsky, and V. K. Krishna Menon, India, said nothing publicly in answer to the Western bid but indicated privately that they were interested and would study it carefully. They obviously were surprised.

Offer Made By Canadian

The offer was made by Paul Martin, Canadian minister for national health and welfare, as the committee continued debate on the President's proposals. Martin said he was encouraged by the agreement of the Russians to cosponsor with the West a resolution for new talks on disarmament. He expressed a wish that this "moderate" attitude would be carried over to the atoms for peace talks.

Martin issued the invitation the day after Vishinsky had, for the third time in this 9th Assembly, stated that Moscow has not rejected the Eisenhower plan and that Moscow wants to continue negotiations with the United States on this subject.

Geneva Possible Site

Martin proposed that the Soviet Union, India, Brazil, United States, Britain, France and Canada make up an advisory committee to consult with Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold on invitations to the conference, preparation of the agenda, and selection of the site.

Geneva has a head start as the location. Britain and Belgium both favor that city. The United States is not expected to propose any American city.

DENVER, Nov. 9 (AP) — Police had pictorial evidence today to back up Airman Gilbert E. Morgan's story that his pocket was picked by a woman sitting next to him at a bar on Larimer St.

Someone happened to snap his picture just at that moment, Morgan said. Sure enough, Patrolman Richard Spangler said, the photo shows a woman sticking her hand into Morgan's pocket.

Democrats Move To Delay Power Contract Signing

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 (AP) — Democrats on the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee launched a maneuver tonight to head off the signing of the controversial Dixon-Yates power contract until after the 84th Congress meets in January.

And Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas voiced a hope that the contract will have "quiet burial" in the new Congress which his party will control. However, the two senators from Arkansas called for a go-ahead on the contract, which they declared is "entirely justifiable."

Yates Ready To Sign

A well-placed Republican leader said meanwhile that the Eisenhower administration would not retreat from its endorsement of the deal. But speculation has developed, he added, about whether the Dixon-Yates interests will want to go through with it now that it has developed into such a hot political issue.

In Atlanta, however, E. A. Yates, board chairman of the Southern Co., one of the two companies in the Dixon-Yates group, indicated his company was still ready to sign.

"We believe that this proposal is in the public interest," he said in a statement. "Responsible representatives of various government agencies have stated that it is in the public interest. Certainly it is not in the public interest to continue to delay."

Showdown Imminent

The Atomic Energy Commission has indicated the papers will be signed Thursday.

The fight over postponement heads toward a showdown at a closed-door committee session tomorrow morning.

Sen. Pastore (D-RI) sounded the call for it with a resolution which, if adopted, would put the joint committee, of which he is a member, on record as urging AEC to hold off signing the contract until the committee has had an opportunity to study it and all related memoranda "after the convening of the 84th Congress."

Airliner Lands Safely Despite Jammed Wheel

CHICAGO, Nov. 9 (AP)—An American Airlines plane, with one wheel hopelessly jammed, made a successful landing today on two wheels.

None of the 40 passengers and three crew members was injured.

The two-engine Convair 240 had circled its destination, Chicago's Midway Airport, for an hour while the crew worked to free the wheel. When it became apparent the wheel could not be freed, the pilot took the craft to suburban Glenview Naval Air Station, some 20 miles to the north.

There, the plane rolled smoothly down the runway for 500 yards before swerving around, the right wing touching the concrete, amid a shower of sparks.

Crash equipment stood ready, nearby.

The right wing, a propeller and engine covering were damaged.

Among the passengers were Mrs. William G. Stratton, wife of the Illinois governor, and Peter F. Mack Jr., Democratic congressman from Carlinville, Ill.

12 Mau Maus Slain

NAIROBI, Kenya, Nov. 9 (AP) — Five hundred African police and British troops fought a pitched battle tonight against 120 Mau Mau terrorist 40 miles from Nairobi.

Radio reports from the area said security forces killed 12 terrorists and captured or injured many more.

Davies Loses His Plea For Release Of Case Record

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles refused today, for the time being at least, to make public the record in the ouster of diplomat John Paton Davies. Dulles declared publication would be against the public interest.

Davies, fired last Friday after 23 years in the U.S. diplomatic service, has called for publication of the full record in his case and has said he feels his rights might be impaired if this is not done.

Dulles told his news conference he had not made a final decision on release of the record. But his feeling now, he said, is that full publication would reveal some state secrets, while partial publication would be unfair from several viewpoints.

The secretary added it was wholly out of the question that a preventive war with the Soviet Union ever could be accepted as United States policy. President Eisenhower has made this abundantly clear, he said.

This apparently was in reference to Davies' statement last week that he would welcome having the record made public — "including my 1950 recommendations that we seek a preventive showdown with the Soviet Union."

This Davies' statement was by way of reply to critics who contend the policies he advocated while in China helped pave the way for the Communist conquest of that country. Davies has for years been criticized by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) and others.

Actress Jane Wyman Files Suit For Divorce

SANTA MONICA, Calif., Nov. 9 (AP)—Actress Jane Wyman today filed suit for divorce from her bandleader - composer husband, Frederick M. Karger. She charged mental cruelty but cited no specific acts.

The 38-year-old actress and Karger were married Nov. 1, 1952, in Santa Barbara and separated several days ago. She was married twice previously, to actor Ronald Reagan and manufacturer Myron Futterman. Karger was formerly wed to actress Patti Sacks.

Assembly Backs French Premier

PARIS, Nov. 9 (AP) — Premier Mendes-France won a vote of confidence today from the French National Assembly, opening the way to what may be a long, hard battle over the budget for 1955.

The vote was 320 to 207, the smallest he has received, but it was another victory for Mendes-France before he leaves on a trip to the United States for talks with President Eisenhower.

The main opposition consisted of an unusual and largely accidental alliance of the Communists and Catholic Popular Republican Movement (MRP).

The budget amounts to about 9½ billion dollars. This is $1,220,000,000 less than the estimate for the current year, but many of the deputies want greater spending — not less.

They particularly want more spent on wage increases and pensions in the Communications Ministry, the subject of today's vote.

The government's victory was on a question of procedure.

RAF Pilot Visiting U.S. Killed In Crash

EGLIN AIR FORCE BASE, Fla., Nov. 9 (AP)—British Air Commodore Godfrey Dalton Stephenson, head of a six-man Royal Air Force team visiting this country, was killed when his North American F100 Super Sabrejet spiraled to earth and crashed, the Air Force said today.

The veteran 44-year-old pilot, commandant of the Central Fighter Establishment of the RAF, was preparing to join formation at 15,000 feet with Capt. Lonnie Moore, jet ace of the Korean campaign, when the speedy new jet went into a steep spiral yesterday, the announcement said.

Five Killed By Typhoon

MANILA, Wednesday, Nov. 10 (AP) — At least five persons were killed and tens of thousands made homeless by a typhoon which swept across Luzon Island Monday night.

Rooster In Stew Following Attack

MIAMI, Fla., Nov. 9 (AP)—Police today informed Will Swain that his rooster had attacked a 3-year-old child and spurred its forehead, requiring surgical attention.

"Yes, I heard about it," replied Swain.

"Where's the rooster?" inquired the officers.

Swain led them to the kitchen, lifted the lid on a boiling pot. The rooster really was in a stew.

Stevenson Declares Demos 'Put On Trial'

LIBERTYVILLE, Ill., Nov. 9 (AP) — Adlai E. Stevenson said today that "winning control of Congress has put the Democratic party on trial."

Stevenson, the 1952 presidential candidate told an interviewer he has no fears as to the outcome of that trial as it will be determined by the 1956 elections.

"The record of the 84th Congress and the Democratic members of it must certainly have an effect on the elections two years hence," he said. "But, as one who has faith in the party, I decline to worry about the conduct of its representatives."

Baltimore Girl Slain, Body Found On Railroad Tracks

BALTIMORE, Nov. 9 (AP)—The semi-nude and battered body of a pretty, 14-year-old high school girl was found today on railroad tracks in Mount Washington northwest suburb.

Police said the girl, identified as Carolyn L. Wasilewski, had been "brutally murdered."

Their only clue to her slayer was the name "Paul" lettered in lipstick or mercurochrome on the victim's right thigh.

The girl, one of seven children, was identified at the morgue tonight by her father, Stanley Wasilewski, a guard at the Maryland Drydock Co. She was a student at Southern High School, located on the other side of the city, about eight miles from where her body was found.

The body of the small, blonde girl, was dressed only in a pink T-sweater and white bobby sox. A black silk handkerchief and a pink brassiere were bunched around her neck. All other clothing was missing.

The body, face down on the mainline Pennsylvania Railroad tracks under a bridge, was spotted early today by the engineer of a passing Harrisburg to Baltimore train. Normally the train would have passed over the body before it could have been stopped but a last minute operational change caused the train to be switched to a parallel track.

The autopsy showed the girl had been dead since about 11 p.m. last night. She died of a fractured skull. She also had a fractured jaw. She had not been raped.

China Charges Air Violations

LONDON, Nov. 9 (AP)—Red China charged today that six waves of U.S. Air Force planes flew over her south coast Sunday and yesterday. The radio said this represented "new encroachments on China's territorial air."

Peiping Radio claimed the U.S. planes flew 50 sorties over the coastal areas of Chekiang Province, about 400 miles north of Formosa. The broadcast claimed the "intruders" fled towards the sea after they were intercepted by Red China fighters and came under antiaircraft fire.

These serious encroachments on Chinese territorial air," the radio said, "greatly incensed the officers and men of the armed forces guarding the Chekiang front. They are closely watching the development of the situation and are ready to deal heavy blows at the American air intruders."

The broadcast said most of the sorties were carried out over coastal islands east of Ninghsien in Chekiang. These islands are near the Chu Shan Archipelago where Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalist forces still maintain a foothold.

LONDON, Nov. 9 (AP) — Field Marshal Lord Montgomery left London airport tonight for Montreal on a three-week visit to Canada and the United States.

Marine Status Battle Rages On Eve Of Statue Dedication

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 (AP)—With a backstage battle over its future status boiling in the Pentagon, the U. S. Marine Corps celebrates its 179th birthday tomorrow with official dedication of a new monument on the banks of the Potomac River.

The White House said President Eisenhower would be among those attending the ceremonies as the monument, largest bronze casting ever made, is formally presented to the nation by Gen. Lemuel C. Shephard Jr., Marine Corps commandant. Deputy Secretary of Defense Robert B. Anderson was listed as the principal speaker.

The $850,000 statue, which took nine years to create, depicts the celebrated World War II flag raising scene on Iwo Jima's Mt. Suribachi. Paid for principally by contributions of Marine and Navy servicemen and veterans, it honors all Marines of all this country's armed conflicts.

But while they gloried in their past history, Marine Corps leaders reportedly were battling to strengthen the future of the Corps against what they consider too close control by Navy admirals.

At issue, informants said, is whether the corps is to be under the jurisdiction of the chief of naval operations, Adm. Robert B. Carney, or responsible directly to Secretary of the Navy Charles Thomas. Pro-Marine sources said an order which would put the Corps under Carney's general supervision has been prepared for Thomas' signature.

Such action, if approved, they said, would give Carney greater leeway in using appropriations and might tend to chip away the Marines' own semi-independent status.

Multiple Killer Doomed By Jury

NEW YORK, Nov. 9 (AP)—A jury today found multiple-killer John Francis Roche, 27, guilty of first degree murder — a verdict making a death sentence mandatory.

The plumber's helper had shocked the city by confessing to four murders — and later a fifth — but was tried only for the rape-slaying of Dorothy Westwater, 14, a schoolgirl.

The jurors did not recommend mercy, which would have permitted a life sentence.

General Sessions Judge Jonah J. Goldstein set Nov. 30 for sentencing.

Roche confessed that he beat and raped the Westwater girl in a hallway of an apartment house as she was leaving for school last June 2. Police picked him up June 5. The girl died June 6 without regaining consciousness.

Police said Roche also confessed killing Marion Brown, 17, a waitress; Mrs. Rosa Chronik, 85; Alex Jablonka, 43, a taxicab driver; and Edward Bates, 22, a sailor.

Adenauer To Gamble On Pact's Ratification

Chancellor Ready To Fight To Finish

BONN, Germany, Nov. 9 (AP)—A senior West German official said today Chancellor Konrad Adenauer will fight to the finish for parliamentary approval of the controversial French - German Saar agreement.

The official, who is close to Adenauer and asked not to be identified by name, said the Chancellor and his top advisers had decided in strategy conferences they could ram through Parliament the plan to Europeanize the industrially rich Saar, despite a revolt by two of the four government coalition parties.

The decision was viewed as one of the most crucial the 78-year-old Adenauer has had to make in his political career. It is a calculated gamble that he can win despite demands by the two coalition partners—the Free Democrats and the Refugee party—that the Saar question be renegotiated with France in an effort to win a more favorable settlement for Germany.

Under the pact—which was one of France's basic conditions for agreeing to the Paris agreements to free and rearm West Germany—the Saar will have a neutral commissioner responsible to the Western European Union. The territory, German before World War II, will remain tied economically to France.

The Free Democrats claimed yesterday they had forced Adenauer to seek new talks with France on the Saar. But the official informant said today the future discussions with Paris will be confined to filling in details of some provisions expressed in general terms and will not be a wholesale revision of the pact. For instance, he added, the authority and duties of the neutral commissioner must be spelled out.

Leaders of the Free Democrats and the Refugees have announced they will join the opposition Socialists in fighting the Saar pact in its present form when it comes up for ratification.

Two-Party Elections Will Return To Spain

MADRID, Spain, Nov. 9 (AP)—For the first time since the Spanish Civil War candidates will run openly on a party slate opposing Generalissimo Francisco Franco's Falange — the only legal political body — in elections Nov. 21 for the Madrid Municipal Council.

Four leading Monarchists said today they will run for posts on the Council.

In the past, a few scattered independents have opposed the Falange in local elections and some have even been elected. But not since the war have a group of men of known political affiliation — opposing the Falange — presented thir candidature on a single slate.

Churchill Sees Peace And Plenty

LONDON, Nov. 9 (AP) — Prime Minister Churchill said tonight the world may enjoy peace and plenty in a few years "instead of roaming and peering round on the rim of hell."

Churchill, resplendent in his trappings as a Knight of the Garter, spoke optimistically of the world outlook in an address at the annual banquet of the lord mayor of London. The new lord mayor, Seymour Howard, introduced him as the "greatest personality of our times."

The Prime Minister voiced the hope that Western unity can "create that peace through strength that will allow time to play its healing part" in bringing peace to the world.

"We might even find ourselves in a few years moving along a broad, smooth causeway, of peace and plenty, instead of roaming and peering round on the rim of hell," he said.

He described himself as "one of those who believe that the powers of the West and the East ought to try to live in a friendly and peaceful way with each other."

He said the foundation of Britain's existence stands "on our alliance, friendship, and an increasing sense of brotherhood with the United States .. . We are also developing increasingly intimate ties with France, Germany, Italy, and the Low Countries .. ."

American Flees

VIENNA, Austria, Nov. 9 (AP) — A 33-year-old American musician, who disappeared from Vienna with his wife and two children Oct. 20, has fled to Czechoslovakia, Radio Prague said today.

The announcement said Herbert Ward, of Bellaire, Ohio, and New York City, has asked Czech authorities for political asylum "to escape unbearable chicaneries by American police" which allegedly followed a trip by Ward to Communist staged world festival in Berlin in 1951.

Jap Communists Help Cops Guard Chinese

OSAKA, Japan, Wednesday, Nov 10 (AP)—Japanese Communists are real pally with the cops these days.

A 10-man Red Cross delegation from Communist China, now touring Japan, has been carefully guarded by Communist "storm troopers" working virtually arm and arm with Japanese police and soldiers.

There have been rumors of possible violence against the Chinese, so police are protecting them as they would any foreign visitor. Japanese Reds have moved in to help.

Maryland Doctor Pleads Guilty To Abortion Charge

WARRENTON, Va., Nov. 9 (AP)—A middle-aged Maryland physician pleaded guilty at his arraignment today to performing abortions on five women in a Fauquier County farmhouse last June.

The farmhouse, in the rolling Northern Virginia horse country about 50 miles from Washington, was raided the night of June 25 by about 30 county and State Police officers. Police said it was an "abortion mill" and estimated the weekly take at $12,000.

The physician, Dr. George Thomas Strother, 54, of Brunswick, Md., faces a prison sentence of 3 to 10 years on each count. Sentencing was deferred pending a pre-sentence report by the probation and parole officer.

His wife, Mrs. Ruth Strother, 38, and Mary C. Boyer, 48, described by police as Strother's nursing assistants, had been indicted for felonies but were permitted today to plead guilty to the misdemeanors of aiding and abetting in the operations. Sentencing in their cases also was deferred.

The two women face fines of $100 to $500 and jail sentences of one of 12 months on each count.

Prisoners Send Little Girl Note Of Encouragement

SUPERIOR, Wis., Nov. 9 (AP)—Linda Peters, 5, has received hundreds of messages of sympathy and encouragement as she awaits surgery in February on a heart defect which is robbing her of a normal life. But her mother, Mrs. Nancy Peters, says one of the most touching is this poem which came last Friday with a cash gift of $28.60:

"May all your dreams we hope come true;

"May you do the things you plan to do;

"May your heart get well in every little way,

"This we sincerely wish, and had to say.

"From the fellows"

The letter was sent from the Wisconsin State Prison at Waupun.

Purdoms Separate

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 9 (AP)—Edmund Purdom and his wife, Tita, separated today and she blamed the rift on the actor's sudden rise to fame.

"We had four years of poverty and misery and we clung together like babes in the woods," the former ballet dancer said. "But when Ed became successful, it all changed. Now he doesn't even want to be in the same room with me."

Dixie Producers May End Pacts With Mine Union

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 (AP)—The Southern coal industry today authorized its leadership to end its contracts with John L. Lewis—but such action was called "not an imminent prospect."

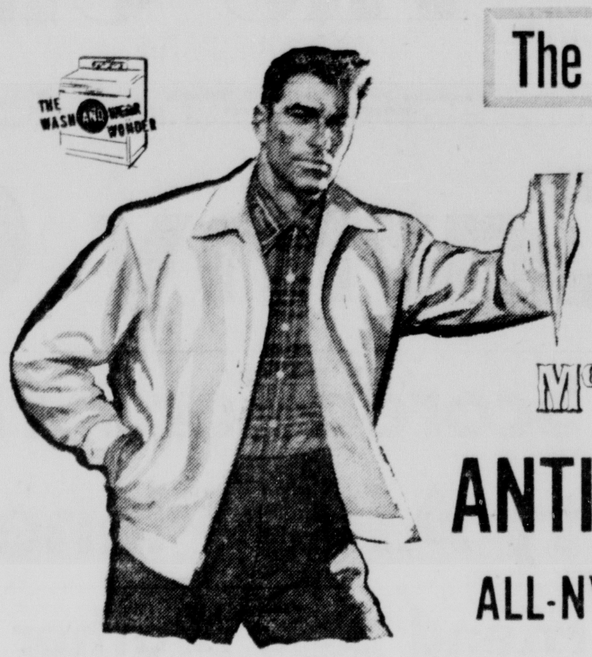

Membership of the Southern Coal Producers Assn., meeting here, weighed a resolution which would have instructed President Joseph Moody to seek new wage negotiations with Lewis' United Mine Workers (UMW).

This resolution never reached a vote. Moody told reporters after the session, despite some "pretty belligerent talk." The soft coal operators accepted instead a proposal that Moody and the association's executive committee be given discretion to act as developments warrant.

Some members were known to feel that, despite shutdowns and unemployment in the bituminous fields, Lewis would not take less than the present contract terms without a prolonged and costly struggle.

Per capita human consumption of grain and potatoes in the United States declined about 40 per cent between 1909 and 1952.

Purdoms Separate

HOLLYWOOD, Nov. 9 (AP)—Edmund Purdom and his wife, Tita, separated today and she blamed the rift on the actor's sudden rise to fame.

"We had four years of poverty and misery and we clung together like babes in the woods," the former ballet dancer said. "But when Ed became successful, it all changed. Now he doesn't even want to be in the same room with me."

Dixie Producers May End Pacts With Mine Union

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 (AP)—The Southern coal industry today authorized its leadership to end its contracts with John L. Lewis—but such action was called "not an imminent prospect."

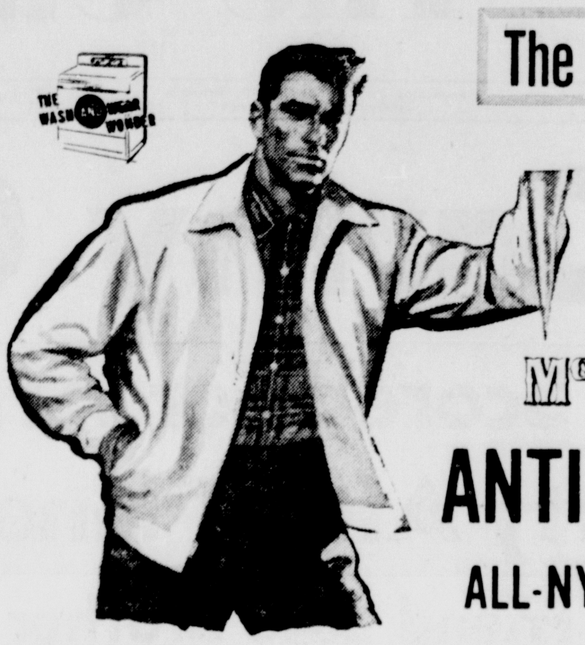

Membership of the Southern Coal Producers Assn., meeting here, weighed a resolution which would have instructed President Joseph Moody to seek new wage negotiations with Lewis' United Mine Workers (UMW).

This resolution never reached a vote. Moody told reporters after the session, despite some "pretty belligerent talk." The soft coal operators accepted instead a proposal that Moody and the association's executive committee be given discretion to act as developments warrant.

Some members were known to feel that, despite shutdowns and unemployment in the bituminous fields, Lewis would not take less than the present contract terms without a prolonged and costly struggle.

Per capita human consumption of grain and potatoes in the United States declined about 40 per cent between 1909 and 1952.

Pilot Dangling From 'Chute Takes Movies Of Falling Jet

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 (AP) — A Navy pilot who bailed out at 10,000 feet over the Pacific after his jet fighter caught fire took color movies of the antics of his abandoned plane and of rescue preparations below as he dangled from his parachute.

The Navy today described this adventure which happened yesterday to Lt. (J. G.) Carlos P. Baker Jr. of Topanga, Calif., a pilot aboard the aircraft carrier Hornet in the Western Pacific.

Baker, an amateur photographer, had tucked an 8mm. movie camera in his flight suit pocket before taking off from the Hornet. When his plane caught fire shortly after takeoff, Baker fired his ejection seat, was hurled into space and pulled the ripcord of his parachute.

Dangling from the chute, he watched the crazy gyrations of his abandoned plane, remembered the camera and started grinding away, following the plane's dive into the water.

Seeing destroyer rescue teams and helicopters waiting for him below, Baker then turned the camera on them. About 500 feet from the sea, he ran out of film.

Tightly clutching his camera, Baker hit the water, plunged about 12 feet under and was lifted to safety by a helicopter from the cruiser Helena.

At last report, the Navy hadn't found out whether Baker's pictures were any good.

Russia Falls Far Short Of Cattle And Grain Goals

MOSCOW, Nov. 9 (AP)—The Soviet Union announced today its drive to increase the country's cattle population fell far short of goals set a year ago. It also said drought conditions in the Ukraine and Volga regions prevented the drive for more food production from making significant advances.

The newspaper Pravda published a joint statement of the Communist party Central Committee and the Council of Ministers (government) reporting on results of the consumer goods campaign launched a year ago in line with the stated policy of Premier Georgi Malenkov's government to raise Soviet living standards.

The statement said the quota for grain production was fulfilled 101 per cent, bringing a total of 4,700,000 metric tons — a metric ton is 2,204 pounds. This is only slightly more than the 1953 harvest, which was an average one.

(The indication is that the Soviet government is deeply disappointed with the result. Soviet percentage figures always are viewed in the West with skepticism, and the report of 101 per cent fulfillment is far from spectacular.)

N. S. Khrushchev, first secretary of the Communist party, has been personally directing the program to expand the cultivation of virgin soil, and the party-government statement said the over-all increase in production was due to that factor. It was the drought in the Ukraine and Volga areas which kept the over-all figure down, the statement said.

"In view of the drought, the government has found it necessary to reduce the grain delivery plan for the Ukraine by 224.6 million poods —a pood is about 36 pounds—and to set a reduced quota for the Volga districts."

This indicated the contribution of the Ukraine — always a bread basket — to the government's vital grain harvest will be about 4.5 million tons less than it ordinarily would have been.

The announcement showed that Soviet agriculture failed by almost three million head to meet the quota of increased cattle population. Khrushchev has said the cattle population was one of the country's most pressing problems.

Western diplomats, commenting on the statement, said "mediocre" would be the best word to describe the production figures, except in the areas where virgin lands were opened up to cultivation.

Meter Receipts Drop

KEYSER — Parking meter receipts declined in the past week due to the Election Day holiday. Receipts for the week ending Saturday, reported by City Clerk Carl F. Theis Jr., were $244.48, a drop of $29.02 from the previous week. The Veterans Day holiday this week is expected to cause another decline in receipts.

Vital Statistics Prove U. S. Senator's Job Man-Killer; Toll Of Present Session, Nine

By ARTHUR EDSON

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 (AP) — The vital statistics prove it. Being a U. S. senator is a tough, wearing, man-killing job.

This is brought home today by the unusual Senate session called but for one purpose: To decide what, if anything, should be done about censuring Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis).

But before the Senate got on with its business, it stopped to pay its respects to members who have died.

The list is impressive. Since the 83rd Congress set up shop less than two years ago, nine senators have died. And among these nine were some of the Senate's best known and most picturesque members.

Such as Sen. Robert A. Taft (R-Ohio), who spoke flatly and even querulously and who fiddled impatiently with his papers when others tried to answer. He appeared to be neither a good orator nor a good listener, yet one had only to watch the reactions of other senators when Taft walked on the Senate floor to realize how great was his influence.

Or Sen. Pat McCarran (D-Nev), whose impressive figure and whose flowing white mane made him the perfect picture of a legislative lion. When he spoke, it was always a shock. The lion didn't roar; McCarran, at least in his later years, had a slight, squeaky voice. However he spoke, as senior Democrat on the Judiciary Committee, McCarran packed power.

Or Sen. Charles W. Tobey (R-NH), the fast talking, Bible quoting, poetry remembering senator who became a television star on the crime investigating committee headed by Sen. Kefauver (D-Tenn).

Or Sen. Burnett Maybank (D-SC), senior Democrat on the important Banking Committee, whose accent was strictly from Charleston. To Maybank, for instance, this country became the "United Stedts."

A Tobey-Maybank debate was a stenographer's nightmare.

And there were Sens. Willis Smith (D-NC), Dwight P. Griswold (R-Neb), Hugh Butler (R-Neb), Lester Hunt (D-Wyo) and Clyde Hoey (D-NC), whose daily dress included a wing collar, a swallow tail coat and a carnation in his buttonhole.

The reason for the high mortality rate is obvious. In most industries, the old wheelhorses are called in at 65, given a traveling oat bag by their colleagues, and turned out to pasture.

If this rule were followed in the Senate, more than a third of its present membership wouldn't be there. Sen. Theodore Francis Green (D-RI) is 87; several others are in their late seventies.

The task of keeping up with the problems of the world—and of your constituents—would be enough to stagger a young man, even if Senate working conditions were ideal. Which they aren't.

Night, or even all night, sessions aren't unheard of.

And after all these years, the Senate (and the House, too, for that matter) still hasn't a regular eating period.

The usual procedure: Committee hearings in the morning, Senate proper starting at noon, with senators getting lunch and dinner whenever they can.

Sen. Morse (Ind-Ore) once suggested that Wednesday and Friday be set aside for committee hearings, and that Mondays, Tuesdays and Thursdays be regular meeting days, with the Senate coming to order at 9:30 and knocking off for lunch.

"I think," Morse told his colleagues, "that would do much to improve the efficiency of the Senate."

In the tradition loving Senate, Morse didn't get so much as a second to his motion.

Martin Due To Take Minority Leader Job

DES MOINES, Nov. 9 (AP)—Rep. Joseph W. Martin (R-Mass), outgoing speaker of the U. S. House of Representatives, said here today that while he doesn't particularly want the job as House minority leader in the 84th congress, "chances are that I'll take it."

Martin recalled he said "way last spring that I wasn't too anxious to continue as party leader if the Republicans lost the Nov. 2 election."

Since election, Martin said in an interview, he has been under "tremendous pressures" to continue as GOP leader in the House. He said he hasn't definitely made up his mind but added:

"I don't want to run out on the party."

Martin was here to address an Iowa Bankers Convention.

State's Employment Situation Brightens

BALTIMORE, Nov. 9 (AP)—Maryland's employment picture has brightened in the past few weeks after holding steady through September, the State Department of Employment Security reported today.

The exact dimensions of the recent improvement haven't been compiled yet, a spokesman said, but some indication is provided by these figures:

An estimated 53,300 were without jobs at mid-September.

At the same time, about 24,000 were receiving benefit checks.

The latter figure had dropped to 19,000 by the end of October. Still another drop is in prospect when the total for the first week in November becames available Wednesday.

Detailed estimates on the employment situation as of Sept. 15 showed an estimated 796,000 persons had jobs in Maryland as of that date.

This was only 700 fewer than at mid-August, the high mark for 1954, but 24,000 fewer than on Sept. 15 in 1953.

The unemployment figure as of Sept. 15, estimated at 53,300, was more than double the estimate for September of 1953 but 2,700 fewer than the estimate for Aug. 15 this year.

This report on the number of jobs does not include farm workers. Of the 796,000 estimated for Sept. 15 in the state, 547,600 were in the Baltimore area, which includes Baltimore and Anne Arundel counties as well as the city.

Employment in this area actually increased by an estimated 900 jobs from August to September.

The number of jobs in manufacturing, state-wide, showed a loss of 5,500 from August to September and 25,800 from September of 1953 to September of 1954.

The greatest declines were in fabricated metal products, machinery, furniture and fixtures, textiles, and transportation equipment, particularly ship and boat building.

The only manufacturing industry showing a gain from 1953 to 1954 was printing and publishing.

The non-manufacturing or service industries had more workers as of Sept. 15 than in August or on Sept. 15, 1953. Increases in government employment, finance, insurance, real estate, and trade more than offset losses of jobs in transportation, the hardest hit industry in this category.

Chambersburg Firm's TV Permit Cancelled

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 (AP)—The Communications Commission said today it has granted the request of Chambersburg (Pa.) Broadcasting Co. that its permit for television station WCHA on UHF channel 46 be cancelled.

The station went off the air in July after temporary operations. Chambersburg broadcasting is the owner of radio station WCHA.

Legion Assured No Subversive Material Used In Md. Schools

BALTIMORE, Nov. 9 (AP)—The State Superintendent of schools, a Legionnaire himself, today assured the Maryland American Legion that no subversive materials are being used in the schools.

The assurance from Dr. Thomas G. Pullen Jr. followed a statement from Woodrow W. Bausman, State chairman of the Legion's Americanism Commission.

Bausman said the Legion is "Strongly opposed to the use of UNESCO (United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organizations) materials in the public schools in each and every county of the State of Maryland."

Bausman said Maryland Legionnaires would "fight relentlessly against the enemies of free peoples and will not succumb to insidious propaganda calculated to destroy our freedoms by poisoning the minds of our parents and children."

When asked for comment on the Bausman remarks, Dr. Pullen said:

"In Maryland the responsibility for the selection of curriculum material rests upon the school systems in the counties and Baltimore City.

"I am confident that subversive curriculum material is not being used in our schools."

Dr. Pullen was a Marine in World War I. He is a member of the Catonsville post of the Legion and is its Americanism chairman.

From 1839 until 1855 when the Soo Canal was built, ships often were moved overland around the rapids on the St. Mary's River between Lake Superior and Lake Huron.

Lester B. Reed, Says:

"Many thanks for the splendid vote of confidence given me on Tuesday, November 2."

State's Employment Situation Brightens

BALTIMORE, Nov. 9 (AP)—Maryland's employment picture has brightened in the past few weeks after holding steady through September, the State Department of Employment Security reported today.

The exact dimensions of the recent improvement haven't been compiled yet, a spokesman said, but some indication is provided by these figures:

An estimated 53,300 were without jobs at mid-September.

At the same time, about 24,000 were receiving benefit checks.

The latter figure had dropped to 19,000 by the end of October. Still another drop is in prospect when the total for the first week in November becames available Wednesday.

Detailed estimates on the employment situation as of Sept. 15 showed an estimated 796,000 persons had jobs in Maryland as of that date.

This was only 700 fewer than at mid-August, the high mark for 1954, but 24,000 fewer than on Sept. 15 in 1953.

The unemployment figure as of Sept. 15, estimated at 53,300, was more than double the estimate for September of 1953 but 2,700 fewer than the estimate for Aug. 15 this year.

This report on the number of jobs does not include farm workers. Of the 796,000 estimated for Sept. 15 in the state, 547,600 were in the Baltimore area, which includes Baltimore and Anne Arundel counties as well as the city.

Employment in this area actually increased by an estimated 900 jobs from August to September.

The number of jobs in manufacturing, state-wide, showed a loss of 5,500 from August to September and 25,800 from September of 1953 to September of 1954.

The greatest declines were in fabricated metal products, machinery, furniture and fixtures, textiles, and transportation equipment, particularly ship and boat building.

The only manufacturing industry showing a gain from 1953 to 1954 was printing and publishing.

The non-manufacturing or service industries had more workers as of Sept. 15 than in August or on Sept. 15, 1953. Increases in government employment, finance, insurance, real estate, and trade more than offset losses of jobs in transportation, the hardest hit industry in this category.

Toll Spans' Success Brings Record Low Interest Rate On Harbor Tunnel Bonds

BALTIMORE, Nov. 9 (AP)—Maryland's three big toll bridges make so much money they got the State a record low interest rate today on 180 million dollars worth of bonds to build a new tunnel under Baltimore harbor.

The State Roads Commission sold the new issue to a big banking syndicate for an average interest rate of 2.95 per cent.

Alexander Brown & Sons, the Baltimore investment banking firm which managed the 311-member syndicate, said it was the only major bond issue in the past year to produce investors less than 3 per cent.

Similar bonds issued for toll highways in eight other states in the past year have carried interest rates ranging from 3.03 per cent to 3.50.

Financial experts handling the sale said the low rate stems from the fact the three toll bridges already in operation are making almost enough money to pay off the 180 million dollars worth of bonds.

Tolls from all the projects will be lumped together under Maryland's long-range bridge and tunnel program initiated in 1938.

The three toll crossings already bringing in money are the Susquehanna River Bridge on U.S. 40 at Havre de Grace in northeast Maryland, the Potomac River Bridge on U. S. 301 into Virginia from Southern Maryland, and the Chesapeake Bay Bridge just above Annapolis.

The first two were opened late in 1950. They cost $10,331,000 together, with the federal government providing $4,331,000 in the form of a PWA grant and Maryland putting up 6 million.

Up to Sept. 30 this year, the Susquehanna Bridge had produced $13,203,543 in toll revenue and the Potomac Bridge $11,263,185—a total of $24,466,728.

The $44,793,000 Chesapeake Bay Bridge already had produced $8,366,471 in tolls by Sept. 30, two years and two months after it was opened on July 30, 1952.

Estimates for the current year are that the Susquehanna Bridge will take in $1,756,000, the Potomac Bridge $2,041,000 and the Chesapeake Bay Bridge $3,991,000.

With about $1,189,000 for expenses to be deducted from this $7,788,000 total, more than 6½ million will be available from the three bridges for retiring the new debt.

Of the $43,925,000 in bonds issued in 1948 and 1949 for the Chesapeake Bay Bridge, 34 million dollars worth still outstanding will be paid off when the new bond money becomes available on Dec. 7.

Another 16 million is set aside for interim interest, financing expenses and reserves, leaving 130 million for the tunnel project.

The new tunnel, connecting U.S. 40 at its northeast entry to Baltimore with The Ritchie Highway to Annapolis and the Chesapeake Bay Bridge, U. S. 301, the Washington-Baltimore Parkway and U. S. 1 on the south and west, is scheduled to be ready for traffic by Dec. 1, 1957.

Fairmont Bank Shortages Paid

FAIRMONT, W. Va., Nov. 9 (AP)—The First National Bank of Fairmont, whose former cashier is accused of complicity in a half-million dollar shortage, announced today the bonding companies have made full restitution of the shortages.

John W. Meredith, 50, former cashier; Lee S. Ford, 46, of Uniontown, Pa., and John Manchin of Farmington have pleaded innocent to 18 counts in three indictments against them. The three are at liberty on bond.

The shortage totaled $516,907.55. Settlement was arranged with the bank by the Evans Insurance Agency, Inc., of Fairmont, representing the Fidelity and Deposit Insurance Co. of Baltimore, and Henry and Hardesty of Fairmont.

Greenbelt Man Indicted On Embezzlement Count

BALTIMORE, Nov. 9 (AP)—A federal grand jury returned a seven-count embezzlement indictment today against John C. Maffay, 44, of Greenbelt.

The indictment accuses Maffay of embezzling $528.75 while serving as treasurer of the Greenbelt Federal Credit Union. No trial date was set.

Law To Curb Hunting Accidents Advocated

HAGERSTOWN, Nov. 9 (AP) — State Sen. David K. McLaughlin (R-Washington) said today he would ask the Legislative Council to consider a state-wide law to curb the careless use of firearms by hunters.

McLaughlin said he was disturbed over the increasing number of hunting accidents in Maryland. He will ask for a law providing stiff penalties for negligent use of firearms in the woods.

There is now no such state-wide law, McLaughlin said. He will ask the Council to study regulations now in effect in Pennsylvania, Michigan, and in Baltimore County.

Fund For Indigent Ill

HAGERSTOWN, Nov. 9 (AP) — Former Mayor Reuben Musey left nearly half of an estate appraised at more than $200,000 to provide hospital care for the poor, his will disclosed today.

Musey, a merchant who died last Thursday at the age of 85, left $100,000 to be set up as a trust fund for the care of the indigent ill at Washington County Hospital. Hospital trustees will administer the fund.

Pilots Who Flew Under Highest Bridge Grounded

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Nov. 9 (AP)—Three young second lieutenants who flew light observation planes under the world's highest bridge Saturday, possibly endangering passengers on a sightseeing train below, have been grounded.

The disciplinary action was announced today by Army officials at Ft. Carson, where the three are stationed.

They said letters of apology were being sent to owners of the bridge—the Royal Gorge Bridge stretching 1,200 feet over the Arkansas River 1,053 feet above the stream—and to the Denver and Rio Grande Western Railroad.

The pilots were identified as 2nd Lts. Arthur R. Wichman, Fargo, N. D., Charles M. Thompson, Detroit, and William C. French, Denver. Investigators said the three recently completed flight training at Ft. Sill, Okla.

Bridge attendants said the planes, identified later as Cessna L19S, single-engined monoplanes, circled the bridge once and then "peeled off" and flew under it.

There were no vehicles or pedestrians on the bridge at the time, but Ralph J. Wann, president of the Royal Gorge Bridge Co. and a director of the Denver and Rio Grande, said passengers on the sightseeing train were endangered. He said the planes might have hit cables stretching from the bridge to the gorge wall.

MISSED RENDEZVOUS — Army Sgt. Robert Netter, 41, Ft. Totten, N. Y., is searching for his German girl friend, Margaret Roder, 27, whom he missed in a rendezvous in Ottawa, Ont., last Friday. Netter said he pulled her from a bombed building in Darmstadt, Germany, 10 years ago and kept in touch with her and they made plans to meet in Ottawa. He says he paid her fare across the Atlantic and that immigration officials told him she arrived in Canada Thursday. Sgt. Netter was late for the rendezvous and missed her and now all he can find is her suitcase. (AP Wirephoto)

Farm Federation Plans Resolutions

BALTIMORE, Nov. 8 (AP)—Resolutions to be placed before the American Farm Bureau Federation convention in December will be drawn up at a meeting here Nov. 19.

Some 250 delegates from Maryland's 23 county farm bureaus will writ the proposals. State and local farm issues won't come up, however, until the Maryland Farm Bureau convention in January.

Cowboy Singer's Guitar Stolen

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 9 (AP)—"In the West of another day and time,

"Hoss-stealing was a hanging crime,

"But today a cowboy's cry of grief,

"Was caused by an ornery gittar thief."

One such critter made off with cowboy singer Boyd Bennett's trusty guitar Sunday night while he was performing at a night club.

Bennett had left his own $450 instrument in his car and was using another borrowed from a member of his band.

He told police the varmints also swiped his $80 topcoat and a batch of publicity pictures.

Completely new gasoline gives extra mileage in your everyday driving

Now—Gulf refines out the "dirty-burning tail-end" of gasoline—the No.1 trouble-maker in high-compression engines. Then Gulf specially blends new Super-Refined No-Nox for top economy in the kind of driving motorists do most.

The "gunk" that takes the "go" out of your engine! That tar-like, gummy residue is what's left after evaporating a single gallon of the "dirty-burning tail-end" of gasoline . . . the part that Gulf refines out in making new Super-Refined NO-NOX. There's at least that much "dirty-burning tail-end" in a tankful of ordinary gasoline! This material, when deposited in your engine, is harmful to engine parts, impairs their performance, leads to costly overhauls.

What's more, besides giving your engine more complete protection, new Super-Refined Gulf NO-NOX gives you extra gas mileage in the short-trip, stop-and-go driving motorists do most . . . no knock, no pre-ignition . . . stall-proof smoothness . . . plus instant starts and fast, fuel-saving warm-up.

Up to Sept. 30 this year, the Susquehanna Bridge had produced $13,203,543 in toll revenue and the Potomac Bridge $11,263,185—a total of $24,466,728.

The $44,793,000 Chesapeake Bay Bridge already had produced $8,366,471 in tolls by Sept. 30, two years and two months after it was opened on July 30, 1952.

Estimates for the current year are that the Susquehanna Bridge will take in $1,756,000, the Potomac Bridge $2,041,000 and the Chesapeake Bay Bridge $3,991,000.

With about $1,189,000 for expenses to be deducted from this $7,788,000 total, more than 6½ million will be available from the three bridges for retiring the new debt.

Of the $43,925,000 in bonds issued in 1948 and 1949 for the Chesapeake Bay Bridge, 34 million dollars worth still outstanding will be paid off when the new bond money becomes available on Dec. 7.

Another 16 million is set aside for interim interest, financing expenses and reserves, leaving 130 million for the tunnel project.

The new tunnel, connecting U.S. 40 at its northeast entry to Baltimore with The Ritchie Highway to Annapolis and the Chesapeake Bay Bridge, U. S. 301, the Washington-Baltimore Parkway and U. S. 1 on the south and west, is scheduled to be ready for traffic by Dec. 1, 1957.

Fairmont Bank Shortages Paid

FAIRMONT, W. Va., Nov. 9 (AP)—The First National Bank of Fairmont, whose former cashier is accused of complicity in a half-million dollar shortage, announced today the bonding companies have made full restitution of the shortages.

John W. Meredith, 50, former cashier; Lee S. Ford, 46, of Uniontown, Pa., and John Manchin of Farmington have pleaded innocent to 18 counts in three indictments against them. The three are at liberty on bond.

The shortage totaled $516,907.55. Settlement was arranged with the bank by the Evans Insurance Agency, Inc., of Fairmont, representing the Fidelity and Deposit Insurance Co. of Baltimore, and Henry and Hardesty of Fairmont.

Greenbelt Man Indicted On Embezzlement Count

BALTIMORE, Nov. 9 (AP)—A federal grand jury returned a seven-count embezzlement indictment today against John C. Maffay, 44, of Greenbelt.

The indictment accuses Maffay of embezzling $528.75 while serving as treasurer of the Greenbelt Federal Credit Union. No trial date was set.

Law To Curb Hunting Accidents Advocated

HAGERSTOWN, Nov. 9 (AP)—State Sen. David K. McLaughlin (R-Washington) said today he would ask the Legislative Council to consider a state-wide law to curb the careless use of firearms by hunters.

McLaughlin said he was disturbed over the increasing number of hunting accidents in Maryland. He will ask for a law providing stiff penalties for negligent use of firearms in the woods.

There is now no such state-wide law, McLaughlin said. He will ask the Council to study regulations now in effect in Pennsylvania, Michigan, and in Baltimore County.

Fund For Indigent Ill

HAGERSTOWN, Nov. 9 (AP)—Former Mayor Reuben Musey left nearly half of an estate appraised at more than $200,000 to provide hospital care for the poor, his will disclosed today.

Musey, a merchant who died last Thursday at the age of 85, left $100,000 to be set up as a trust fund for the care of the indigent ill at Washington County Hospital. Hospital trustees will administer the fund.

Pilots Who Flew Under Highest Bridge Grounded

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., Nov. 9 (AP)—Three young second lieutenants who flew light observation planes under the world's highest bridge Saturday, possibly endangering passengers on a sightseeing train below, have been grounded.

The disciplinary action was announced today by Army officials at Ft. Carson, where the three are stationed.

They said letters of apology were being sent to owners of the bridge—the Royal Gorge Bridge stretching 1,200 feet over the Arkansas River 1,053 feet above the stream—and to the Denver and Rio Grande Western Railroad.

The pilots were identified as 2nd Lts. Arthur R. Wichman, Fargo, N. D., Charles M. Thompson, Detroit, and William C. French, Denver. Investigators said the three recently completed flight training at Ft. Sill, Okla.

Bridge attendants said the planes, identified later as Cessna L19S, single-engined monoplanes, circled the bridge once and then "peeled off" and flew under it.

There were no vehicles or pedestrians on the bridge at the time, but Ralph J. Wann, president of the Royal Gorge Bridge Co. and a director of the Denver and Rio Grande, said passengers on the sightseeing train were endangered. He said the planes might have hit cables stretching from the bridge to the gorge wall.

MISSED RENDEZVOUS — Army Sgt. Robert Netter, 41, Ft. Totten, N. Y., is searching for his German girl friend, Margaret Roder, 27, whom he missed in a rendezvous in Ottawa, Ont., last Friday. Netter said he pulled her from a bombed building in Darmstadt, Germany, 10 years ago and kept in touch with her and they made plans to meet in Ottawa. He says he paid her fare across the Atlantic and that immigration officials told him she arrived in Canada Thursday. Sgt. Netter was late for the rendezvous and missed her and now all he can find is her suitcase. (AP Wirephoto)

Farm Federation Plans Resolutions

BALTIMORE, Nov. 8 (AP)—Resolutions to be placed before the American Farm Bureau Federation convention in December will be drawn up at a meeting here Nov. 19.

Some 250 delegates from Maryland's 23 county farm bureaus will writ the proposals. State and local farm issues won't come up, however, until the Maryland Farm Bureau convention in January.

Cowboy Singer's Guitar Stolen

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 9 (AP)—"In the West of another day and time,

"Hoss-stealing was a hanging crime,

"But today a cowboy's cry of grief,

"Was caused by an ornery gittar thief."

One such critter made off with cowboy singer Boyd Bennett's trusty guitar Sunday night while he was performing at a night club.

Bennett had left his own $450 instrument in his car and was using another borrowed from a member of his band.

He told police the varmints also swiped his $80 topcoat and a batch of publicity pictures.

Completely new gasoline gives extra mileage in your everyday driving

Now—Gulf refines out the "dirty-burning tail-end" of gasoline—the No.1 trouble-maker in high-compression engines. Then Gulf specially blends new Super-Refined No-Nox for top economy in the kind of driving motorists do most.

The "gunk" that takes the "go" out of your engine! That tar-like, gummy residue is what's left after evaporating a single gallon of the "dirty-burning tail-end" of gasoline . . . the part that Gulf refines out in making new Super-Refined NO-NOX. There's at least that much "dirty-burning tail-end" in a tankful of ordinary gasoline! This material, when deposited in your engine, is harmful to engine parts, impairs their performance, leads to costly overhauls.

See the difference Gulf super-refining makes: Instead of trying to fight harmful deposits with so-called "miracle additives"—inside your engine—Gulf believes in preventing them from forming in the first place, removes the cause—the "dirty-burning tail-end"—at the refinery. Just look at the plates in the unretouched photo at left and see what a difference Gulf super-refining makes!

What's more, besides giving your engine more complete protection, new Super-Refined Gulf NO-NOX gives you extra gas mileage in the short-trip, stop-and-go driving motorists do most . . . no knock, no pre-ignition . . . stall-proof smoothness . . . plus instant starts and fast, fuel-saving warm-up.

Homemakers Chorus Giving Hymn Festival November 14

The annual Hymn Festival of the Allegany County Homemakers Chorus will be held Sunday evening at 7:30 in First Methodist Church, Bedford Street.

Hymns to be sung at the monthly meetings of the Homemakers Clubs during 1955 will be presented. They are taken from the National Federation of Music Club list, and are used by the federation as well as by the homemakers.

Between hymns Mrs. Douglas Smith will read the Scripture.

The selections are "Oh for a Thousand Tongues To Sing;" "Come O Sabbath Day;" "Oh What their Joy and Glory Must Be;" "How Brightly Beams the Morning Star;" "Guide Me, O Thou Great Redeemer;" "Jesus Still Leads Us On;" "Faith of Our Fathers;" "Onward Christian Soldiers;" "When I Survey the Wondrous Cross;" "O Love that Will not let Me Go;" "The Spacious Firmament on High," and "Not Alone for Mighty Empire."

Under the direction of Mrs. Richard W. Trevaskis Sr., the program will open with "Old Hundred." Mrs. Edna Burkett is pianist. Mrs. Paul Gilford is president of the chorus.

Society Will Have Study Class Nov. 30

The WSCS of Murley's Branch Methodist Church formulated plans for a study class and a Christmas program at the meeting recently at the home of Mrs. Eugene Kisamore. Mrs. R. L. Wittig presided, and reported on the fall meeting of the district, held at Berkeley Springs. Miss Eva Logue, a missionary from India, talked of her experiences and showed pictures of the life of the people of India.

A book study on "The City" will be given by Mrs. Paul Robinette at the home of Mrs. Wittig November 30. The Christmas program will be held December 22. Mrs. Justine Heavner will be in charge.

It was announced that Miss Frances Molesworth will be the missionary for the month.

Mrs. Homer Willison conducted the devotionals, using as her theme, "We Hear Thy Voice." The Lord's Prayer was recited and the group sang, "I Will Sing the Wondrous Story," and "Anywhere With Jesus." The Scripture was read by Mrs. Wittig, who also offered the closing prayer.

Readings included "Myrtle Rawson," by Mrs. Paul Browning; "Kapur Larkin," Mrs. Heavner; "Mabel Deane," Mrs. Dewey Weicht; "I'll Go Where You Want Me To Go," Mrs. Robinette; "A Flower," Mrs. Eston Heavner; "Thank You God, I Thank You," and "My God I Thank Thee," Mrs. Willison.

A social concluded the evening and refreshments were served. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Robinette, at which time secret sisters will be revealed.

Union Grove Homemakers will meet at 7:45 tonight at the home of Mrs. William Welsh, LaVale, with Mrs. Edgar Vandegrift and Mrs. Margaret Reitz co-hostesses. A tour will be made of the green house.

Mrs. Purnell Heads Fire Auxiliary

Officers were elected and plans were formulated for a dinner party at the meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Bedford Road Fire Company Monday night.

Mrs. Catherine Purnell was elected president; Miss Maxine Sweitzer, vice president; Mrs. Anna Lee Roberts, treasurer; Miss Joann Rice, secretary; and Mrs. William Rilling, new trustee.

It was decided to have the next meeting in the form of a covered dish dinner for members and their families. It will be the club Christmas celebration and members and children are to bring jingles to exchange. It will be held December 13 at 6:30 p. m.

Mrs. Helen Wilson presided. November 18 was selected as the date for another card party. The committee in charge consists of Mrs. Estelle Judy, Mrs. Margaret Brady, Mrs. Evelyn Adams, Mrs. Irene McElfish and Miss Violet McElfish. Reports were given on the card party last month and the turkey supper last week.

Announcement was made that the auxiliary will serve two banquets next month, one for the Bedford Road Homemakers and the other for the Union Grove Homemakers clubs. They will be December 7 and 8.

The meeting opened with the flag salute and closed with the group reciting the Lord's Prayer. Hostesses for the evening were Mrs. Cecelia Cline, Mrs. Ella Simons, Mrs. Mildred Bruner and Mrs. Margaret Martin. There were 17 members present.

Melvin WSCS will meet at 7:30 tonight at the church.

South Pole Beckons Rear Adm. Byrd Again

By FRANKLIN JOHNSON
Central Press Correspondent

WASHINGTON—When the birds head southward at the first wintry blasts in the Northern Hemisphere, Rear Adm. Richard E. Byrd almost as instinctively is drawn once again to his beloved Antarctica where he led memorable expeditions in 1928, 1934, 1939 and 1947.

This year Admiral Byrd is happy, because at 66 he apparently has persuaded his government at long last to show renewed interest in the vast uninhabited continent that still contains the largest unexplored areas on the earth's surface and perhaps untold natural resources.

The Atka, the United States Navy's rugged icebreaker which last year smashed a path for a task force between Greenland and Resolute Bay at the opposite end on the royal research ship John Brisco for a two-year reconaissance bent on stopping the infiltration of Argentines and Chileans into the Falkland islands which are a crown colony disputed by Argentina.

Antarctica and various nations' areas of interest there.

In command is Glenn Jacobsen of Seattle, a veteran of polar navigation and the nominee of the National Academy of Science and the National Science foundation which officially are co-sponsors. Byrd is technical consultant, and he plans to follow and revisit his famed Little America.

Two nations—Australia and Great Britain—already are on the scene with expeditions. The former is led by nine scientists on the 1,000-ton polar ship Kista Dan, and has the frank purpose of strengthening Australia's claim to 2,472,000 square miles based upon explorations made 40 years ago. It has been in the area for nearly a year.

The English left early in October of the globe, soon will head south with the vanguard of a three-year United States expedition to Antarctica.

Since 1908, England also has claimed South Georgia, the South Sandwich islands, South Orkney islands, South Shetland islands and the Palmer peninsula with its offshore islands, and describes them as dependencies of the Falklands. Both Argentina and Chile dispute this.

Other specific chunks of territory are claimed by France, New Zealand and Norway, while Soviet Russia unofficially has claimed all of Antarctica, based upon the voyage of Admiral Bellinghausen, a German who sailed there in the pay of the czar. In 1947-48 the Soviets sent a whaling expedition there that returned with 10,000 metric tons of oil.

The United States has made no territorial claims, although it has been the most active explorer not only through the exploits of Byrd, but also the early trips of Lincoln Ellsworth and the recent expeditions of Comdr. Finn Ronne. It does not recognize any other claims either, because under international law there are no actual settlements.

Just why President Eisenhower made it a point to announce last spring that this nation is making no claims has not been explained, but now it is guessed that he may have done so to scotch any Russian propaganda about Americans imperialism in view of the upcoming expedition.

Science had all the emphasis in the Eisenhower announcement from Denver early this autumn that Americans are headed again toward the South Pole. The venture was linked with one of the most unusual world-wide science projects in history, the International Geophysical Yaer, 1957-58.

Global scientists are to make far-flung observations that year which will be synchronized to pin down the answers to the riddles of weather and climates. The South Pole, which is the coldest spot on earth during the six-month night, is believed to be a "weather breeder" that affects the entire world.

Scientists also have been worrying over whether the rapid melting of the south polar ice cap might now raise the levels of the world's oceans during the next 25-50 years, affecting all coastal areas.

Mineral wealth is believed to be tremendous there, and the Australians expect to find uranium. Byrd reported seeing a seam of coal that would be great enough to meet all future needs of the world. With portable atomic-powered reactors soon to be available to make light and heat, engineers no longer consider it fantastic that mining may be done there.

Beckoning the explorers are four million square moles of ice-covered land as yet unseen by human eyes. Dim outlines of mountains that might be higher than Mount Everest have been seen there. Byrd believes little "Shangrilas," like the one he discovered in a green valley with temperatures of 85 degrees entirely surrounded by ice wastes, may be found.

Most dramatic exploit of the new American expedition is expected to be the placing of three men at the South Pole itself for a year, probably beginning in 1957, to take weather reports, bounce radar impulses off the ionosphere and record aurora disturbances.

New Bombers Sent To Germany

BALTIMORE, Nov. 9 (AP)—Delivery of the Martin RB57, a lightweight jet bomber packing a knockout punch, has begun in quantity to the 12th Air Force in Germany.

The Air Force and Martin Aircraft, in a joint announcement yesterday, said the first of the new two-man bombers recently were flown from Martin's Baltimore plant to Weisbaden, Germany. Other deliveries will follow shortly.

The number of planes in the first flight were not disclosed.

Powered by twin Wright J-65 engines, the RB57 is capable of speeds not usually associated with bombers, the announcement said. It will do almost 600 miles an hour and is so maneuverable that it turns easily within the boundaries of the average airport.

Its features include a new rotary bomb door. The one-piece door loaded with bombs revolves 180 degrees to bring the explosives out into the air where they are dropped. The door allows bombing attacks to be made at faster flight speeds and increases bombing accuracy, according to Martin.

There are more people in Europe than in North and South America combined.

South Pole Beckons Rear Adm. Byrd Again

By FRANKLIN JOHNSON
Central Press Correspondent

WASHINGTON—When the birds head southward at the first wintry blasts in the Northern Hemisphere, Rear Adm. Richard E. Byrd almost as instinctively is drawn once again to his beloved Antarctica where he led memorable expeditions in 1928, 1934, 1939 and 1947.

This year Admiral Byrd is happy, because at 66 he apparently has persuaded his government at long last to show renewed interest in the vast uninhabited continent that still contains the largest unexplored areas on the earth's surface and perhaps untold natural resources.

The Atka, the United States Navy's rugged icebreaker which last year smashed a path for a task force between Greenland and Resolute Bay at the opposite end on the royal research ship John Brisco for a two-year reconaissance bent on stopping the infiltration of Argentines and Chileans into the Falkland islands which are a crown colony disputed by Argentina.

Harlan, Named To Supreme Court, Follows Grandfather's Footsteps

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

NEW YORK, Nov. 9 (AP)—A tall, athletic looking man of 55 today was nominated to the U. S. Supreme Court bench once occupied by his grandfather.

The nominee, U. S. Circuit Judge John Marshall Harlan, sat in his office high in New York's Federal Courthouse and in the midst of a whirl of excitement yesterday good-humoredly told a newsman:

"I'd be glad to trade places with you."

Colleagues and other well-wishers interrupted his every other word and news photographers issued countless directions as Harlan continued:

"I am very honored by the appointment. If my nomination is confirmed by the Senate I will do the best I can to justify the great responsibility that's involved."

Harlan, a handsome man with a quick smile, friendly blue eyes, and thinning grey hair, bears the name of his grandfather, who served on the Supreme Court from 1877 until his death in 1911.

Harlan, the grandson, had considerable experience as a trial lawyer, prosecutor and crime buster but none as a jurist when he became an appeals judge eight months ago.

Leaders of the New York bar hailed his appointment to that post with these words:

"He will make a great judge."

Yesterday, as well-wishers crowded about Harlan toyed with a gavel and quipped:

"I've never used one of these things."

The gavel, he explained, was a gift from fellow lawyers, and he never had occasion to use it because in the appeals court a crier calls the session to order.

Though he admitted to being a lifelong Republican, Harlan said he never took an active part in politics. When someone asked if he considered himself a liberal or a conservative Republican, he replied that he "wouldn't like to put myself in any classification of that kind."

Several times Harlan was asked what he thought were the government's constitutional prerogatives in regard to regulating business, its jurisdiction in state affairs and about so-called welfare legislation.

"Obviously I can't comment on matters of this nature," he said.

The hectic scene last night in the judge's 23rd-floor chamber was the climax to a career that began when he was graduated from Princeton in 1920.

After leaving Princeton, Harlan went to Oxford as a Rhodes scholar. Later he attended the New York Law School and won his degree in jurisprudence.

In 1925, shortly after he was admitted to the bar, Harlan was appointed an assistant to U. S. Atty. Emory R. Buckner, his senior law partner, in New York's Southern District.

For the next three years he was busy enforcing prohibition. He was the prosecutor who sent Earl Carroll, the theatrical producer, to prison in the 1928 "bathtub" case.

In 1940 Harlan was special counsel to the New York City Board of Higher Education when it tried in vain to appoint philosopher Bertrand Russell to the faculty at City College.

During World War II he served in the Air Force, retiring as a colonel with a Legion of Merit from his own country and the Croix de Guerre from France and Belgium. Then he went back to private practice until the state crime probe called him again to public office in 1951. He served as the state Crime Commission's chief counsel for nine months, then went into private practice again.

More recently he defended, successfully, the antitrust suit brought by the government against the du Pont interests.

Harlan is a native of Chicago. His father, the late John Maynard Harlan, was a Chicago alderman from 1896 to 1898 and later sought in vain to become mayor.

Harlan was married in 1928 to Miss Ethel Andrews, daughter of Prof. and Mrs. Charles M. Andrews of New Haven, Conn. They have a daughter, Mrs. Wellington Newcomb of New York City.

'Lovely Lane' Church Back In Existence

BALTIMORE, Nov. 9 (AP)—Lovely Lane Methodist Church, revered by American Methodists as the mother church on the American continent, is back in existence.

Actually, it has never been out of existence, save in name only. But in the course of events it had become the First Methodist Church in Baltimore.

The congregation, lineal successor to the group that built the Lovely Lane Meeting House in 1774, voted recently to revert to the original designation in order to bring the name "Lovely Lane," a treasured memory of Methodists throughout the years, back into reality.

The Rev. Kenneth Ray Rose, pastor, read the proclamation at the morning service Sunday by which the change was formally recorded.

The pulpit from which he spoke is itself celebrated in Methodist history. It was made and used by Robert Strawbridge, who came to America from Ireland in 1762 to organize the first Methodist Society in this country.

Strawbridge settled on Sam's Creek in Carroll County, Md., and there built the now famous log meeting house, the first Methodist chapel in this country.

It was at Lovely Lane that the famous Christmas conference of 1784 was held and the first American Methodist Episcopal Conference in America was organized.

By 1784, Methodist societies in America had reached a membership of about 15,000 and John Wesley, the founder of the Methodist movement in England, recognized a great need for ordained ministers who were authorized to administer the sacraments.

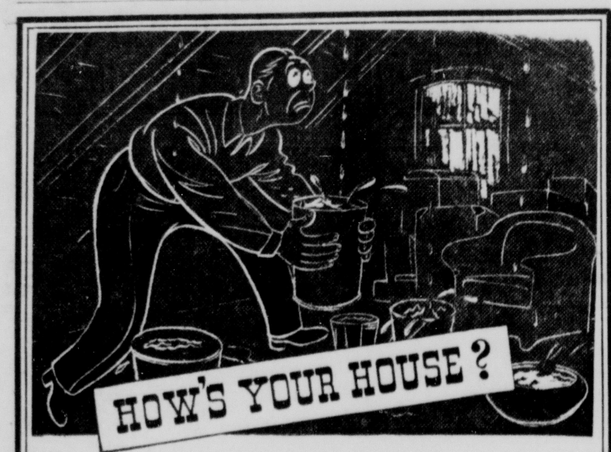

Wesley sent Thomas Coke to ordain Francis Asbury, soon to become the first American Methodist bishop, and others for the work of the ministry.

Soon after his arrival, Freeborn Garrettson, the "Paul Revere of Methodism," was sent to round up all the Methodist preachers in America and summon them to the conference.

Jesse Lee, the apostle of Methodism to New England, complained that Garrettson would have made better time if he had not stopped to preach along the way.

Nevertheless, Garrettson passed along the call, and 63 of the 83 preachers in America answered the summons.

On Dec. 24, at a meeting in the Lovely Lane church, they voted unanimously to form the Methodist Episcopal Church. Asbury was ordained a deacon the following day, an elder Dec. 26, and was consecrated a bishop Dec. 27.

The hectic scene last night in the judge's 23rd-floor chamber was the climax to a career that began when he was graduated from Princeton in 1920.

After leaving Princeton, Harlan went to Oxford as a Rhodes scholar. Later he attended the New York Law School and won his degree in jurisprudence.

In 1925, shortly after he was admitted to the bar, Harlan was appointed an assistant to U. S. Atty. Emory R. Buckner, his senior law partner, in New York's Southern District.

For the next three years he was busy enforcing prohibition. He was the prosecutor who sent Earl Carroll, the theatrical producer, to prison in the 1928 "bathtub" case.

In 1940 Harlan was special counsel to the New York City Board of Higher Education when it tried in vain to appoint philosopher Bertrand Russell to the faculty at City College.

During World War II he served in the Air Force, retiring as a colonel with a Legion of Merit from his own country and the Croix de Guerre from France and Belgium. Then he went back to private practice until the state crime probe called him again to public office in 1951. He served as the state Crime Commission's chief counsel for nine months, then went into private practice again.

More recently he defended, successfully, the antitrust suit brought by the government against the du Pont interests.

Harlan is a native of Chicago. His father, the late John Maynard Harlan, was a Chicago alderman from 1896 to 1898 and later sought in vain to become mayor.

Harlan was married in 1928 to Miss Ethel Andrews, daughter of Prof. and Mrs. Charles M. Andrews of New Haven, Conn. They have a daughter, Mrs. Wellington Newcomb of New York City.

'Lovely Lane' Church Back In Existence

BALTIMORE, Nov. 9 (AP)—Lovely Lane Methodist Church, revered by American Methodists as the mother church on the American continent, is back in existence.

Actually, it has never been out of existence, save in name only. But in the course of events it had become the First Methodist Church in Baltimore.

The congregation, lineal successor to the group that built the Lovely Lane Meeting House in 1774, voted recently to revert to the original designation in order to bring the name "Lovely Lane," a treasured memory of Methodists throughout the years, back into reality.

The Rev. Kenneth Ray Rose, pastor, read the proclamation at the morning service Sunday by which the change was formally recorded.

The pulpit from which he spoke is itself celebrated in Methodist history. It was made and used by Robert Strawbridge, who came to America from Ireland in 1762 to organize the first Methodist Society in this country.

Strawbridge settled on Sam's Creek in Carroll County, Md., and there built the now famous log meeting house, the first Methodist chapel in this country.

It was at Lovely Lane that the famous Christmas conference of 1784 was held and the first American Methodist Episcopal Conference in America was organized.

By 1784, Methodist societies in America had reached a membership of about 15,000 and John Wesley, the founder of the Methodist movement in England, recognized a great need for ordained ministers who were authorized to administer the sacraments.

Wesley sent Thomas Coke to ordain Francis Asbury, soon to become the first American Methodist bishop, and others for the work of the ministry.

Soon after his arrival, Freeborn Garrettson, the "Paul Revere of Methodism," was sent to round up all the Methodist preachers in America and summon them to the conference.

Jesse Lee, the apostle of Methodism to New England, complained that Garrettson would have made better time if he had not stopped to preach along the way.

Nevertheless, Garrettson passed along the call, and 63 of the 83 preachers in America answered the summons.

On Dec. 24, at a meeting in the Lovely Lane church, they voted unanimously to form the Methodist Episcopal Church. Asbury was ordained a deacon the following day, an elder Dec. 26, and was consecrated a bishop Dec. 27.

New Floor Care Ends Waxing

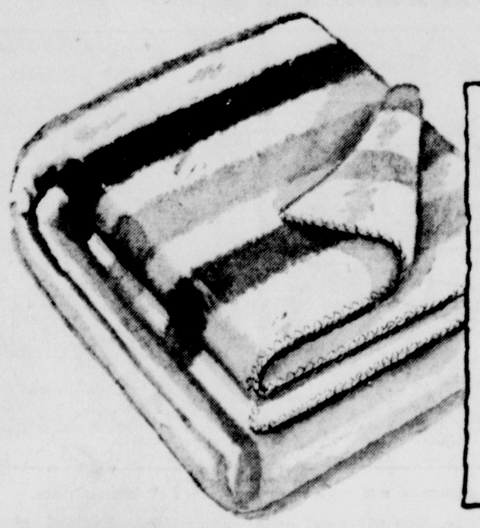

One of the most difficult jobs of housekeeping is to keep linoleum and asphalt tile floors waxed and gleaming. Now, thanks to Glaxo, it is no longer necessary to wax and scrub. All you do is apply Glaxo about twice a year. It maintains a high lustre, non slip coating that seals out dirt. Glaxo dries in one hour and is water clear. It's cheaper than wax in the long run, besides saving a terrific amount of work, plus truly a beautiful floor. Glaxo is available at Rosenbaum's Housewares.

Parents Night Scheduled At Allegany High School

American Education Week is being observed this week in the two Cumberland public high schools.

Allegany High School's parents' night will get under way today at 7 p. m. with teachers available in their rooms for consultation. A program in the auditorium will follow at 8 p. m.

Monday night Fort Hill High School held its annual visitors' night. After room visitation, a two-part program was presented in the auditorium.

The first half was a pageant entitled "The American Way." Participating were Frank Bishop, Jeffrey Getz, Joan Luttrell, Darrell Henry, Nancy Curry, Barbara Rice, Louis Parsenious, Beverly Reynolds, Ralph Mahaney, Pat Weaver, William Sanson.

Musical selections given as interludes during the pageant by the Fort Hill Choir were: "Faith Of Our Fathers," "Ave Maria," with Joan Luttrell as soloist; "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God," "The Lord Bless And Keep You," "Gettysburg Address," "Give Me Your Tired, Your Poor," "America, The Beautiful," "Heritage Of Freedom," "America," and "Battle Hymn Of The Republic." Miss Annetta Yates was director, and Dolores Rowley, accompanist.

Following the pageant, was a junior town meeting on "Are Today's Schools Doing Their Jobs?" George Eskin was moderator and panelists were Pat Taschenberg, Rita Marker, Barbara Thuss, William Sturtz and Ronald Mears. Advisors were Miss Nellie Willison and Miss Mary Workman.

The faculty committee in charge of visitors' night included Mrs. Hannah Allamong, chairman, Miss Lola Burrell, H. W. Buchard, Miss Yates and Miss Workman.

The program at Allegany High School today will feature a panel discussion by students on "School Citizenship." The vocal and instrumental music groups will present several selections.

October WM Railway Net Income High

While showing virtually no improvement in operating revenues as compared with preceding months of this year, the Western Maryland Railway net income during October was the second best of any 1954 month.

Gross for October was figured at $3,386,000, down $953,000 from the similar month of 1953 which was the road's record year. Larger gross totals were marked up for January, March, May and August.

October net income, estimated at $524,000 after taxes and charges, also was down sharply from the exceptionally high figure of $799,264 reported a year ago.

But as a result of economies arising from completion of the company's dieselization program and smaller tax accruals, October net income was exceeded this year only in May when the net figure was slightly higher at $533,087.

November business as measured by average daily carloadings continues to run below last year's unusually high level but is slightly above the October daily average.

For the first ten months of 1954 the company estimated its operating revenues at $34,432,000 as compared with $42,671,000 for the corresponding 1953 period.

Net income for the ten months was tentatively figured at $4,346,000 as against $6,869,000 for the like months of 1954.

Revenues from coal and coke freight for the ten months were estimated at $12,648,000, down $2,688,000 from a year earlier, and gross receipts from other freight were put at $19,682,000, down $5,387,000.

Young Area Soldier Injured In Accident

Injured in an automobile accident which claimed one life, Cpl. Robert Carver, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Grant, Cresaptown, is recuperating in the Army base hospital at Fort Carson, Colo.

The young soldier suffered chest injuries when the car in which he and three other GIs were riding crashed October 29. Cpl. Carver later developed pneumonia.

The four were returning to camp "after an evening out" and the driver apparently fell asleep at the wheel. The auto left the highway and overturned, killing one of the occupants from Monaca, Pa.

Before entering service in June, 1953, Cpl. Carver attended Allegany High School and was employed by the American Bridge Company of Pittsburgh for two years.

Soldier Is Discharged

Cpl. Ronald A. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Smith, LaVale, received his honorable discharge from the Army yesterday at Fort Meade. He served two years, 17 months of which was in France.

Hunting Accident Fatal To Brother Of Local Woman

A brother of a Potomac Park woman died Monday night in Washington (Pa.) Hospital from gunshot wounds received in a hunting accident last Saturday.

The victim, Donald Ebbert, 32, of Wood Street, California, Pa., was the brother of Mrs. Elizabeth (Rollan J.) Newcomer, Potomac Park.

Ebbert reportedly was accidentally shot in the right thigh while hunting near Marianna in Washington County, Pa., by a cousin, William Killius also of California. Ebbert, it was reported, was crawling under a fence when Killius' gun caught on some object and discharged.

Dr. H. E. Quittner, pathologist at Washington hospital, said death was caused by gas gangrene resulting from the wound.

The body was taken to the Caleffie Funeral Home, California, where friends will be received at 4 p. m. today.

Services will be held tomorrow at 4 p.m. with Dr. F. K. Peal, pastor of California Presbyterian Church, officiating. Interment will be in Howes Cemetery there.

In addition to Mrs. Newcomer, survivors include his wife, Etta Ebbert and two children, Donald and Sharon, all at home; parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph A. Ebbert, Brownsivlle, Pa.; two brothers, Duane Ebbert, Brownsville, and George Ebbert, Pittsburgh; two sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Eicher and Mrs. Gladys Southerland, both of Brownsville.

Ebbert was an employe of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

County Citizens May Register Again Friday

The registration books at the Allegany County Board of Election Supervisors at the Court House will be reopened Friday.

Persons who wish to register or to change their party affiliation may do so by going to the office in the basement at the Court House.

District PTA Officials Attend Meet

Five Allegany County officials of the PTA will attend the pre-convention board of managers meeting of the Maryland Congress of Parents and Teachers today in Baltimore at the Lord Baltimore Hotel.

They are Mrs. Lawrence Shafferman, Mrs. Edward Wilson, Mrs. John Lancaster, Mrs. Lester McGill and Dr. Adam Baer. They will also attend a "life membership" luncheon Thursday which is open only to state or national life membership holders.

Many Take Part

This county will have a large number of representatives at the thirty-ninth annual state event opening Thursday. Mrs. Lancaster will be in charge of credentials and registration at the convention. Mrs. Shafferman will serve as rules chairman and be leader of one section of the workshop. Mrs. Wilson is by-laws chairman. Mrs. McGill will be chairman of a luncheon for local PTA presidents and is in charge of convention processionals.

William H. Lemmert, president of the Allegany County Board of Commissioners, will be a consultant for one group at the workshop discussion. Others from this section on the program are Leo Stakem, president of the Future Teachers of America in Maryland, and Mrs. Britten Martin, of Mt. Lake Park, state vice president of District No. 1.

Miss Dorothy W. Shires, state supervisor of pupil personnel; and Dr. James Spitznas, state director of instruction, both formerly of Cumberland, will also take part in the program.

Delegates Selected

The Allegany County Council of PTA will be represented by Mrs. John Lower, of Johnson Heights School, and Mrs. Adam Baer, of College Laboratory School in Frostburg.

Two schools selected to have delegates from the council were Hill Street and Beall Elementary of Frostburg. Mrs. George Bucklew and Mrs. William Vogtman will represent the former and Robert Kerr the latter.

Others attending the convention from here will be Mr. and Mrs. Earl Richardson, of College Laboratory School; Mrs. Thomas Williamson and Mrs. Robert Sutton, of LaVale School; Mrs. Earl Irons, of Pennsylvania Avenue School; Mrs. Walter Richardson, of Cresaptown School; Mrs. Avis Ward, of Eckhart; Mrs. Eugene Furlow, of Virginia Avenue; Mrs. William Scott, of Johnson Heights; Mrs. James Brown and Mrs. Robert Herboldsheimer, of Columbia Street School and Mrs. James Snelson, of Midland School.

The queen of England has only the negative power of disapproval of acts of Parliament. She can veto a bill.

KIDNEYS MUST REMOVE EXCESS WASTE

Nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness may be due to slow-down of kidney function. Doctors say good kidney function is very important to good health. When some everyday condition, such as stress and strain, causes this important function to slow down, many folks suffer nagging backache—feel miserable. Minor bladder irritations due to cold or wrong diet may cause getting up nights or frequent passages.

Don't neglect your kidneys if these conditions bother you. Try Doan's Pills—a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. It's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief from these discomforts—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

October WM Railway Net Income High

While showing virtually no improvement in operating revenues as compared with preceding months of this year, the Western Maryland Railway net income during October was the second best of any 1954 month.

Gross for October was figured at $3,486,000, down $953,000 from the similar month of 1953 which was the road's record year. Larger gross totals were marked up for January, March, May and August.

October net income, estimated at $524,000 after taxes and charges, also was down sharply from the exceptionally high figure of $799,264 reported a year ago.

But as a result of economies arising from completion of the company's dieselization program and smaller tax accruals, October net income was exceeded this year only in May when the net figure was slightly higher at $533,087.

November business as measured by average daily carloadings continues to run below last year's unusually high level but is slightly above the October daily average.

For the first ten months of 1954 the company estimated its operating revenues at $34,432,000 as compared with $42,671,000 for the corresponding 1953 period.

Net income for the ten months was tentatively figured at $4,346,000 as against $6,869,000 for the like months of 1954.

Revenues from coal and coke freight for the ten months were estimated at $12,648,000, down $2,688,000 from a year earlier, and gross receipts from other freight were put at $19,682,000, down $5,387,000.

Young Area Soldier Injured In Accident

Injured in an automobile accident which claimed one life, Cpl. Robert Carver, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Grant, Cresaptown, is recuperating in the Army base hospital at Fort Carson, Colo.

The young soldier suffered chest injuries when the car in which he and three other GIs were riding crashed October 29. Cpl. Carver later developed pneumonia.

The four were returning to camp "after an evening out" and the driver apparently fell asleep at the wheel. The auto left the highway and overturned, killing one of the occupants from Monaca, Pa.

Before entering service in June, 1953, Cpl. Carver attended Allegany High School and was employed by the American Bridge Company of Pittsburgh for two years.

Soldier Is Discharged

Cpl. Ronald A. Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Smith, LaVale, received his honorable discharge from the Army yesterday at Fort Meade. He served two years, 17 months of which was in France.

Hunting Accident Fatal To Brother Of Local Woman

A brother of a Potomac Park woman died Monday night in Washington (Pa.) Hospital from gunshot wounds received in a hunting accident last Saturday.

The victim, Donald Ebbert, 32, of Wood Street, California, Pa., was the brother of Mrs. Elizabeth (Rollan J.) Newcomer, Potomac Park.

Ebbert reportedly was accidentally shot in the right thigh while hunting near Marianna in Washington County, Pa., by a cousin, William Killius also of California. Ebbert, it was reported, was crawling under a fence when Killius' gun caught on some object and discharged.

Dr. H. E. Quittner, pathologist at Washington hospital, said death was caused by gas gangrene resulting from the wound.

The body was taken to the Caleffie Funeral Home, California, where friends will be received at 4 p. m. today.

Services will be held tomorrow at 4 p.m. with Dr. F. K. Peal, pastor of California Presbyterian Church, officiating. Interment will be in Howes Cemetery there.

In addition to Mrs. Newcomer, survivors include his wife, Etta Ebbert and two children, Donald and Sharon, all at home; parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph A. Ebbert, Brownsville, Pa.; two brothers, Duane Ebbert, Brownsville, and George Ebbert, Pittsburgh; two sisters, Mrs. Elizabeth Eicher and Mrs. Gladys Southerland, both of Brownsville.

Ebbert was an employe of the Pennsylvania Railroad.

County Citizens May Register Again Friday

The registration books at the Allegany County Board of Election Supervisors at the Court House will be reopened Friday.

Persons who wish to register or to change their party affiliation may do so by going to the office in the basement at the Court House.

District PTA Officials Attend Meet

Five Allegany County officials of the PTA will attend the pre-convention board of managers meeting of the Maryland Congress of Parents and Teachers today in Baltimore at the Lord Baltimore Hotel.

They are Mrs. Lawrence Shafferman, Mrs. Edward Wilson, Mrs. John Lancaster, Mrs. Lester McGill and Dr. Adam Baer. They will also attend a "life membership" luncheon Thursday which is open only to state or national life membership holders.

Four daughters, Mrs. Anna Gnegy, here; Mrs. Maude Dusch, Cumberland, Md.; Mrs. Elsie Waldin, Philadelphia; Mrs. Florence Valentine, St. Mary's; 18 grandchildren and 15 great grandchildren.

The body is at the Spiggle Funeral Home where a service will be held tomorrow at 2 p. m. with Rev. George C. Weirick, pastor, officiating. Interenmt will be in Davis Cemetery.

Mrs. Beckett To Speak On World Trip Thursday

Mrs. Edgar Beckett, Hyattsville, will give an illustrated talk of the Methodist mission centers she visited on her trip around the world. The program will be held at about 1:45 tomorrow in the chapel on the first floor of the church building. The public is invited.

Preceding the talk the regular luncheon-meeting of the WSCS of Centre Street Church will be held at 12:45 o'clock. Mrs. H. M. Amoss will introduce the speaker. There also will be a two-piano duet by Mrs. Ivan Hall and Mrs. Kenneth Beck.

Navy Modifies Grade Ruling On Enlistments

The Navy is now offering ratings to men with previous service in the Army or the Air Force, according to Chief Edward J. Carey, local recruiter.

Under a new regulation, honorably discharged veterans who apply for Navy enlistment within 12 months of the anniversary date of discharge, may now receive Navy ratings.

For example, he noted, Army and Air Force men discharged in pay grades E-7, E-6 and E-5 may enlist in pay grade E-4 in the Navy.

Applicants last discharged in pay grades E-1, E-2, E-3 or E-4 may be enlisted in the general apprenticeships of seaman, fireman, airman or stewardman, in the pay grade corresponding to that in which they were discharged from other services.

This modification of Navy enlistment procedure is designed to attract more enlistments in the Regular Navy, Carey said.

The District of Columbus was named in honor of Columbus.

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, it has long been our custom to commemorate November 11, the anniversary of the ending of World War I, by paying tribute to the heros of that tragic struggle and by rededicating ourselves to the cause of peace; and

WHEREAS, in the intervening years the United States has been involved in two other grat military conflicts, which have added millions of veterans living and dead to the honor rolls of this Nation; and

WHEREAS, the Congress passed a concurrent resolution on June 4, 1926 (44 Stat. 1982), calling for the observance of November 11 with appropriate ceremonies, and later provided in an act approved May 13, 1938 (52 Stat. 351), that the eleventh of November should be a legal holiday and should be known as Armistice Day; and

WHEREAS, in order to expand the significance of that commemoration and in order that a grateful Nation might pay appropriate homage to the veterans of all its wars who have contributed so much to the preservation of this Nation, the Congress, by an act approved June 1, 1954 (68 Stat. 168), changed the name of Armistice Day to Veterans Day.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE AND IT IS HEREBY RESOLVED, That I, Roy W. Eves, Mayor of the City of Cumberland, do hereby call upon all the citizens of this community to observe Thursday, November 11, 1954, as Veterans Day, and on that day let us solemnly remember the sacrifices of all those who fought so valiantly, on the seas, in the air, and on foreign shores, to preserve our heritage of freedom, and let us reconsecrate ourselves to the task of promoting and enduring peace so that their efforts shall not have been in vain, and I further request the citizens of this community and the various officials of the City to arrange for the display of the flag of the United States in an appropriate manner wherever possible.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the City of Cumberland to be affixed this 8th day of November, 1954, duly attested by the City Clerk.

MAYOR AND CITY COUNCIL OF CUMBERLAND

MRS. EFFIE BOWMAN

CRELLIN — Mrs. Effie Eleanor (Enlow) Bowman, 74, widow of Samuel Franklin Bowman, of Crellin, died early yesterday morning in Garrett Memorial Hospital, Oakland.

She was born in Oakland June 28, 1880, a daughter of the late David and Lavina (Wilkins) Enlow. Her husband, a carpenter, died on April 13.

Mrs. Bowman was a member of the Methodist Church in Crellin.

Surviving are four sons, David F., Crellin; Robert O., Akron; Philip O., Cresaptown, and Charles H. Bowman, Johnstown, Pa., and a daughter, Mrs. Glendine E. Wolfe, Erie, Pa.

Three sisters, Mrs. Clarence Lashorn, Deer Park; Mrs. Thayne White, Oakland; Mrs. John Spiker, Terra Alta, W. Va., 20 grandchildren and seven great grandchildren also survive.

A funeral service will be conducted Friday at 10 a. m. in the Bolden Funeral Home, Oakland. Rev. Donald Jackson and Rev. Ervin Fike will officiate and burial will be in Oakland Cemetery.

MRS. CARRIE PAUGH

MT. LAKE PARK—Mrs. Carrie May Paugh, 63, wife of Murray Edward Paugh, Loch Lynn, died early yesterday morning in Garrett Memorial Hospital after a lengthy illness.

She was born in Sines, Garrett County, August 5, 1891, a daughter of the late Charles and Elizabeth (Wolf) Haskell.

Mrs. Paugh was a member of the Loch Lynn United Brethren Church.

Surviving, besides her husband, are nine children, Garland, Harland and Murray, Jr., at home; Mrs. Adra Fogle, Smithsburg; Mrs. Claudine Calhoun, Mt. Lake; Gordon, Leroy and Burl, at home, and Mrs. Roy White, Baltimore.

Eleven grandchildren and a half sister, Mrs. Gertrude Fike, Ohio, also survive.

The body is at the home. A funeral service will be held tomorrow at 2 p. m. in the United Brethren Church, Loch Lynn. Rev. Paul Poland, Lonaconing, and Rev. Blair Burr and Rev. William Rogers will officiate and burial will be in Thayerville Cemetery.

MISS AUSTA M. LEONARD

Miss Austa M. Leonard, 75, sister of Mrs. Florence Stouffer and Mrs. Josephine Stouffer, Cresaptown, died October 10 in Akron.

A former postmistress of Fossilville, Pa., Miss Leonard was born in Bard, Pa. Her parents were the late Jacob and Martha (Carpenter) Leonard.

Services and burial were held in Akron.

MRS. D. A. BARRON

Mrs. Elizabeth (Henry) Barron, 80, mother of Mrs. Charles Lehman, city, died Saturday at the home of another daughter, Mrs. Charles R. Critchfield, Rockwood, Pa.

Survivors include her husband, D. A. Barron; a stepson, one brother and three sisters.

Rites were held yesterday afternoon in Rockwood.

MRS. LEO B. WILSON

HANCOCK — A funeral service for Mrs. Nancy Bell (Nace) Wilson, 59, wife of Leo B. Wilson, who died Monday at her home in Little Orleans, will be conducted Friday at 10 a. m. in the S. H. Hines Funeral Home, Washington.

Rev. Henry Wooding, Presbyterian minister, will officiate and interment will be in Arlington National Cemetery. The body is at the Grove Funeral Home here and will be taken to the Washington funeral home tomorrow morning.

HENRY G. HUFF

Henry G. Huff, 72, of 44 Lamont Street, died Monday night in Sacred Heart Hospital where he was admitted last Thursday after falling down a flight of stairs at home.

Following the accident, Mr. Huff was taken to the hospital in an unconscious condition. Later he complained of severe pain in the head and back. He had been in failing health for some time.

Born September 29, 1882 in Rawlings, Mr. Huff resided here 33 years and formerly was employed by the Western Maryland Railway, the B&O Railroad and the Cumberland Undergarment Company Inc., before retiring as a laborer. His parents were the late Leonard W. and Elizabeth (Stallings) Huff.

Mr. Huff is survived by his widow, the former Effie Elizabeth Null; four sons, Robert L., Carl V., Raymond G. and Howard A. Huff, city, and four daughters, Mrs. Ruth Light and Mrs. Edith Lechliter, city; Mrs. Clara Orr, Pontiac, Mich., and Mrs. Helen Albers, Baltimore.

Also surviving are three sisters, Mrs. Susan Lease and Mrs. Margaret Lease, city, and Mrs. Nora Lease, Rawlings; 16 grandchildren and eight great grandchildren.

The body is at the Scarpelli Funeral Home.

A service will be conducted at the funeral home tomorrow at 2 p. m. with Rev. William J. Elliott, pastor of the First Methodist Church, officiating.

Interment will be in Hillcrest Burial Park. Pallbearers will be James Brown, Curtis Twigg, James Mason, Raymond Frantz, Charles Manges and William Shipes.

GEORGE B. PEARSON

George B. Pearson, 36, Potomac Park, died Monday afternoon in Sacred Heart Hospital.

Mr. Pearson was born September 30, 1918 in Barton, a son of Carl D. Pearson of Salisbury, Pa., and the late Catherine (Rushton) Pearson. A veteran of World War II, he held membership in Salisbury Methodist Church.

In addition to his father and widow, the former Vivian Green, he leaves a daughter, Barbara Jean, at home; a brother, Charles M. Pearson, Salisbury; two nieces and a nephew.

The body is at the residence. Services will be held tomorrow at 1:30 p. m. in Potomac Park Methodist Church with Rev. L. O. McCartney, pastor, officiating. Burial will take place in Salisbury Cemetery.

CLINTON C. SMITH

Clinton Calvin Smith, 72, of 718 Maryland Avenue, a retired B&O blacksmith helper, died Monday night in Sacred Heart Hospital where he was admitted on Thursday.

A native of Somerset County near Fairhope, Pa., Mr. Smith was a son of the late Jacob and Mary (Ranker) Smith. He held membership in Mountain City Camp 6, Woodmen of the World, and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen at Connellsville, Pa.

Mr. Smith retired in 1946. Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Celia (Suder) Smith; a daughter, Mrs. Charles R. Allender; a grandson, Robert MacMillan, and a sister, Mrs. Anna Baker, all of Cumberland.

The body is at the Hafer Funeral Home where services will be conducted tomorrow at 2:30 p. m. by Rev. Carl H. Clapp, pastor of St. Mark's Evangelical and Reformed Church. Interment will be in Hillcrest Burial Park.

MRS. VICTORIA FORSYTHE

DAVIS, W. Va.—Mrs. Victoria Forsythe, 88, died at her home here yesterday morning following a lingering illness.

A native of Antrim County, Ireland, she was born May 5, 1866 and was a daughter of the late James and Anna (Smith) Knox.

Her husband, Samuel Forsythe, died in 1951. She was a member of St. John's Lutheran Church here. Surviving are four sons, Fred Forsythe, Holden Forsythe, Baltimore, Md.; Gordon Forsythe, Cleveland, Ohio; Stanley Forsythe, Clarksburg.

Four daughters, Mrs. Anna Gnegy, here; Mrs. Maude Dusch, Cumberland, Md.; Mrs. Elsie Waldin, Philadelphia; Mrs. Florence Valentine, St. Mary's; 18 grandchildren and 15 great grandchildren.

The body is at the Spiggle Funeral Home where a service will be held tomorrow at 2 p. m. with Rev. George C. Weirick, pastor, officiating. Interenmt will be in Davis Cemetery.

Mrs. Beckett To Speak On World Trip Thursday

Mrs. Edgar Beckett, Hyattsville, will give an illustrated talk of the Methodist mission centers she visited on her trip around the world. The program will be held at about 1:45 tomorrow in the chapel on the first floor of the church building. The public is invited.

Preceding the talk the regular luncheon-meeting of the WSCS of Centre Street Church will be held at 12:45 o'clock. Mrs. H. M. Amoss will introduce the speaker. There also will be a two-piano duet by Mrs. Ivan Hall and Mrs. Kenneth Beck.

Navy Modifies Grade Ruling On Enlistments

The Navy is now offering ratings to men with previous service in the Army or the Air Force, according to Chief Edward J. Carey, local recruiter.

Under a new regulation, honorably discharged veterans who apply for Navy enlistment within 12 months of the anniversary date of discharge, may now receive Navy ratings.

For example, he noted, Army and Air Force men discharged in pay grades E-7, E-6 and E-5 may enlist in pay grade E-4 in the Navy.

Applicants last discharged in pay grades E-1, E-2, E-3 or E-4 may be enlisted in the general apprenticeships of seaman, fireman, airman or stewardman, in the pay grade corresponding to that in which they were discharged from other services.

This modification of Navy enlistment procedure is designed to attract more enlistments in the Regular Navy, Carey said.

The District of Columbus was named in honor of Columbus.

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, it has long been our custom to commemorate November 11, the anniversary of the ending of World War I, by paying tribute to the heros of that tragic struggle and by rededicating ourselves to the cause of peace; and

WHEREAS, in the intervening years the United States has been involved in two other grat military conflicts, which have added millions of veterans living and dead to the honor rolls of this Nation; and

WHEREAS, the Congress passed a concurrent resolution on June 4, 1926 (44 Stat. 1982), calling for the observance of November 11 with appropriate ceremonies, and later provided in an act approved May 13, 1938 (52 Stat. 351), that the eleventh of November should be a legal holiday and should be known as Armistice Day; and

WHEREAS, in order to expand the significance of that commemoration and in order that a grateful Nation might pay appropriate homage to the veterans of all its wars who have contributed so much to the preservation of this Nation, the Congress, by an act approved June 1, 1954 (68 Stat. 168), changed the name of Armistice Day to Veterans Day.

NOW, THEREFORE, BE AND IT IS HEREBY RESOLVED, That I, Roy W. Eves, Mayor of the City of Cumberland, do hereby call upon all the citizens of this community to observe Thursday, November 11, 1954, as Veterans Day, and on that day let us solemnly remember the sacrifices of all those who fought so valiantly, on the seas, in the air, and on foreign shores, to preserve our heritage of freedom, and let us reconsecrate ourselves to the task of promoting and enduring peace so that their efforts shall not have been in vain, and I further request the citizens of this community and the various officials of the City to arrange for the display of the flag of the United States in an appropriate manner wherever possible.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, I have hereunto set my hand and caused the seal of the City of Cumberland to be affixed this 8th day of November, 1954, duly attested by the City Clerk.

German Rocket Experts To Get U.S. Citizenship

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Nov. 9 (AP) — Thirty-eight German scientists who helped develop the V2 rocket that might have won World War II for the Nazis will become American citizens Thursday.

These rocket experts, who once produced the terror weapons at Peenemunde in Germany, now are on the staff of the Redstone Arsenal Guided Missile Research and Development Center at Huntsville, Ala.

More than that, they and their families have become integral parts of Huntsville's church and community life.

Many have built or bought homes in the best residential sections. Most are active in some civic group, especially in a community concert association.

The highest compliment was paid to Dr. Adolph Thiel and his family by a Huntsville matron.

"They are just the kind of neighbors I was hoping to have when I built my new home," she said.

The V2 rocket was fired from the West European coast upon London. Hitler might have wiped the city off the map and won the war for Germany, but he ordered an all-out production program too late.

The World War II V2 had an extreme range of about 200 miles. Rockets developed for the United States by these Germans, working with American experts, can travel hundreds of miles further, and carry an atomic warhead.

The scientists were brought out of Germany after the close of World War II to the United States.

Defense Dept. Will Charge Fees For Some Information

WASHINGTON, Nov. 8 (AP)—The Defense Department is going to charge for furnishing some types of information and documentation or certification of records — which is now provided free.

The department announced this week the new plan will become effective Feb. 1 and that it is in line with the intent of Congress to put such services on a self-sustaining basis.

As an example, ex-servicemen must pay $1.50 to get another copy of a lost military service discharge certificate.

Search of records will be billed at the rate of $2 per hour. Validation of a document with seal will cost 50 cents, without seal 25 cents.

The schedule of fees applies to services, unless excepted, supplied to individuals, groups, organizations, corporations, municipalities, counties or state governments.

It will not apply to news information service furnished press, radio, television or newsreel representatives for dissemination to the general public. Nor will it apply to members of Congress when the information is for official use.

Other exemptions include:

Service requested by the next of kin or legal representatives of casualties.

Location information on the whereabouts of personnel, requested by next of kin or legal representatives of military personnel on active duty.

Information needed by service personnel to obtain financial benefits, except in instances where the information has been furnished previously.

Most Optimistic Person Will Be Feted Tonight

The Cumberland Optimist Club will honor Carl Elton Van Ausdale, of LaVale, at a dinner meeting today at 6:15 p. m. in Central YMCA, with an award for being chosen by the organization as the "Most Optimistic Person of the Year."

Guest speaker at the affair will be Thomas B. Finan, city solicitor. His topic of discussion will be "Optimism and Good Citizenship."

Plans Approved For New State Office Building

BALTIMORE, Nov. 9 (AP)—Preliminary plans for the new State office center to be erected here, including a lobby in black granite and yellow-orange marble — the State colors—were approved today by the Board of Public Works.

Artists' drawings, released at the meeting for the first time, depict two contemporary buildings with clean, precise lines, resembling slightly the United Nations buildings in New York.

Dominating the skyline on the northern edge of downtown Baltimore would be a 15-story building with penthouse. It would house 44 State agencies and the Legislative Council. About 200 feet away would be the 6-story State Roads Commission building.

Both would be located in the middle of a 17-acre site surrounded by landscaped walks and gardens, a long, narrow reflecting pool and parking facilities for about 900 cars.

An underground garage with a capacity of about 100 vehicles also is included.

Other features include a balcony, 70 feet by 10 feet, off the governor's office on the 15th floor. The State Board of Motion Picture Censors would review films on the very top level—in the penthouse.

Total cost of the entire project—scheduled for completion in 1958—is estimated at slightly more than 11 million dollars.

That's about $3,200,000 more than the State Legislature has approved, but Gov. McKeldin—ebullient at the prospect of the project being completed during his administration—said he would ask the next session for an additional authorization.

Plans were prepared by Fisher, Nes, Campbell & Associates, architects, and the L. P. Kooken Co., engineers.

The buildings would be of limestones with one third of each wall made of heat-resisting, bluish colored glass. The main building, 214 feet high, 282 feet long and 78 feet wide, would have about 16,000 feet of office space on each floor and is designed on an efficiency basis of 76 per cent.

Driver Is Fined Following Accident

Lee Russell Warner, Route 2, was fined $25 and costs in Trial Magistrates Court yesterday on a charge of reckless driving.

Charges were preferred before Magistrate Donald W. Mason by State Trooper James F. Lewis, following an accident on Baltimore Pike which resulted in injuries to a passenger.

Sentence Suspended

Charged with being a habitual drunkard, James Campbell, 950 Gay Street, was sentenced to one year in the Maryland House of Correction Monday by Magistrate Donald W. Mason.

The magistrate later suspended the sentence and imposed a two-year parole on the man who Chief of Police R. E. Flynn testified had been convicted on drunk and disorderly charges seven times since February.

Three Get Approval For Citizenship

Three applicants for citizenship were approved yesterday at the Allegany County Court House by an examiner from the Naturalization Section of the Department of Immigration.

They will receive their oath as citizens tomorrow from Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Circuit Court, after appropriate remarks by Associate Judge George Henderson. The ceremony is part of a nationwide Veterans Day observance. The three successful applicants include two from England and one from Italy.

Voting Machines Are Needed Here

The time has come, we believe, for Allegany County to join the march of progress and turn to the use of voting machines before the next election.

Montgomery County and Washington County, both in the Sixth District, already have them as do many other counties in the state. Frederick County is studying the possibility and it appears now that voting machines will be in use there when the next election rolls around. That will leave Allegany and Garrett, the two westernmost counties in the state, as the lone survivors in the district still using the current antiquated system.

If any election year has shown the need for voting machines this has been it. First, there was the bitter fight between the eventual Democratic nominee for governor, Dr. H. C. Byrd, and his primary opponent, George Mahoney.

Mr. Mahoney staged long, drawn-out expensive recounts of balloting done under the Allegany County system, even down to the point of disputing fly-specks on the ballots. The expensive fight was carried on to the Court of Appeals several times.

In the recent general election, Allegany County was next to last in the district to receive complete returns. Only Frederick County, using the same outdated system, was later.

Because of this ancient vote-casting arrangement, some elderly voters, no longer used to using a pencil, inadvertently mark their ballots incorrectly and thus disenfranchise themselves when their ballots are thrown out as spoiled by the election officials. This would not happen with voting machines; no voter who took the time to go to the polls would lose his vote because of incorrect marking.

Most of the objection to voting machines has been because of their expense, but we believe there currently is a move underway in the Legislative Council to introduce legislation at the next session of the General Assembly to relieve this factor.

This legislation, as we understand it, would provide for a state bond issue from which the counties could borrow money to buy the necessary voting machines, and then repay the money on an installment basis over a period of years.

If such legislation is not being considered seriously, we suggest that Senator Kimble and the members of the county delegation sponsor such a bill so that Allegany County can purchase voting machines. We might go even further and suggest that the bill make it mandatory that voting machines be used in all counties of the state.

In this move to keep Allegany County in step with the times, we also would suggest that the County Commissioners and the Board of Election Supervisors endorse the use of voting machines in this county and make their support and recommendations known to Senator Kimble and the delegation.

These Days

The Center Of The World

Usually when Westerners think of Asia, their minds dwell on the periphery of the Pacific and Indian Oceans, upon those areas which lie on the seacoast or which are close enough to have engaged in foreign trade — that is, trade with the Western countries.

Such a province of China as Sinkiang is too distant, too unknown to attract much attention. Yet in it lie such historically important cities as Kashgar, Khotan, Turfan, Hami, Yarkand, cities famous in the trade routes when goods moved overland from Antioch in Syria, even before Rome was an empire, eastward until they reached the palaces of the Chinese emperors.

Sinkiang is bounded on the south by Tibet, on the east by other Chinese provinces, on the north by Mongolia, the Kazakh Republic of Soviet Russia and by Siberia, on the west by the Kazakh Republic, Kashmir, and Afghanistan. Pakistan and India are not far away. The Russian Turk-Sib Railroad, with its terminus at Alma-Ata, runs along the western border of Sinkiang, connecting with the Trans-Siberian Railroad at Novo-Sibirsk, while another railroad line runs to Omsk, and a new one is being built into Sinkiang.

In this general area lie many of the new industries of Soviet Russia, particularly the war industries. The Russians have been at work in this area for centuries, actually seizing and holding Ili in 1871. Since the Republic of China, during the wars of the Tuchuns (warlords) in the 1920s, the Russians made tremendous progress in Sinkiang, particularly among the anti-Chinese Moslems and Tungans. It needs to be pointed out that few Chinese live in this area—by Chinese is meant sons of Han — the population being composed largely of various Turkoman tribes and other central Asian peoples. As the same kinds of races live on both sides of the Sino-Russian border, accustomed to trade with each other and to commune on joint affairs, the Russians had no difficulties.

As early as 1930, when the Turk-Sib Railroad was completed, Russia had established a monopoly of the trade of Sinkiang, which included oil, gold, hides, skins, livestock, etc. By the 1940s, Sinkiang had come completely under the domination of Soviet Russia and was no longer really a part of China. Soviet advisers held key positions in its government, while instructions from the Chinese capital were ignored. Li Chang, writing in "Foreign Affairs," says:

". . . The right-wing Nationalists in the administration and in the army were purged. Spies and agents supplied a highly organized system of intelligence: liquidations and strange disappearances became the order of the day. Sinkiang became a police state on the Soviet model. The postmaster at Urumchi gave the following advice to Sven Hedin: 'Never talk to anybody; let the others talk, listen, but appear indifferent; believe nobody—they are all liars, spies, informers and traitors. Any one may disappear at any time, and it is best not to ask where he has gone.' "

Those who speak of the independence—current or probable—of Red China from Soviet Russia rarely look at the map. Siberia, Mongolia and Sinkiang (Chinese Turkestan) lie on top of China, from which not only Russia but more importantly what would seem to the rest of the world as Chinese troops could march upon Mao Tze-tung and slaughter him. It could be called a liberation movement, although those who would appear to be Chinese seeking liberation are not Chinese at all. They might be Mongols or Tungans or Moslems or Kazakhi or members of a hundred tribes and races.

It was out of this area that the Seljuk Turks, the Hsiung-Nu (Huns)), the Ephthalites, the Magyars (Hungarians) and possibly the Scythians invaded and conquered parts of Europe. But the vestigial peoples all look like Chinese. At my own first marriage in Shanghai, one of the witnesses was a so-called Chinese Jew from Khotan, bearded after a Chinese fashion and looking, to Western eyes, like a Chinese. The Russians take advantage of such appearances in their various liberation movements.

Watkins Report Ignored Case Similar To McCarthy's

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — Senator Watkins of Utah has endeavored to correct a flagrant error in the report of his committee recommending censure of Senator McCarthy, but the revision presents a worse contradiction than the original.

For the chairman of the committee, in order to support his argument that the Senate is a "continuing body," now declares that a Senate rule provides for a standing committee to hold over from one session to another. This means merely that the committee remains in being with the same members until the Senate appoints others, but so are the two thirds of the Senate continued as members. The big argument was whether the "legislative business" continued and particularly whether conduct in a previous Congress was subject to censure at the next Congress. The fact that committees continue does not mean that legislative business is continued. Its business dies with the preceding Congress and this has been the long-established practice.

By emphasizing the error and failing to answer the main argument about an allegedly continuing jurisdiction over a senator's conduct in a preceding session, the Watkins Committee now has underlined the contradictory nature of its own report.

Similar Case Omitted

What is even more tragic is that the Watkins Committee failed to tell the Senate of a case almost exactly parallel to that of Senator McCarthy. It occurred when the elder Senator LaFollette was "invited" to appear before the Senate Subcommittee on Privileges and Elections. He, like McCarthy, in an exchange o several letters repeatedly refused to appear and never did go to the committee to testify.

The late Senator LaFollette was charged in a resolution of expulsion with being a "teacher of disloyalty and sedition, giving aid and comfort to our enemies and hindering the government in the conduct of the war." The charge was made by the Minnesota Commission of Public Safety in September 1917 during World War I.

Senator LaFollette demanded the right to cross-examine witnesses and said the committee "denies me the right to a definite statement of the offense of which I am accused and the evidence upon which the charge is supported, a right which is accorded to every man called to answer even for a mere misdemeanor." He added that to deny him the information he requested "is an insult to an individual" and "to deny it to a senator is an insult to the individual and the high office he occupies." He declared that the committee was engaged in an "ex parte proceeding" and was accepting "mere statements of individuals as a basis for action."

The Wisconsin senator denounced the invitation given him to testify and declared:

"The procedure you contemplate following . . . is most extraordinary and wholly unprecedented. It amounts to nothing less than requesting me to support the accuracy of various statements—which ones are not indicated by you—in the speech in advance of any information from your committee that any of the statements are challenged, or if so by whom they are challenged, or in what manner."

La Follette Walked Out

This is precisely the point made by Senator McCarthy in his correspondence with the Senate Subcommittee on Privileges and Elections, which was first headed by Senator Gillette of Iowa and later by Senator Hennings of Missouri. When the elder La Follette did appear before the Senate committee on October 16, 1917, he greeted the committee, left a long letter refusing to testify himself, and defiantly walked out without permitting any questioning or cross-examination. The committee was stunned by the action and did not meet again until May 21, 1918. Then it heard Gilbert E. Roe, attorney for Senator La Follette, who made a lengthy argument disputing the committee's right to try the case either on a basis of censure or expulsion. Eminent constitutional lawyers in the Senate, including Senator Tom Walsh of Montana, sat on that committee.

Mr. Roe gave a list of precedents which the Watkins Committee would have done well to include in its report, because they are far more significant than those being cited now to support the censure of Senator McCarthy. Mr. Roe told the committee in the next day's hearings:

"Now, that power, under the constitution of the Senate, as I said yesterday, to expel is unlimited. The power, however, to punish is limited to punishment for violation of its rules for disorderly behavior, and in this case either Senator La Follette's speech is sufficient to put him out of the Senate or no action can be taken upon it at all."

"Do you think," asked Senator Kenyon of Iowa, "the Senate has inherent power to censure?"

"No sir, not at all," replied Mr. Roe. "There is no doubt about that question."

The Senate subcommittee finally decided not to censure or expel Senator La Follette. This whole argument in the La Follette proceeding was disregarded by the Watkins Committee.

'Up And Down' Pattern Normal In Multiple Sclerosis

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

More than 250,000 Americans are afflicted with multiple sclerosis. Ten years from now the total will be higher, not only due to the rising population but because this neurological disease is being recognized with increasing frequency. There is no cure but the majority of sufferers live comfortably and profitably for many decades despite the handicap.

Multiple sclerosis usually strikes young adults without warning. The earliest manifestations are so varied a typical pattern cannot be described. Some develop weakness or numbness in one or more extremities. An entire arm or leg may be affected or only one finger or toe.

Distress comes and goes. It may last a day or years. Others develop double or blurred vision. Dizziness, emotional changes, loss of bladder control, or paralysis also may occur. Equilibrium may be affected so that the victim weaves like a drunken sailor.

Everyone with mutiple sclerosis ought to understand that the disease will be better at intervals. This improvement is spontaneous and unrelated to treatment. Those who do not realize the normal up and down pattern are disappointed when symptoms return or become more severe.

In addition, certain conditions aggravate the malady or bring on a relapse. Excessive fatigue, emotional stress, infection, and pregnancy are offenders along this line. Return engagements also follow a general anesthetic or overexposure to extremes in heat or cold. These precipitating factors should be avoided whenever possible.

There is no cure but we have treatments galore and the majority are used to combat unpleasant symptoms. Medications include myanesin, adenosine, d-tubocurarine, hormones, anticoagulants, and the antihistiminics. Physical therapy and rehabilitation procedures do more than any other measures.

Our lack of knowledge of the cause of multiple sclerosis handicaps treatment. Numerous theories have been considered such as vitamin or mineral deficiencies, circulatory disorders, aliergy or viral infections. But none has withstood reliable scientific scrutiny.

MS sufferers are helped by adjusting to the disease and by not letting it interfere with what they want to do. A man of means, confined to a wheelchair because of the ailment, went on an extensive trip just to prove to himself that it could be done. Getting in and out of planes was difficult but he derived a world of satisfaction from knowing he was able to travel.

TOMORROW: The efficacy of tuberculosis treatment.

TONSIL REMOVAL

Mrs. Y. writes: My young son gets sore throat and the doctor says he needs to have his tonsils taken out. Is this a serious operation?

No, considering the millions who have undergone the operation and survived. It is not advisable during the polio season, however. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on tonsilectomy.

MASSAGE WON'T SHAPE

R. V. writes: Will massaging my legs with cocoa butter make them shapely?

REPLY

No, but it will keep the skin soft.

LEUKEMIA AMONG PHYSICIANS

C. W. writes: Is it true that more physicians die from leukemia than from any other cause?

REPLY

No. More physicians, as well as laymen, die from heart and vascular disease than from any other malady. At present, the occurrence of leukemia among physicians is higher than in other occupations and professions because in the earlier days of X-ray therapy, they did not know how to protect themselves.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me!

A well-known man-about-town took a girl friend for a late snack at a Broadway restaurant where he often dined and discovered when the time came to pay the check, he had no money at all with him. Then he spied a waiter he had known—and tipped well—for years at the other side of the room. Beckoning him, he whispered, "Joe, I left my money in my other suit. Will you lend me a ten-spot?" "I'm sorry," said the waiter coldly, "but this isn't my table."

Two character actresses who had been great stars in their day were gossiping over a salad at Sardi's. "I've discovered the greatest makeup artist in New York," boasted one. Sen. McCarthy's Revenge Technique Viewed As Irritant To Colleagues

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—The two factors which have hurt Joe McCarthy most during his acrimonious career in the Senate are: 1, his attacks on members of the Eisenhower administration; 2, his vindictiveness against fellow senators who oppose him.

McCarthy's attacks on members of the Eisenhower administration have been well publicized. His revenge technique of investigating those who oppose him is not so well known. But it has made Senate colleagues bitter. Here is part of the revenge record:

Senator Symington of Missouri—When Symington persisted in digging into the reasons why Don Surine was dropped from the FBI, a friend of McCarthy's approached Democratic senators on the McCarthy Committee and warned that if this line of cross-examination continued, McCarthy would insist on publishing the police records of senators. This was aimed at Symington who as a youngster went on a joy ride in a neighbor's car without bothering to ask permission and later pleaded guilty. The neighbor later wrote a letter poohpoohing the incident, but it remains a matter of police record.

Senator Jackson of Washington—When Jackson asked searching questions of Roy Cohn, Cohn jostled him in the corridor and whispered: "Want to get rough? We can get rough too." Surine then brought into the hearing room a file marked "Senator Jackson's Record" and ostentatiously put it on the table where everyone could see it.

John J. McCloy—When McCloy, former high commissioner to Germany, now head of the Chase bank, instigated Eisenhower's book-burning speech at Dartmouth, McCarthey investigators turned up in Germany to probe McCloy's operations, even including whether Mrs. McCloy used her government car to buy groceries. McCarthy also accused McCloy of destroying records on Communists inside the War Department.

Sen. Robert Hendrickson of New Jersey—When Hendrickson signed the Senate subcommittee report condemning McCarthy's finances, McCarthy threatened to fight Hendrickson's re-election, called him a "living miracle . . . The only man in the world who has lived so long with neither brains nor guts."

Senator Tydings of Maryland—When Tydings refused to confirm McCarthy's charges of Communists in the State Department, McCarthy raised Texas and Chicago Tribune money to defeat Tydings and circulated a fake picture of Tydings smiling at Communist chief Earl Browder.

Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine—When Mrs. Smith signed the Declaration of Conscience indirectly criticizing McCarthy's behavior, he maneuvered one of his friends, Robert Jones, into running against her.

Struve Hensel, assistant defense secretary—When Hensel wrote a report on the Cohn-Schine attempts to browbeat the Army, McCarthy got hold of Hensel's income tax returns and sent two investigators to browbeat Hensel's mother-in-law; even told her her daughter was in a hit-and-run accident in order to scare her into giving information.

Time Magazine — When Time published critical stories about McCarthy, he wrote every advertiser asking them to cancel their advertising; later secured from Postmaster General Summerfield the figures on Time's second-class mailing privileges and proceeded to cross-examine Summerfield in an Appropriations subcommittee meeting in an obvious effort to undercut Time's mailing privileges.

Senator Hennings of Missouri—When Hennings served on the committee probing McCarthy's finances, McCarthy charged that Hennings had three Communists in his office. Hennings asked the FBI to investigate, disproved the charge.

Senator Baldwin of Connecticut—When Baldwin, a Republican, refused to swallow McCarthy's charges that American officers had tortured the Nazi SS men who murdered 150 Americans at Malmedy in the Battle of the Bulge, McCarthy proceeded to bulldoze and torment Baldwin until he resigned from the Senate.

Newspapers and Newspapermen—The list of newsmen against whom McCarthy has used his revenge technique is too long to be published here. He has leveled charges of pro-communism at the Christian Science Monitor, Saturday Evening Post, Washington Post, St. Louis Post-Dispatch, Milwaukee Journal, Madison (Wis.) Capital Times, Portland Oregonian, and many others.

But the most dangerous aspect of McCarthy's revenge technique is that he uses private money contributed by his Texas oil friends to hire an army of investigators and they in turn are able to secure the tax return of anyone against whom McCarthy has a personal gripe.

This is probably the first time in history that a personal, private army of investigators has been able to use U. S. Government records and the power of U. S. Government subpoenas in somewhat the same manner Hitler used his elite corps in Germany.

Politico-Go-Round

GOP Chairman Len Hall tried to console his assistants over losing the House. "All the committee chairmen are conservative Southerners," Hall told his associates. "Name one Northern chairman of an important committee." . . . He forgot that Vice President Nixon warned the nation that Congress would be in the hands of left-wingers . . . Ike lost both his home districts last week. Morningside Heights, New York, home of Columbia U., elected a Democratic congressman, Herbert Zalenko, for the first time in years, while Gettysburg, Pa., where Ike held the Pennsylvania political rally, also elected a Democrat, James M. Quigley . . . Congressman Zalenko was once star wrestler for Columbia . . . One thing that hurt Sen. Guy Gillette in Iowa was failure to take a stand on McCarthy. He lost in a big farm state while Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota was rolling up a terrific majority in another farm state . . . Wisconsin farmers turned Democratic with such a vengeance that GOP leaders just aren't talking about it. They almost defeat d Republican Govenor Kohler. (His family make the famous bathroom bowls.) . . . Says Dave Lloyd, ex-aide to Harry Truman: "The only food poisoning Nixon has to worry about is letting one of his speeches fall into his soup." . . . Mamie Eisenhower almost wept at the defeat of her close friend Mrs. Ellen Harris, who ran for Congress from Denver. Mamie had even made a speech for Mrs. Harris and speechmaking is something Mamie almost never does.

Sleeping Soundly

By Bob Considine

BAY VILLAGE, Ohio (INS) — The father of an infant boy who died on Dr. Sam Sheppard's operating table tried to kill Sheppard with his bare hands, it was revealed by a neighbor of the osteopath who is accused, in turn, of murdering his wife.

The incident dramatically occured last July 3, the day before Marilyn Sheppard was murdered, a neighbor of Dr. Sam's told us. He is Bob Critchfield, in whose neat, rented gray and white home across the street from the Sheppard home Sam and Marilyn often danced. Critchfield explained:

"As Sam told us, the effort to kill him was made by this fellow—probably temporarily deranged — after Sam had performed one of those heart massage jobs he's famous for. The child died early in the operation but Sam restored him to life with the massage. But during the brief period of death a blood clot formed on the brain. When Sam operated on the brain, the child died again.

"Sam came out of the room and reported the death to the boy's father, who lunged at him, cursing him and threatening to kill him. . . . No wonder Sam was exhausted and went to sleep on the couch that night, the night Marilyn was murdered."

Critchfield and his wife, Barbara, a friendly couple who offered their telephone to this reporter so he could call in his story of the trip of the jury and Sheppard to the murder house across the street, said they could understand Sam's story that he slept through at least part of the bludgeon murder.

"He could sleep like a tiger," Critchfield remembered. "I've seen him do it many times . . . just conk off and sleep soundly. People who called him at night hardly ever awakened him, even though the phone was right near his ear."

The Critchfields are moving to Warren, Ohio. Two other Sheppard neighbors have put their homes up for sale. The van was at their door and the Critchfields were helping the moving man in his chores, while we dictated the story. Mrs. Critchfield, a hospitable soul, poured us a drink and said, as she looked reflectively across the road to the tree-shrouded Sheppard home, "In some ways I'm glad to be going, and in some ways I'll be sorry to move.

"We met Sam and Marilyn four years ago when we moved in here. The detectives," she sighed, "they've been here four times since the murder, questioning us. They even took our palm prints, to see if they matched the print they found in Sam's study. Imagine! The prints turned out to be little Chip's, and I'll bet a penny they must have spent $15,000 here in Bay Village, just finding out that much."

"Sam and Marilyn had their last dance in our basement playroom on the Saturday night before the murder," Bob said. "We've got a high-fidelity player which they liked. They danced high-school type, creep and crawl stuff, like high school lovers. No rumbas or fancy stuff."

We asked if Sam and Marilyn argued a lot, as the state will say.

"No more than Barbara and I do," Critchfield said, looking fondly at his work-trousered wife. "And don't believe what they tell you about Sam drinking. I've tried to force it down his throat at times, but the most I've ever seen him drink in an evening was two beers."

"We had a fire in common," Barbara explained. "The Sheppards' is a real jinx house you know. The man who built it died in the lobby of a New York hotel. It almost burned to the ground for the second owner. Then the Sheppards had a $10,000 fire about the time we had one."

What is even more tragic is that the Watkins Committee failed to tell the Senate of a case almost exactly parallel to that of Senator McCarthy. It occurred when the elder Senator LaFollette was "invited" to appear before the Senate Subcommittee on Privileges and Elections. He, like McCarthy, in an exchange o several letters repeatedly refused to appear and never did go to the committee to testify.

The late Senator LaFollette was charged in a resolution of expulsion with being a "teacher of disloyalty and sedition, giving aid and comfort to our enemies and hindering the government in the conduct of the war." The charge was made by the Minnesota Commission of Public Safety in September 1917 during World War I.

Senator LaFollette demanded the right to cross-examine witnesses and said the committee "denies me the right to a definite statement of the offense of which I am accused and the evidence upon which the charge is supported, a right which is accorded to every man called to answer even for a mere misdemeanor." He added that to deny him the information he requested "is an insult to an individual" and "to deny it to a senator is an insult to the individual and the high office he occupies." He declared that the committee was engaged in an "ex parte proceeding" and was accepting "mere statements of individuals as a basis for action."

The Wisconsin senator denounced the invitation given him to testify and declared:

"The procedure you contemplate following . . . is most extraordinary and wholly unprecedented. It amounts to nothing less than requesting me to support the accuracy of various statements—which ones are not indicated by you—in the speech in advance of any information from your committee that any of the statements are challenged, or if so by whom they are challenged, or in what manner."

La Follette Walked Out

This is precisely the point made by Senator McCarthy in his correspondence with the Senate Subcommittee on Privileges and Elections, which was first headed by Senator Gillette of Iowa and later by Senator Hennings of Missouri. When the elder La Follette did appear before the Senate committee on October 16, 1917, he greeted the committee, left a long letter refusing to testify himself, and defiantly walked out without permitting any questioning or cross-examination. The committee was stunned by the action and did not meet again until May 21, 1918. Then it heard Gilbert E. Roe, attorney for Senator La Follette, who made a lengthy argument disputing the committee's right to try the case either on a basis of censure or expulsion. Eminent constitutional lawyers of the Senate, including Senator Tom Walsh of Montana, sat on that committee.

Mr. Roe gave a list of precedents which the Watkins Committee would have done well to include in its report, because they are far more significant than those being cited now to support the censure of Senator McCarthy. Mr. Roe told the committee in the next day's hearings:

"Now, that power, under the constitution of the Senate, as I said yesterday, to expel is unlimited. The power, however, to punish is limited to punishment for violation of its rules for disorderly behavior, and in this case either Senator La Follette's speech is sufficient to put him out of the Senate or no action can be taken upon it at all."

"Do you think," asked Senator Kenyon of Iowa, "the Senate has inherent power to censure?"

"No sir, not at all," replied Mr. Roe. "There is no doubt about that question."

The Senate subcommittee finally decided not to censure or expel Senator La Follette. This whole argument in the La Follette proceeding was disregarded by the Watkins Committee.

Sen. McCarthy's Revenge Technique Viewed As Irritant To Colleagues

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—The two factors which have hurt Joe McCarthy most during his acrimonious career in the Senate are: 1, his attacks on members of the Eisenhower administration; 2, his vindictiveness against fellow senators who oppose him.

McCarthy's attacks on members of the Eisenhower administration have been well publicized. His revenge technique of investigating those who oppose him is not so well known. But it has made Senate colleagues bitter. Here is part of the revenge record:

Senator Symington of Missouri—When Symington persisted in digging into the reasons why Don Surine was dropped from the FBI, a friend of McCarthy's approached Democratic senators on the McCarthy Committee and warned that if this line of cross-examination continued, McCarthy would insist on publishing the police records of senators. This was aimed at Symington who as a youngster went on a joy ride in a neighbor's car without bothering to ask permission and later pleaded guilty. The neighbor later wrote a letter poohpoohing the incident, but it remains a matter of police record.

Senator Jackson of Washington—When Jackson asked searching questions of Roy Cohn, Cohn jostled him in the corridor and whispered: "Want to get rough? We can get rough too." Surine then brought into the hearing room a file marked "Senator Jackson's Record" and ostentatiously put it on the table where everyone could see it.

John J. McCloy—When McCloy, former high commissioner to Germany, now head of the Chase bank, instigated Eisenhower's book-burning speech at Dartmouth, McCarthey investigators turn up in Germany to probe McCloy's operations, even including whether Mrs. McCloy used her government car to buy groceries. McCarthy also accused McCloy of destroying records on Communists inside the War Department.

Sen. Robert Hendrickson of New Jersey—When Hendrickson signed the Senate subcommittee report condemning McCarthy's finances, McCarthy threatened to fight Hendrickson's re-election, called him a "living miracle . . . The only man in the world who has lived so long with neither brains nor guts."

Senator Tydings of Maryland—When Tydings refused to confirm McCarthy's charges of Communists in the State Department, McCarthy raised Texas and Chicago Tribune money to defeat Tydings and circulated a fake picture of Tydings smiling at Communist chief Earl Browder.

Sen. Margaret Chase Smith of Maine—When Mrs. Smith signed the Declaration of Conscience indirectly criticizing McCarthy's behavior, he maneuvered one of his friends, Robert Jones, into running against her.

Struve Hensel, assistant defense secretary—When Hensel wrote a report on the Cohn-Schine attempts to browbeat the Army, McCarthy got hold of Hensel's income tax returns and sent two investigators to browbeat Hensel's mother-in-law; even told her her daughter was in a hit-and-run accident in order to scare her into giving information.

Time Magazine — When Time published critical stories about McCarthy, he wrote every advertiser asking them to cancel their advertising; later secured from Postmaster General Summerfield the figures on Time's second-class mailing privileges and proceeded to cross-examine Summerfield in an Appropriations subcommittee meeting in an obvious effort to undercut Time's mailing privileges.

Senator Hennings of Missouri—When Hennings served on the committee probing McCarthy's finances, McCarthy charged that Hennings had three Communists in his office. Hennings asked the FBI to investigate, disproved the charge.

Senator Baldwin of Connecticut—When Baldwin, a Republican, refused to swallow McCarthy's charges that American officers had tortured the Nazi SS men who murdered 150 Americans at Malmedy in the Battle of the Bulge, McCarthy proceeded to bulldoze and torment Baldwin until he resigned from the Senate.

Newspapers and Newspapermen—The list of newsmen against whom McCarthy has used his revenge technique is too long to be published here. He has leveled charges of pro-communism at the Christian Science Monitor, Saturday Evening Post, Washington Post, St. Louis Post-Dispatch, Milwaukee Journal, Madison (Wis.) Capital Times, Portland Oregonian, and many others.

But the most dangerous aspect of McCarthy's revenge technique is that he uses private money contributed by his Texas oil friends to hire an army of investigators and they in turn are able to secure the tax return of anyone against whom McCarthy has a personal gripe.

This is probably the first time in history that a personal, private army of investigators has been able to use U. S. Government records and the power of U. S. Government subpoenas in somewhat the same manner Hitler used his elite corps in Germany.

Politico-Go-Round

GOP Chairman Len Hall tried to console his assistants over losing the House. "All the committee chairmen are conservative Southerners," Hall told his associates. "Name one Northern chairman of an important committee." . . . He forgot that Vice President Nixon warned the nation that Congress would be in the hands of left-wingers . . . Ike lost both his home districts last week. Morningside Heights, New York, home of Columbia U., elected a Democratic congressman, Herbert Zalenko, for the first time in years, while Gettysburg, Pa., where Ike held the Pennsylvania political rally, also elected a Democrat, James M. Quigley . . . Congressman Zalenko was once star wrestler for Columbia . . . One thing that hurt Sen. Guy Gillette in Iowa was failure to take a stand on McCarthy. He lost in a big farm state while Sen. Hubert Humphrey of Minnesota was rolling up a terrific majority in another farm state . . . Wisconsin farmers turned Democratic with such a vengeance that GOP leaders just aren't talking about it. They almost defeat d Republican Govenor Kohler. (His family make the famous bathroom bowls.) . . . Says Dave Lloyd, ex-aide to Harry Truman: "The only food poisoning Nixon has to worry about is letting one of his speeches fall into his soup." . . . Mamie Eisenhower almost wept at the defeat of her close friend Mrs. Ellen Harris, who ran for Congress from Denver. Mamie had even made a speech for Mrs. Harris and speechmaking is something Mamie almost never does.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

The Center Of The World

Usually when Westerners think of Asia, their minds dwell on the periphery of the Pacific and Indian Oceans, upon those areas which lie on the seacoast or which are close enough to have engaged in foreign trade — that is, trade with the Western countries.

Such a province of China as Sinkiang is too distant, too unknown to attract much attention. Yet in it lie such historically important cities as Kashgar, Khotan, Turfan, Hami, Yarkand, cities famous in the trade routes when goods moved overland from Antioch in Syria, even before Rome was an empire, eastward until they reached the palaces of the Chinese emperors.

Sinkiang is bounded on the south by Tibet, on the east by other Chinese provinces, on the north by Mongolia, the Kazakh Republic of Soviet Russia and by Siberia, on the west by the Kazakh Republic, Kashmir, and Afghanistan. Pakistan and India are not far away. The Russian Turk-Sib Railroad, with its terminus at Alma-Ata, runs along the western border of Sinkiang, connecting with the Trans-Siberian Railroad at Novo-Sibirsk, while another railroad line runs to Omsk, and a new one is being built into Sinkiang.

In this general area lie many of the new industries of Soviet Russia, particularly the war industries. The Russians have been at work in this area for centuries, actually seizing and holding Ili in 1871. Since the Republic of China, during the wars of the Tuchuns (warlords) in the 1920s, the Russians made tremendous progress in Sinkiang, particularly among the anti-Chinese Moslems and Tungans. It needs to be pointed out that few Chinese live in this area—by Chinese is meant sons of Han — the population being composed largely of various Turkoman tribes and other central Asian peoples. As the same kinds of races live on both sides of the Sino-Russian border, accustomed to trade with each other and to commune on joint affairs, the Russians had no difficulties.

As early as 1930, when the Turk-Sib Railroad was completed, Russia had established a monopoly of the trade of Sinkiang, which included oil, gold, hides, skins, livestock, etc. By the 1940s, Sinkiang had come completely under the domination of Soviet Russia and was no longer really a part of China. Soviet advisers held key positions in its government, while instructions from the Chinese capital were ignored. Li Chang, writing in "Foreign Affairs," says:

". . . The right-wing Nationalists in the administration and in the army were purged. Spies and agents supplied a highly organized system of intelligence: liquidations and strange disappearances became the order of the day. Sinkiang became a police state on the Soviet model. The postmaster at Urumchi gave the following advice to Sven Hedin: 'Never talk to anybody; let the others talk, listen, but appear indifferent; believe nobody—they are all liars, spies, informers and traitors. Any one may disappear at any time, and it is best not to ask where he has gone.' "

Those who speak of the independence—current or probable—of Red China from Soviet Russia rarely look at the map. Siberia, Mongolia and Sinkiang (Chinese Turkestan) lie on top of China, from which not only Russia but more importantly what would seem to the rest of the world as Chinese troops could march upon Mao Tze-tung and slaughter him. It could be called a liberation movement, although those who would appear to be Chinese seeking liberation are not Chinese at all. They might be Mongols or Tungans or Moslems or Kazakhi or members of a hundred tribes and races.

It was out of this area that the Seljuk Turks, the Hsiung-Nu (Huns)), the Ephthalites, the Magyars (Hungarians) and possibly the Scythians invaded and conquered parts of Europe. But the vestigial peoples all look like Chinese. At my own first marriage in Shanghai, one of the witnesses was a so-called Chinese Jew from Khotan, bearded after a Chinese fashion and looking, to Western eyes, like a Chinese. The Russians take advantage of such appearances in their various liberation movements.

Sleeping Soundly

By Bob Considine

BAY VILLAGE, Ohio (INS) — The father of an infant boy who died on Dr. Sam Sheppard's operating table tried to kill Sheppard with his bare hands, it was revealed by a neighbor of the osteopath who is accused, in turn, of murdering his wife.

The incident dramatically occured last July 3, the day before Marilyn Sheppard was murdered, a neighbor of Dr. Sam's told us. He is Bob Critchfield, in whose neat, rented gray and white home across the street from the Sheppard home Sam and Marilyn often danced. Critchfield explained:

"As Sam told us, the effort to kill him was made by this fellow—probably temporarily deranged — after Sam had performed one of those heart massage jobs he's famous for. The child died early in the operation but Sam restored him to life with the massage. But during the brief period of death a blood clot formed on the brain. When Sam operated on the brain, the child died again.

"Sam came out of the room and reported the death to the boy's father, who lunged at him, cursing him and threatening to kill him. . . . No wonder Sam was exhausted and went to sleep on the couch that night, the night Marilyn was murdered."

Critchfield and his wife, Barbara, a friendly couple who offered their telephone to this reporter so he could call in his story of the trip of the jury and Sheppard to the murder house across the street, said they could understand Sam's story that he slept through at least part of the bludgeon murder.

"He could sleep like a tiger," Critchfield remembered. "I've seen him do it many times . . . just conk off and sleep soundly. People who called him at night hardly ever awakened him, even though the phone was right near his ear."

The Critchfields are moving to Warren, Ohio. Two other Sheppard neighbors have put their homes up for sale. The van was at their door and the Critchfields were helping the moving man in his chores, while we dictated the story. Mrs. Critchfield, a hospitable soul, poured us a drink and said, as she looked reflectively across the road to the tree-shrouded Sheppard home, "In some ways I'm glad to be going, and in some ways I'll be sorry to move.

"We met Sam and Marilyn four years ago when we moved in here. The detectives," she sighed, "they've been here four times since the murder, questioning us. They even took our palm prints, to see if they matched the print they found in Sam's study. Imagine! The prints turned out to be little Chip's, and I'll bet a penny they must have spent $15,000 here in Bay Village, just finding out that much."

"Sam and Marilyn had their last dance in our basement playroom on the Saturday night before the murder," Bob said. "We've got a high-fidelity player which they liked. They danced high-school type, creep and crawl stuff, like high school lovers. No rumbas or fancy stuff."

We asked if Sam and Marilyn argued a lot, as the state will say.

"No more than Barbara and I do," Critchfield said, looking fondly at his work-trousered wife. "And don't believe what they tell you about Sam drinking. I've tried to force it down his throat at times, but the most I've ever seen him drink in an evening was two beers."

"We had a fire in common," Barbara explained. "The Sheppards' is a real jinx house you know. The man who built it died in the lobby of a New York hotel. It almost burned to the ground for the second owner. Then the Sheppards had a $10,000 fire about the time we had one."

'Up And Down' Pattern Normal In Multiple Sclerosis

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

More than 250,000 Americans are afflicted with multiple sclerosis. Ten years from now the total will be higher, not only due to the rising population but because this neurological disease is being recognized with increasing frequency. There is no cure but the majority of sufferers live comfortably and profitably for many decades despite the handicap.

Multiple sclerosis usually strikes young adults without warning. The earliest manifestations are so varied a typical pattern cannot be described. Some develop weakness or numbness in one or more extremities. An entire arm or leg may be affected or only one finger or toe.

Distress comes and goes. It may last a day or years. Others develop double or blurred vision. Dizziness, emotional changes, loss of bladder control, or paralysis also may occur. Equilibrium may be affected so that the victim weaves like a drunken sailor.

Everyone with mutiple sclerosis ought to understand that the disease will be better at intervals. This improvement is spontaneous and unrelated to treatment. Those who do not realize the normal up and down pattern are disappointed when symptoms return or become more severe.

In addition, certain conditions aggravate the malady or bring on a relapse. Excessive fatigue, emotional stress, infection, and pregnancy are offenders along this line. Return engagements also follow a general anesthetic or overexposure to extremes in heat or cold. These precipitating factors should be avoided whenever possible.

There is no cure but we have treatments galore and the majority are used to combat unpleasant symptoms. Medications include myanesin, adenosine, d-tubocurarine, hormones, anticoagulants, and the antihistiminics. Physical therapy and rehabilitation procedures do more than any other measures.

Our lack of knowledge of the cause of multiple sclerosis handicaps treatment. Numerous theories have been considered such as vitamin or mineral deficiencies, circulatory disorders, allergy or viral infections. But none has withstood reliable scientific scrutiny.

MS sufferers are helped by adjusting to the disease and by not letting it interfere with what they want to do. A man of means, confined to a wheelchair because of the ailment, went on an extensive trip just to prove to himself that it could be done. Getting in and out of planes was difficult but he derived a world of satisfaction from knowing he was able to travel.

TOMORROW: The efficacy of tuberculosis treatment.

TONSIL REMOVAL

Mrs. Y. writes: My young son gets sore throat and the doctor says he needs to have his tonsils taken out. Is this a serious operation?

REPLY

No, considering the millions who have undergone the operation and survived. It is not advisable during the polio season, however. Send a stamped, self-addressed envelope for leaflet on tonsilectomy.

MASSAGE WON'T SHAPE

R. V. writes: Will massaging my legs with cocoa butter make them shapely?

REPLY

No, but it will keep the skin soft.

LEUKEMIA AMONG PHYSICIANS

C. W. writes: Is it true that more physicians die from leukemia than from any other cause?

REPLY

No. More physicians, as well as laymen, die from heart and vascular disease than from any other malady. At present, the occurrence of leukemia among physicians is higher than in other occupations and professions because in the earlier days of X-ray therapy, they did not know how to protect themselves.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me!

By Bennett Cerf

A well-known man-about-town took a girl friend for a late snack at a Broadway restaurant where he often dined and discovered when the time came to pay the check, he had no money at all with him. Then he spied a waiter he had known—and tipped well—for years at the other side of the room. Beckoning him, he whispered, "Joe, I left my money in my other suit. Will you lend me a ten-spot?" "I'm sorry," said the waiter coldly, "but this isn't my table."

Two character actresses who had been great stars in their day were gossiping over a salad at Sardi's. "I've discovered the greatest makeup artist in New York," boasted one. "In five minutes he made me look like an old hag." "You don't say!" exclaimed the other. "What did he do: change your perfume?"

Visiting Hollywood a few years before his death, French playwright Henri Bernstein was heard to observe: "Genius, geniuses everywhere I turn! If only there were some talent!"

There seems nothing so wistful, now that election day is over, than the smile on the campaign poster portrait of a defeated candidate.

The nicest thing about an early season snowfall, says Zadok Dumkopf, is that it covers the leaves you neglected to rake.

Pravda, Moscow's No. 1 Red sheet, criticizes all U. S. politicians. Nicest compliment they could possibly get.

It's the willing horse, according to an old saying, that gets the heaviest load. That, says Betcha Dollar Dier, who just dropped a bundle on a big handicap race, is the bitter truth.

A noted psychologist declares that one should always have music with one's meals. That's easy, all you need have is a dawn-to-dusk radio addict in the house.

'Refugee' In Russian Zone Known Here

William Clayton Turner, 32, U.S. Army headquarters in Heidleberg, Germany, who claims Water Valley, Miss., as his home address, and who the Soviet Information Service said was granted political asylum by Russian authorities in Austria, is remembered by a former sergeant in the local National Guard unit here.

Turner served in Company G in France and Germany in 1944 and 1945 and is remembered by H. Frank Hinze, who was first sergeant of the local guard unit from the time it was federalized until it returned to the United States.

Additional information which corroborated Hinze's recollections of the man was gained from John Love, formerly of here and now in Hagerstown, who left here as a private with Company G and was given a battlefield commission in September 1944.

It can rain when temperatures are well below freezing if a layer of warm air lies above the cold air just above the surface of the ground.

Organize your time by listing the things you have to do!

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

When you want something done, ask a busy person to do it. Chances are she'll fulfill her responsibilities capably and on schedule, because she's organized.

You may not want to be any busier, but wouldn't you like to accomplish some of your tasks in double-quick time? A good aid for organizing your own mind and activities is to make lists of things you wish to do, or to remember. A list is a memory prod that often makes a task seem less difficult. Besides, when the things you have to do confront you on paper, you're less likely to put them off or ignore them completely.

Good Examples

One Powers Girl starts her Saturday housecleaning over a second cup of coffee; she jots down a list of chores in order of their importance and ticks them off in that order. Another girl mentioned just this morning that she has completed redecorating her apartment—a job she couldn't seem to tackle until a listing of things to do put the whole project in focus.

In addition to the usual birthday, Christmas, and grocery lists, you might list all the out-of-season clothes you've put away. Then you'll know where to look for them when the weather changes again. This will help your spring wardrobe planning . . . you won't have to dig through trunks and boxes to see what's left from this year that's still wearable, and what accessories you'll need to supplement your wardrobe.

Be Practical

Of course, you can stretch this idea to absurdity. If you spend more time listing than doing, the result is not sense but nonsense. You'll gain in savings of time and effort only if your reminder is a crutch, not a cast.

Learn to make things easier for yourself, though, in such small ways as this, and you'll become less harried, more organized — and easier to get along with. You'll find time for the things you want to do because you aren't wasting so many minutes putting off the things you have to do.

YOUR BEAUTY DIET

No matter what your weight problem—whether you want to gain, lose or remain the same — YOUR BEAUTY DIET will provide you with a safe and sane pattern of laboratory-tested menus that can be followed by the entire family according to each individual's needs. YOUR BEAUTY DIET is a way of eating, not starving, and the tasteful, appetizing meals it contains require no extra planning or preparation. For the booklet, write to Secrets of Charm in care of this newspaper and enclose 10c in coin to help cover cost, plus stamped self-addressed envelope.

State Paid For $800 Gift To Queen Mother

BALTIMORE, Nov. 9 (AP)—Gov. McKeldin said today, in answer to a query, that money from the State treasury paid for an $800 gold and silver vase he gave yesterday to Queen Mother Elizabeth of England as a gift from Maryland.

"I guess it came from the contingent fund," he said.

The queen mother visited Annapolis Monday and was the guest of the Gov. and Mrs. McKeldin and the U. S. Naval Academy.

JAYNE'S P-W tablets KILL PIN-WORMS
(You may have them and not know it)
Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often tell-tale signs of Pin-Worms . . . ugly parasites that medical experts say infest one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.
To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do . . . and here's how they do it:
First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.
Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. At the first sign of Pin-Worms, ask your druggist for genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge . . . the small, easy-to-take tablets perfected by famous Dr. D. Jayne & Son, specialists in worm remedies for over 100 years.

'Refugee' In Russian Zone Known Here

William Clayton Turner, 32, U.S. Army headquarters in Heidleberg, Germany, who claims Water Valley, Miss., as his home address, and who the Soviet Information Service said was granted political asylum by Russian authorities in Austria, is remembered by a former sergeant in the local National Guard unit here.

Turner served in Company G in France and Germany in 1944 and 1945 and is remembered by H. Frank Hinze, who was first sergeant of the local guard unit from the time it was federalized until it returned to the United States.

Additional information which corroborated Hinze's recollections of the man was gained from John Love, formerly of here and now in Hagerstown, who left here as a private with Company G and was given a battlefield commission in September 1944.

It can rain when temperatures are well below freezing if a layer of warm air lies above the cold air just above the surface of the ground.

Organize your time by listing the things you have to do!

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

When you want something done, ask a busy person to do it. Chances are she'll fulfill her responsibilities capably and on schedule, because she's organized.

You may not want to be any busier, but wouldn't you like to accomplish some of your tasks in double-quick time? A good aid for organizing your own mind and activities is to make lists of things you wish to do, or to remember. A list is a memory prod that often makes a task seem less difficult. Besides, when the things you have to do confront you on paper, you're less likely to put them off or ignore them completely.

Good Examples

One Powers Girl starts her Saturday housecleaning over a second cup of coffee; she jots down a list of chores in order of their importance and ticks them off in that order. Another girl mentioned just this morning that she has completed redecorating her apartment—a job she couldn't seem to tackle until a listing of things to do put the whole project in focus.

In addition to the usual birthday, Christmas, and grocery lists, you might list all the out-of-season clothes you've put away. Then you'll know where to look for them when the weather changes again. This will help your spring wardrobe planning . . . you won't have to dig through trunks and boxes to see what's left from this year that's still wearable, and what accessories you'll need to supplement your wardrobe.

Be Practical

Of course, you can stretch this idea to absurdity. If you spend more time listing than doing, the result is not sense but nonsense. You'll gain in savings of time and effort only if your reminder is a crutch, not a cast.

Learn to make things easier for yourself, though, in such small ways as this, and you'll become less harried, more organized — and easier to get along with. You'll find time for the things you want to do because you aren't wasting so many minutes putting off the things you have to do.

YOUR BEAUTY DIET

No matter what your weight problem—whether you want to gain, lose or remain the same — YOUR BEAUTY DIET will provide you with a safe and sane pattern of laboratory-tested menus that can be followed by the entire family according to each individual's needs. YOUR BEAUTY DIET is a way of eating, not starving, and the tasteful, appetizing meals it contains require no extra planning or preparation. For the booklet, write to Secrets of Charm in care of this newspaper and enclose 10c in coin to help cover cost, plus stamped self-addressed envelope.

State Paid For $800 Gift To Queen Mother

BALTIMORE, Nov. 9 (AP)—Gov. McKeldin said today, in answer to a query, that money from the State treasury paid for an $800 gold and silver vase he gave yesterday to Queen Mother Elizabeth of England as a gift from Maryland.

"I guess it came from the contingent fund," he said.

The queen mother visited Annapolis Monday and was the guest of the Gov. and Mrs. McKeldin and the U. S. Naval Academy.

JAYNE'S P-W tablets KILL PIN-WORMS
(You may have them and not know it)
Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often tell-tale signs of Pin-Worms . . . ugly parasites that medical experts say infest one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.
To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do . . . and here's how they do it:
First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved, ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.
Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. At the first sign of Pin-Worms, ask your druggist for genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge . . . the small, easy-to-take tablets perfected by famous Dr. D. Jayne & Son, specialists in worm remedies for over 100 years.

Luke Man Held In County Jail On Two Charges

LUKE—A Luke man was arrested yesterday by State Police for Baltimore City authorities on a charge of larceny and impersonating a state trooper.

He is Roy L. VanMeter, 22, who was working as an elevator boy in a Baltimore hotel at the time of the alleged crimes. Van Meter was arrested by Trooper First Class Milton G. Hart and Cpl. William F. Baker, criminal investigator for the State Police.

According to the information sent here by Baltimore police, Van Meter made the acquaintance of Lonald R. McGlauflin, a sailor stationed at the Bainbridge Naval Training Station and told the serviceman that he was Trooper John Eroches, who is stationed at the Waterloo Barracks.

VanMeter borrowed the sailor's car, which contained a German camera, a Russian gun and two jackets valued at $225. After the Luke man returned the car the sailor discovered the articles were missing from the machine.

Van Meter is being held in the county jail for Baltimore authorities.

46% Students Eat Hot Lunches In Grant County

School Food Program Gains In Popularity

PETERSBURG — An average daily total of 970 pupils ate their noon meal in one of the 10 schools of Grant County during the first month of school. This hot lunch program, offered to pupils at a small fee, is in operation in all the schools of the county except Wise, Terra Firma, Bergdoll and Mt. Hope.

"This total represents 46 per cent of the pupils in the schools of the county," said Beverly Roby of the county superintendent's office, as she checked the statistics preparatory to forwarding them to state headquarters of the hot lunch program.

"As the weather gets colder, there will be a higher number of pupils eating the type A lunch," added the office secretary, "for you see the warm weather allows the pupils time to get downtown and other places for their meals. Last year, we had 40 per cent eating hot lunches the first month of school and already we have made an increase over that period."

The type A lunch consists of a half pint of raw milk; two ounces of lean meat, poultry, fish or cheese; or one half cup of dried peas, beans or one egg; or four tablespoons of peanut butter; three fourths cup of raw, cooked or canned vegetables and or fruit; a portion of bread, muffin, or hot bread and two teaspoons of butter or fortified margarine.

This program is operated out of the money received from the students and teachers who pay nominal fee for the meal, plus food items received gratus from the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Food items received have included beefs and gravy, peas, cotton seed oil, butter, cheese, beans etc.

Cooks are employed locally to operate these school kitchens and food is purchased from local stores and markets. All equipment used in the kitchens was purchased through hot lunch funds except in some cases the Board of Education helped with allotments.

Fire Control Men Named In Tucker County

PARSONS — Joe L. Beymer, of Philippi, county forester, has announced the forest fire control organization for the Division of Forestry of the Conservation Commission for Tucker County. The forest fire season opened on October 1, and will continue until December 31, as set by the state legislature. All local residents are asked to use every precaution and safety device known to prevent grass and forest fires. All forest fires should be reported to the nearest local protector.

The appointed men have the responsibility of controlling forest fires in their areas and the authority to require citizens to help fight forest fires in their respective communities. They include:

Demenico Redo of Albert; Lenton Helmick of Benbush; Dan Lawrence of Dry Fork; Leo Harper of Leadmine; Burley H. Bohon of Parsons; John Nared and Dewey Lansberry of Pierce, Casper Bonner of Red Creek.

Rev. R. W. Morrow, Jr., Belmont S. Cleaver, M. L. Cooper, Malone Gaynor, Ben F. Thompson, Lloyd Winters, Milford Sponaugle, and Clyde Drenning of Davis; Foster Bland, Bert Pase, and Edgar Breedlove of Thomas.

Frank Ashby, Sr., Clarence Auvil, George R. Ball, Wilbert Ball, Robert Cline, Earl Fike, Elmer Lipscomb, Wayne Goff, Thomas Loughry, Jerry Nestor, Stanley B. Nestor, Harry Poling and Nelson A. Williams of St. George.

Messengers throughout the county are Isaac Paugh of Benbush, Belmont S. Cleaver of Davis; Burley Bohon, Parsons; Ronald Helmick and Dan Lawrence, and members of the State Road Commission.

County and district officers to whom forest fires may be reported include Lester Miller, conservation officer of Parsons; Alvin C. Allison, state nursery superintendent, and Asbury Cleaver, custodian of Blackwater Falls, State Park in Davis.

Parsons Man Weds German Girl In Trier

PARSONS—Mr. and Mrs. Wilhelm Weigand of Trier, Germany are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Ursual Marie, to Kenneth R. Pittman, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Pittman of Parsons.

The double ring ceremony was performed in St. Paul's Church in Trier, on October 6, at 11 o'clock with the alter decorated with pink chrysanthemums. Bishop R. H. Stein officiated.

Mrs. Ruth Kasunk, Munich Opera Singer presented a program of nuptial music during the ceremony and also sang "Ava Maria" and "Deep Like the Ocean is My Love".

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a ballerina length gown of brocaded satin, the gown was fashioned with a full skirt and her shoulder length veil of nylon net was attached to a coronet of satin and pearls. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Miss Christine Lihsfeld, a friend of the bride was Maid of Honor and wore a gown of black satin with a corsage of pink rosebuds.

Richard Juergens of Kansas City, Mo., served the bridegroom as best man.

Immediately following the wedding a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents with the bridegroom's mother receiving the guests. Miss Romy Ames, presided at the reception. The wedding cake was served by Dr. Paula Baun-Friederitzy and punch was served by Dr. Hans Fischer, uncle of the bride.

The bride is a graduate of Ursulinen-Schule of Tier. Before her marriage she was employed by Schmitt Sudio of Trier as a photographer.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Parsons high school and is now serving with the U. S. Air Force in Germany.

The couple spent a honeymoon in the Swiss Alps and Venice. For her going away attire the bride wore a gray suit and hat with black accessories. The couple will reside in Tier until the completion of Pittman's enlistment and then will come to the United States.

Tri-Towns Drive To Aid Needy Is Termed Best Yet

WESTERNPORT—Several hundred dollars in foodstuff was gathered Saturday in the Tri-Towns Area for the United Organizations, to be used for the needy. Also $17.45 in cash and some clothing and miscellaneous items were received.

Wayne Ritchie, chairman of the United Organizations stated this was the most successful drive for the organization that has yet been conducted.

The house to house pick-up was made by five Boy Scout troops; seven Girl Scout troops and one cub-pack under the direction of Alton R. Fortney, Luke.

Dr. Atwater Addresses Women's Club

PIEDMONT—Dr. Elizabeth Atwater, member of the faculty of Potomac State College, Keyser, was principal speaker at the meeting of the Piedmont Woman's Club recently in the Piedmont Library.

She spoke on "Public Relations." Dr. Nancy Miller, past president of the Keyser Woman's Club, also a member of Potomac State faculty was a guest.

The club agreed to be responsible for a pair of shoes for a needy school child as requested by the United Organizations, through its chairman, Wayne Ritchie.

The committee on public affairs was in charge of the program, and includes Mrs. Mervin High, chairman, Mrs. Madeline Elliott, Mrs. Lena McNemar, Mrs. Agnes Tibbits and Mrs. Laura Kelly.

A Christmas party will be held at the next meeting Thursday December 2, Mrs. Catherine Ledlow, president, announces. Jingle gifts will be exchanged and each member is asked to bring an article of food for a Christmas basket to be turned over to the United Organizations for distribution to a needy family. The Welfare committee will be in charge of the program. Mrs. Edrie Pence, is chairman of the committee.

46% Students Eat Hot Lunches In Grant County

School Food Program Gains In Popularity

PETERSBURG — An average daily total of 970 pupils ate their noon meal in one of the 10 schools of Grant County during the first month of school. This hot lunch program, offered to pupils at a small fee, is in operation in all the schools of the county except Wise, Terra Firma, Bergdoll and Mt. Hope.

"This total represents 46 per cent of the pupils in the schools of the county," said Beverly Roby of the county superintendent's office, as she checked the statistics preparatory to forwarding them to state headquarters of the hot lunch program.

"As the weather gets colder, there will be a higher number of pupils eating the type A lunch," added the office secretary, "for you see the warm weather allows the pupils time to get downtown and other places for their meals. Last year, we had 40 per cent eating hot lunches the first month of school and already we have made an increase over that period."

The type A lunch consists of a half pint of raw milk; two ounces of lean meat, poultry, fish or cheese; or one half cup of dried peas, beans or one egg; or four tablespoons of peanut butter; three fourths cup of raw, cooked or canned vegetables and or fruit; a portion of bread, muffin, or hot bread and two teaspoons of butter or fortified margarine.

This program is operated out of the money received from the students and teachers who pay nominal fee for the meal, plus food items received gratus from the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Food items received have included beefs and gravy, peas, cotton seed oil, butter, cheese, beans etc.

Cooks are employed locally to operate these school kitchens and food is purchased from local stores and markets. All equipment used in the kitchens was purchased through hot lunch funds except in some cases the Board of Education helped with allotments.

Fire Control Men Named In Tucker County

PARSONS — Joe L. Beymer, of Philippi, county forester, has announced the forest fire control organization for the Division of Forestry of the Conservation Commission for Tucker County. The forest fire season opened on October 1, and will continue until December 31, as set by the state legislature. All local residents are asked to use every precaution and safety device known to prevent grass and forest fires. All forest fires should be reported to the nearest local protector.

The appointed men have the responsibility of controlling forest fires in their areas and the authority to require citizens to help fight forest fires in their respective communities. They include:

Demenico Redo of Albert; Lenton Helmick of Benbush; Dan Lawrence of Dry Fork; Leo Harper of Leadmine; Burley H. Bohon of Parsons; John Nared and Dewey Lansberry of Pierce, Casper Bonner of Red Creek.

Rev. R. W. Morrow, Jr., Belmont S. Cleaver, M. L. Cooper, Malone Gaynor, Ben F. Thompson, Lloyd Winters, Milford Sponaugle, and Clyde Drenning of Davis; Foster Bland, Bert Pase, and Edgar Breedlove of Thomas.

Frank Ashby, Sr., Clarence Auvil, George R. Ball, Wilbert Ball, Robert Cline, Earl Fike, Elmer Lipscomb, Wayne Goff, Thomas Loughry, Jerry Nestor, Stanley B. Nestor, Harry Poling and Nelson A. Williams of St. George.

Messengers throughout the county are Isaac Paugh of Benbush, Belmont S. Cleaver of Davis; Burley Bohon, Parsons; Ronald Helmick and Dan Lawrence, and members of the State Road Commission.

County and district officers to whom forest fires may be reported include Lester Miller, conservation officer of Parsons; Alvin C. Allison, state nursery superintendent, and Asbury Cleaver, custodian of Blackwater Falls, State Park in Davis.

Parsons Man Weds German Girl In Trier

PARSONS—Mr. and Mrs. Wilhelm Weigand of Trier, Germany are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Ursual Marie, to Kenneth R. Pittman, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Pittman of Parsons.

The double ring ceremony was performed in St. Paul's Church in Trier, on October 6, at 11 o'clock with the alter decorated with pink chrysanthemums. Bishop R. H. Stein officiated.

Mrs. Ruth Kasunk, Munich Opera Singer presented a program of nuptial music during the ceremony and also sang "Ava Maria" and "Deep Like the Ocean is My Love".

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a ballerina length gown of brocaded satin, the gown was fashioned with a full skirt and her shoulder length veil of nylon net was attached to a coronet of satin and pearls. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Miss Christine Lihsfeld, a friend of the bride was Maid of Honor and wore a gown of black satin with a corsage of pink rosebuds.

Richard Juergens of Kansas City, Mo., served the bridegroom as best man.

Immediately following the wedding a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents with the bridegroom's mother receiving the guests. Miss Romy Ames, presided at the reception. The wedding cake was served by Dr. Paula Baun-Friederitzy and punch was served by Dr. Hans Fischer, uncle of the bride.

The bride is a graduate of Ursulinen-Schule of Tier. Before her marriage she was employed by Schmitt Sudio of Trier as a photographer.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Parsons high school and is now serving with the U. S. Air Force in Germany.

The couple spent a honeymoon in the Swiss Alps and Venice. For her going away attire the bride wore a gray suit and hat with black accessories. The couple will reside in Tier until the completion of Pittman's enlistment and then will come to the United States.

S. S. League Opens Saturday; Turkey Day Grid Officials Named

Hudson Is Back-Of-The-Week, Cited 5th Time In Three Years

Ties Kirtley, Beard, Beightol; Dougherty Named Top Lineman

HAROLD HUDSON

MIKE DOUGHERTY

Harold Hudson, LaSalle fullback, and leading scorer, yesterday equalled a record held by Bob Kirtley, of Allegany, and Dickie Beard and Lynn Beightol, of Fort Hill, when he was chosen Back-of-the-Week for the third time this season for his brilliant performance Friday night in the Explorers' 32-6 victory over Ridgeley High's Blackhawks.

Kirtley was selected three times during the 1953 season, Beard was chosen in 1951 and Beightol was named thrice in 1950.

Selection of Hudson the third time by the Knights of Columbus Selection Committee increased to five the number of times he has been honored over three seasons. He was named once in 1952 and once in 1953.

Hudson gained 138 yards in 15 carries against Ridgeley, scored two touchdowns, one on a 38-yard gallop, and booted two extra points from placement. He also had runs of 27 and 19 yards and snared a 14-yard aerial uncorked by Bill Buzzard.

Quarterback Bill Buzzard and Halfbacks Ken Lowery and Mickey Bush, of LaSalle, and Ridgeley's George Earnest and Ronnie Phillips also were mentioned in the balloting for backs.

Mike Dougherty, LaSalle junior end, was named Linemen-of-the-Week yesterday by the K. of C. Selection Committee of sportswriters and sportscasters.

He was cited for his offensive and defensive play against the Blackhawks Friday night. He made a number of nice tackles, caught a pass thrown by Buzzard for an 18-yard gain and started the Explorers on the way to their fourth touchdown with a nice runback of a short kickoff. He is LaSalle's first lineman nominated for the Player of the Year Award this year.

LaSalle was the only Cumberland school playing at home over the weekend and will occupy the spotlight for the second straight week when Altoona Catholic is met here Friday night.

Here are the players cited thus far as candidates for the annual award:

LINEMEN—Mike Dougherty, LaSalle; Dale Hillegas, Kenneth Poling and Jack Andrews, Fort Hill; Barry Sterner, Rodney Breedlove, Dick Johnson and Carl Brown, Allegany.

Navy, Iowa Make Top 10 In Grid Poll

UCLA Retains Lead, Miami, Purdue Drop

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

What keeps the UCLA Bruins in championship form?

Coach Red Sanders was asked that today after his smooth, powerful club gained the No. 1 national ranking for the second straight week in The Associated Press poll of sports writers and broadcasters.

His answer: Teamwork.

"There are two things that go to making up a good football team," the affable coach said, "enough good football players and a fine staff of assistants. I happen to be blessed with both."

Observers might add that a solid job of coaching has as much importance.

The Bruins, undefeated in eight games, have rolled up 333 points—to 40, for a new school record.

An even 300 votes were tabulated in the poll this week and 117 had the high scoring Uclans in first place as compared with 80 for Ohio State, which drew the second spot, followed by Oklahoma, Arkansas, Notre Dame and Army. Rounding out the top 10 in order are Mississippi, Southern California, Iowa and Navy.

Miami of Florida and Purdue both dropped out of the top 10. The Hurricanes were beaten by Auburn and Purdue took a 25-14 beating from Iowa. With that victory the Hawkeyes moved into the select group along with Navy's middies, who beat Duke 40-7.

The leading teams with first place votes and season's records in parentheses (points based on 10 first place, 9, 8 etc.)

1. UCLA (117)	8-0	2,660
2. Ohio State (8)	7-0	2,594
3. Oklahoma (44)	7-0	2,292
4. Arkansas (43)	7-0	2,207
5. Notre Dame (3)	5-1	1,480
6. Army (4)	6-1	1,452
7. Mississippi (5)	7-1	729
8. Southern California	7-1	672
9. Iowa	5-2	564
10. Navy	5-2	495

The Second Ten:

11. Miami (Fla	6-1	168
12. Cincinnati	8-0	155
13. Minnesota	6-1	148
14. Wisconsin	5-2	110

28 Cage Teams To See Action On Two Courts

Evening Contests Planned In Order To Shorten Season

Twenty-eight of the 29 teams of the YMCA Sunday School Basketball League will launch their 27th season on Saturday in games scheduled for the "Y" and Allegany High School courts, it was announced last night by Clifton Van Roby, secretary-treasurer, following a meeting at the YMCA.

A plan to split the league into two divisions was abandoned and a committee appointed by President Ralph Wimer to study the scheduling policy and structure of the league recommended that three or possibly four rounds of games be played during early evening hours instead of prolonging the regular season until April. This means that two, three or four games will be played between the hours of 5 and 8 p. m. until a round of games (14) would be completed. During a week of "picking up" these games practice sessions would be eliminated.

It was noted that there are 19 Saturday dates between Nov. 13 and April 2. Five Christmas holiday dates will be utilized as well as one Thanksgiving holiday date. To complete play earlier than heretofore three or four rounds would have to be completed during the course of the season.

Members attending the meeting were President Wimer, Roby, William Orndorff, Russell Minnicks, Paul Fisher and Arthur Davis.

New teams in this season's race are Living Stone Church of the Brethren, Centenary Methodist and Pentecostal Holiness.

Opening games Saturday are as follows:

AT YMCA:

Centre St. Methodist drew bye.
12 noon—St. John's vs. United Brethren.
12:55—Trinity Methodist vs. Calvary.
1:50—First Baptist vs. Presbyterian.
2:45—Emmanuel Methodist vs. Living Stone.
3:45—St. Matthew's vs. Holy Cross Episcopal.
4:35—First Methodist vs. Trinity Lutheran.
5:30—Park Place vs. Centenary.

AT ALLEGANY HIGH:

11 a. m.—LaVale Methodist vs. Central.
12 noon—Melvin Methodist vs. Maccabees.
12:55—Cresaptown vs. St. Luke's.
1:50—LaVale Baptist vs. Wiley Ford Nazarene.
2:45—Grace Baptist vs. Kingsley Methodist.
3:40—First Christian vs. Episcopal.
4:35—Grace Methodist vs. Pentecostal Holiness.

Lightweights Matched

NEW YORK, Nov. 9 (AP)—Frankie Ryff, undefeated New York lightweight, and veteran Orlando Zulueta of Cuba today were signed for a 10-round bout at Madison Square Garden, Dec. 3.

One of the finest 135-pound prospects developed in this area in several years, Ryff now is rated the No. 6 contender. Zulueta, who lost an unpopular split decision to Kenny Lane at St. Nicholas Arena Monday night, is ranked No. 4.

INJURED during the game with Penn in Philadelphia, Dick Szymanski, Notre Dame center, is reported out of danger after undergoing an emergency operation for a ruptured spleen. Szymanski, from Toledo, O., will be out the rest of the season. (International)

Supreme Court To Hear Boxing Monopoly Case

Government Suit Names IBC Outfits

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 (AP)—The government goes before the Supreme Court tomorrow in a move aimed at breaking up what the Justice Department labels a monopoly in boxing.

The high court set aside two hours tomorrow afternoon for argument of the case in which the department contends the International Boxing Clubs of New York and Illinois, Madison Square Garden and their directors are violating the nation's anti-trust laws.

This action is an appeal from a ruling by the U. S. District Court for the Southern District of New York, which used the Supreme Court's historic baseball rulings as its basis for throwing out the government's suit.

In addition to the Garden and the two IBC outfits, the government's suit names as defendants James D. Norris, president of boxing clubs in New York and Chicago, and Arthur M. Wirtz, who is Norris' partner in running the Chicago Stadium and its subsidiaries.

Attorneys for the defendants maintain that since the Supreme Court has ruled baseball not subject to the anti-trust laws, the government has no right to bring monopoly charges against boxing.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Stanley N. Barnes replied that baseball and boxing are "markedly different" in the way in which they make their money.

Art Goldchien Will Referee City Contest

"Chick" Weihl, Noah And Newt Anderson Are Other Arbiters

Four West Virginia officials will handle the Fort Hill-Allegany football game at the stadium on Thanksgiving Day, it was announced last night by the local schools.

The arbiters will be the same as last year, namely, Art Goldchien, of Salem, referee; Noah Anderson, Shinnston, umpire; Fred "Chick" Weihl, Weston, field judge, and Newt Anderson, Buckhannon, head linesman.

Weihl is principal of Weston High School and is treasurer of the West Virginia High School Athletic Association while Newt Anderson is principal of Buckhannon High School.

The 1953 game which the four officiated here ended in a 7-7 deadlock. Allegany's last win over Fort Hill on Turkey Day was in 1945. The 1948 game also ended in a 6-6 tie.

Reserved seat tickets for the game went on sale Monday and may be purchased at both schools, Wilson Hardware Company and Truitt Drug Store. The price is $1.50, plus five cents City Recreation tax. General admission pasteboards are $1 each.

Fort Hill yesterday named Halfback Bob Andrews and Quarterback Jerry Landis as co-captains for the big game. Both seniors, they also will be honorary captains for the year.

No more games appear on the Allegany and Fort Hill schedules prior to their meeting on Thursday, November 25.

Blues' Successor To Retain Farms

NEW YORK, Nov. 9 (AP)—The new Kansas City franchise in the American League will keep the three minor league clubs owned by it predecessor — Ottawa, Savannah, Ga., and Lancaster, Pa.—as a nucleus for an expanded farm system.

Lancaster is in the Class B Piedmont League.

Denver May Replace Kansas City Blues

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 9 (AP)—An American Association realignment meeting today was scheduled for next Monday or Tuesday in Chicago.

Association President Ed Doherty said he expects his directors to decide upon a replacement for Kansas City. The American League yesterday approved transfer of the Philadelphia Athletics franchise to Kansas City.

League Plans Luncheon

The Bi-State Pony Baseball League will hold a luncheon Sunday, November 28, at 2 p. m. in the Midland Fire Hall.

ACCORDING to reports, Lou Boudreau, ousted as manager of the Boston Red Sox, is in line to pilot the Kansas City team in the American league.

Willie Clark Goes To Jail

Jockey Starts 30-Day Term At Hagerstown

HAGERSTOWN, Nov. 9 (AP) — Willie Clark, a popular jockey on the half-mile track circuit, returned to Hagerstown today to start a 30-day jail term imposed last Aug. 17.

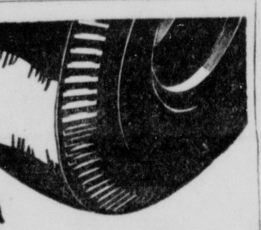

Clark was fined $500, which he paid, on a drunken driving charge and sentenced to the 30-day term on a charge of driving on a revoked license while he waas riding at the Hagerstown track last summer.

He took an appeal on the jail sentence, however, to allow himself time to finish out the season on the half-mile tracks. His 30-day term will be up in time for him to get to the opening of the Charles Town Track's winter meet.

Clark told authorities he was a pretty good cook and will work in the county jail kitchen while serving his term.

'Refugee' In Russian Zone Known Here

William Clayton Turner, 32, U.S. Army headquarters in Heidleberg, Germany, who claims Water Valley, Miss., as his home address, and who the Soviet Information Service said was granted political asylum by Russian authorities in Austria, is remembered by a former sergeant in the local National Guard unit here.

Turner served in Company G in France and Germany in 1944 and 1945 and is remembered by H. Frank Hinze, who was first sergeant of the local guard unit from the time it was federalized until it returned to the United States.

Additional information which corroborated Hinze's recollections of the man was gained from John Love, formerly of here and now in Hagerstown, who left here as a private with Company G and was given a battlefield commission in September 1944.

It can rain when temperatures are well below freezing if a layer of warm air lies above the cold air just above the surface of the ground.

Organize your time by listing the things you have to do!

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

When you want something done, ask a busy person to do it. Chances are she'll fulfill her responsibilities capably and on schedule, because she's organized.

You may not want to be any busier, but wouldn't you like to accomplish some of your tasks in double-quick time? A good aid for organizing your own mind and activities is to make lists of things you wish to do, or to remember. A list is a memory prod that often makes a task seem less difficult. Besides, when the things you have to do confront you on paper, you're less likely to put them off or ignore them completely.

Good Examples

One Powers Girl starts her Saturday housecleaning over a second cup of coffee; she jots down a list of chores in order of their importance and ticks them off in that order. Another girl mentioned just this morning that she has completed redecorating her apartment—a job she couldn't seem to tackle until a listing of things to do put the whole project in focus.

In addition to the usual birthday, Christmas, and grocery lists, you might list all the out-of-season clothes you've put away. Then you'll know where to look for them when the weather changes again. This will help your spring wardrobe planning . . . you won't have to dig through trunks and boxes to see what's left from this year that's still wearable, and what accessories you'll need to supplement your wardrobe.

Be Practical

Of course, you can stretch this idea to absurdity. If you spend more time listing than doing, the result is not sense but nonsense. You'll gain in savings of time and effort only if your reminder is a crutch, not a cast.

Learn to make things easier for yourself, though, in such small ways as this, and you'll become less harried, more organized — and easier to get along with. You'll find time for the things you want to do because you aren't wasting so many minutes putting off the things you have to do.

YOUR BEAUTY DIET

No matter what your weight problem—whether you want to gain, lose or remain the same — YOUR BEAUTY DIET will provide you with a safe and sane pattern of laboratory-tested menus that can be followed by the entire family according to each individual's needs. YOUR BEAUTY DIET is a way of eating, not starving, and the tasteful, appetizing meals it contains require no extra planning or preparation! For the booklet, write to Secrets of Charm in care of this newspaper and enclose 10c in coin to help cover cost, plus stamped self-addressed envelope.

State Paid For $800 Gift To Queen Mother

BALTIMORE, Nov. 9 (AP)—Gov. McKeldin said today, in answer to a query, that money from the State treasury paid for an $800 gold and silver vase he gave yesterday to Queen Mother Elizabeth of England as a gift from Maryland.

"I guess it came from the contingent fund," he said.

The queen mother visited Annapolis Monday and was the guest of the Gov. and Mrs. McKeldin and the U. S. Naval Academy.

JAYNE'S P-W tablets KILL PIN-WORMS
(You may have them and not know it)
Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms... ugly parasites that medical experts say infest one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.
To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do ... and here's how they do it:
First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.
Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. At the first sign of Pin-Worms, ask your druggist for genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge... the small, easy-to-take tablets perfected by famous Dr. D. Jayne & Son, specialists in worm remedies for over 100 years.

Valley High Lands Four On WMI All-Star Soccer Team

Waddell, Mundeno, Brown, Wilson Picked By Coaches

Kertesz, Montgomery and Salesky Of Bruce Named; Two Teams Chosen

Valley High School's undefeated soccer team was voted four places on the first All-Star team selected by coaches of the W.M.I. League at a meeting on Monday night.

Players of the championship team honored were Richard Waddell, fullback; Bobby Mundeno, halfback; Randall Brown and Jim Wilson, lineman, all of whom have played their final game for Coach John Meyers' booting aggregation.

Bruce High placed three on the all-star aggregation, namely, Bob Kertesz, "Kip" Montgomery and Billy Salesky. Kenny Johnson and Gene Wilson were the Beall players to land places as did Chester Devore, the Mt. Savage goalie, and Kenny Lough, Flintstone High's fullback.

Valley High dominated the second all-star array with five places. Three Beall, two Flintstone and one each from Mt. Savage and Bruce made the second team of 12 players. A tie vote resulted in the naming of two goalies, Les Hennen of Flintstone, and Bill Richmond, of Valley.

Nine of the 11 players on the first team and eight of the 12 on the second are seniors. The selections:

FROSTBURG, Nov. 9 — Gene Wilson's field goal in the third period gave Beall High School a 1-0 decision over Bruce High of Westernport today and enabled Coach "Ebbie" Finzel's Mountaineers to finish in second place as the W.M.I. Soccer League season drew to a close.

Wilson headed the ball between the uprights for the game's only score following a corner kick by Jim Green, Beall's outside left. It was the eighth point tallied this season by Wilson and enabled the Beall High center forward to tie Jack Mongold of Valley High for high scoring honors for the the 28th campaign of the county circuit.

Beall concluded its campaign with a 5-3 record while Bruce won three and lost four. Bruce's postponed game with Mt. Savage has been cancelled.

Ronnie Rice, Kenny Johnson, Gene Wilson and Jim Green, of Beall, and Bob Kertesz and Robert "Kip" Montgomery of Bruce were the game's outstanding players.

Valley High won the championship last week with an 8-0 record. It was the second straight title won by the Lonaconing school. The lineups:

Boudreau Is Top Candidate For Job As Pilot Of A's

NEW YORK, Nov. 9 (AP) — Lou Boudreau remained the leading candidate for the job of managing the new Kansas City Athletics today as Owner Arnold Johnson announced he expected to fill the job and also name a general manager within a week.

Johnson said he expected to talk with Joe Cronin, Boston Red Sox general manager who fired Boudreau after the 1954 season. Boudreau had another year to go on his contract at $45,000 a year.

Johnson didn't close the book with Boudreau, however. He said he expected to talk with several others. Asked about the status of Eddie Jost, the 1954 manager, he said he still was under consideration.

"I have made some inquiries about a general manager," he said. "But I definitely have not offered anybody a job."

Luke Man Held In County Jail On Two Charges

LUKE—A Luke man was arrested yesterday by State Police for Baltimore City authorities on a charge of larceny and impersonating a state trooper.

He is Roy L. VanMeter, 22, who was working as an elevator boy in a Baltimore hotel at the time of the alleged crimes. Van Meter was arrested by Trooper First Class Milton G. Hart and Cpl. William F. Baker, criminal investigator for the State Police.

According to the information sent here by Baltimore police, Van Meter made the acquaintance of Lonald R. McGlauflin, a sailor stationed at the Bainbridge Naval Training Station and told the serviceman that he was Trooper John Eroches, who is stationed at the Waterloo Barracks.

VanMeter borrowed the sailor's car, which contained a German camera, a Russian gun and two jackets valued at $225. After the Luke man returned the car the sailor discovered the articles were missing from the machine.

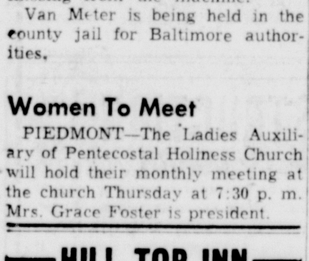

Van Meter is being held in the county jail for Baltimore authorities.

Tri-Towns Drive To Aid Needy Is Termed Best Yet

WESTERNPORT—Several hundred dollars in foodstuff was gathered Saturday in the Tri-Towns Area for the United Organizations, to be used for the needy. Also $17.45 in cash and some clothing and miscellaneous items were received.

Wayne Ritchie, chairman of the United Organizations stated this was the most successful drive for the organization that has yet been conducted.

The house to house pick-up was made by five Boy Scout troops; seven Girl Scout troops and one cub-pack under the direction of Alton R. Fortney, Luke.

Dr. Atwater Addresses Women's Club

PIEDMONT—Dr. Elizabeth Atwater, member of the faculty of Potomac State College, Keyser, was principal speaker at the meeting of the Piedmont Woman's Club recently in the Piedmont Library.

She spoke on "Public Relations." Dr. Nancy Miller, past president of the Keyser Woman's Club, also a member of Potomac State faculty was a guest.

The club agreed to be responsible for a pair of shoes for a needy school child as requested by the United Organizations, through its chairman, Wayne Ritchie.

The committee on public affairs was in charge of the program, and includes Mrs. Mervin High, chairman, Mrs. Madeline Elliott, Mrs. Lena McNemar, Mrs. Agnes Tibbits and Mrs. Laura Kelly.

A Christmas party will be held at the next meeting Thursday December 2, Mrs. Catherine Ledlow, president, announces. Jingle gifts will be exchanged and each member is asked to bring an article of food for a Christmas basket to be turned over to the United Organizations for distribution to a needy family. The Welfare committee will be in charge of the program. Mrs. Edrie Pence, is chairman of the committee.

46% Students Eat Hot Lunches In Grant County

School Food Program Gains In Popularity

PETERSBURG — An average daily total of 970 pupils ate their noon meal in one of the 10 schools of Grant County during the first month of school. This hot lunch program, offered to pupils at a small fee, is in operation in all the schools of the county except Wise, Terra Firma, Bergdoll and Mt. Hope.

"This total represents 46 per cent of the pupils in the schools of the county," said Beverly Roby of the county superintendent's office, as she checked the statistics preparatory to forwarding them to state headquarters of the hot lunch program.

"As the weather gets colder, there will be a higher number of pupils eating the type A lunch," added the office secretary, "for you see the warm weather allows the pupils time to get downtown and other places for their meals. Last year, we had 40 per cent eating hot lunches the first month of school and already we have made an increase over that period."

The type A lunch consists of a half pint of raw milk; two ounces of lean meat, poultry, fish or cheese; or one half cup of dried peas, beans or one egg; or four tablespoons of peanut butter; three fourths cup of raw, cooked or canned vegetables and or fruit; a portion of bread, muffin, or hot bread and two teaspoons of butter or fortified margarine.

This program is operated out of the money received from the students and teachers who pay nominal fee for the meal, plus food items received gratus from the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Food items received have included beefs and gravy, peas, cotton seed oil, butter, cheese, beans etc.

Cooks are employed locally to operate these school kitchens and food is purchased from local stores and markets. All equipment used in the kitchens was purchased through hot lunch funds except in some cases the Board of Education helped with allotments.

Fire Control Men Named In Tucker County

PARSONS — Joe L. Beymer, of Philippi, county forester, has announced the forest fire control organization for the Division of Forestry of the Conservation Commission for Tucker County. The forest fire season opened on October 1, and will continue until December 31, as set by the state legislature. All local residents are asked to use every precaution and safety device known to prevent grass and forest fires. All forest fires should be reported to the nearest local protector.

The appointed men have the responsibility of controlling forest fires in their areas and the authority to require citizens to help fight forest fires in their respective communities. They include:

Demenico Redo of Albert; Lenton Helmick of Benbush; Dan Lawrence of Dry Fork; Leo Harper of Leadmine; Burley H. Bohon of Parsons; John Nared and Dewey Lansberry of Pierce, Casper Bonner of Red Creek.

Rev. R. W. Morrow, Jr., Belmont S. Cleaver, M. L. Cooper, Malone Gaynor, Ben F. Thompson, Lloyd Winters, Milford Sponaugle, and Clyde Drenning of Davis; Foster Bland, Bert Pase, and Edgar Breedlove of Thomas.

Frank Ashby, Sr., Clarence Auvil, George R. Ball, Wilbert Ball, Robert Cline, Earl Fike, Elmer Lipscomb, Wayne Goff, Thomas Loughry, Jerry Nestor, Stanley B. Nestor, Harry Poling and Nelson A. Williams of St. George.

Messengers throughout the county are Isaac Paugh of Benbush, Belmont S. Cleaver of Davis; Burley Bohon, Parsons; Ronald Helmick and Dan Lawrence, and members of the State Road Commission.

County and district officers to whom forest fires may be reported include Lester Miller, conservation officer of Parsons; Alvin C. Allison, state nursery superintendent, and Asbury Cleaver, custodian of Blackwater Falls, State Park in Davis.

Parsons Man Weds German Girl In Trier

PARSONS—Mr. and Mrs. Wilhelm Weigand of Trier, Germany are announcing the marriage of their daughter, Ursual Marie, to Kenneth R. Pittman, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Pittman of Parsons.

The double ring ceremony was performed in St. Paul's Church in Trier, on October 6, at 11 o'clock with the alter decorated with pink chrysanthemums. Bishop R. H. Stein officiated.

Mrs. Ruth Kasunk, Munich Opera Singer presented a program of nuptial music during the ceremony and also sang "Ava Maria" and "Deep Like the Ocean is My Love".

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a ballerina length gown of brocaded satin, the gown was fashioned with a full skirt and her shoulder length veil of nylon net was attached to a coronet of satin and pearls. She carried a bouquet of pink carnations.

Miss Christine Lihsfeld, a friend of the bride was Maid of Honor and wore a gown of black satin with a corsage of pink rosebuds.

Richard Juergens of Kansas City, Mo., served the bridegroom as best man.

Immediately following the wedding a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents with the bridegroom's mother receiving the guests. Miss Romy Ames, presided at the reception. The wedding cake was served by Dr. Paula Baun-Friederitzy and punch was served by Dr. Hans Fischer, uncle of the bride.

The bride is a graduate of Ursulinen-Schule of Tier. Before her marriage she was employed by Schmitt Sudio of Trier as a photographer.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Parsons high school and is now serving with the U. S. Air Force in Germany.

The couple spent a honeymoon in the Swiss Alps and Venice. For her going away attire the bride wore a gray suit and hat with black accessories. The couple will reside in Tier until the completion of Pittman's enlistment and then will come to the United States.

The Election

Well, another election has come and gone, leaving its memories and its problems. For my money, the high point of the election coverage came when James Roosevelt was being interviewed about his victory in California.

Mr. Roosevelt, beaming, opined that he was very happy about the victory and declared that he had just congratulated his brother, Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., on his victory for the attorney-generalship of New York State. The CBS picture then bounced back to Walter Cronkite in New York who declared somewhat grumpily that he wished one candidate would stop talking about the victories of other candidates.

"This doesn't square with our information at all," he said wearily. "At last report, Mr. Roosevelt was not winning the race here in New York; he was trailing." And, as a matter of fact, young Franklin Roosevelt lost. But that's the way things went all night long. Come to think of it, the congratulations to James Roosevelt in California were a little premature, too. Later returns showed that the race was far from over there, though Roosevelt did win eventually.

This was one of the most puzzling, one of the most exciting and one of the most unpredictable elections to come along in years and it highlighted television's great strength and its weakness at this sort of thing. The great strength is the immediacy. The moment returns are in they are on the air. Under normal conditions, a trend is established fairly early in the evening and then any veteran political newscaster can talk at great length about the fact that, well, the upstate farm vote has not been heard from yet but on the other hand don't expect too much from the upstate farm vote, either. That's the tipoff. And sure enough when the upstate farm vote comes in, it isn't enough.

News commentators on radio and television are fairly expert, very early in the vote counting, at detecting who is in and who isn't. But they are also very expert at maintaining the suspense—after all, they're going to be on the air for hours—until the folks at home dicide for themselves that Congressman X is a shoo-in and go to bed. Or until Congressman Y concedes.

But this time congressmen were conceding elections long before they had any right to. The speed of modern communications is a wonderful thing but it does create problems. The people feel that they have to jump to conclusions as fast as the machinery feeds them the statistics.

Fortunately, the wiser heads among the newscasters were not stampeded. Long after UNIVAC, the Remington-Rand electric brain used on CBS, had forecast a Democratic sweep, the more mortal brains of Eric Sevareid and Edward R. Murrow were advising us all to take it easy, that it wasn't over yet. And it wasn't by a long shot.

Technically, CBS, which went into this election much more thoroughly than anyone else, did a superb job. The pictures jumped from New York to California and back again, from one headquarters to another, from one race to another—hour after hour with scarcely a hitch. There were a few bloopers but the wonder is that there weren't more.

And the boys were working under terrible handicaps. Under normal circumstances, along about 11 p.m. EST, the trend has been sufficiently established so that the pundits start saying things like: "Well, while the outcome is far from certain, it looks as if the Democrats have wrested control of Congress from the Republicans. If this is the case, we may confidently expect that the farm program will . . ." etc etc. Or: "Now that the Republicans have recaptured Congress, we may look forward to a further strengthening of . . ." etc etc.

All this crystal-gazing — and there's nothing more nourishing than political crystal-gazing—was bottled up by the general uncertainty as to who was winning. And not all the wonders of electronics, including UNIVAC, could answer that one all the long, long night.

DECEIT MUST BE TRIED

KEEPING the enemy from knowing the true situation is part of the strategy of fine bridge. But deliberate deceit, to make him think the facts are entirely different from what they are—perhaps that is the acme of craftiness. In certain spots, the sole chance for you is to mislead him into believing a certain exact lineup exists. If you get away with it, you are successful. If you fail in the try, well you could not have made out anyway.

	♠ Q J 10 6 ♥ K 4 ♦ A Q J 10 9 ♣ 4 3
♠ A 5 3 2 ♥ 10 9 3 ♦ 6 2 ♣ 10 7 6 5	N W E S	♠ 9 8 7 ♥ A Q J 7 ♦ 8 7 5 4 3 ♣ J
	♠ K 4 ♥ 8 6 5 2 ♦ K ♣ A K Q 9 8 2

(Dealer: West. East-West vulnerable.)

West	North	East	South
Pass	1 ♦	Pass	2 NT
Pass	3 ♠	Pass	3 NT

South had experienced a terrible evening. Everything had gone wrong. So he was ready to resort to desperate measures. These he launched when he kept his club suit concealed on the first round, determined that, if North next bid anything but hearts on the second, he would go into a No Trump game.

He saw, as soon as East put the J on the lead of the club 5, that West, with four of the suit, could stop its run. Also, if he himself took a couple of tricks or three in it, West would get a signal from East to lead hearts and perhaps ruin him.

Then he figured out how to make West help him. By winning with the K and then leading the 9, he would maybe cause West to think East had held the club Q-J, in which event West would hold up his 10 to take a second club trick for his side. The defender fell for the trap, playing his 6 on the 9. The A and Q then felled the 10, and South proceeded merrily to cash eleven tricks in the minor suits.

Would you have fallen for South's ruse, if you had been in the West seat? Don't be too sure that you would have seen through it.

What should South do, after the spade J lead, before he begins play for his 3-No Trump contract?

S. S. League Opens Saturday; Turkey Day Grid Officials Named

Hudson Is Back-Of-The-Week, Cited 5th Time In Three Years

Ties Kirtley, Beard, Beightol; Dougherty Named Top Lineman

HAROLD HUDSON

MIKE DOUGHERTY

Harold Hudson, LaSalle fullback, and leading scorer, yesterday equalled a record held by Bob Kirtley, of Allegany, and Dickie Beard and Lynn Beightol, of Fort Hill, when he was chosen Back-of-the-Week for the third time this season for his brilliant performance Friday night in the Explorers' 32-6 victory over Ridgeley High's Blackhawks.

Kirtley was selected three times during the 1953 season, Beard was chosen in 1951 and Beightol was named thrice in 1950.

Selection of Hudson the third time by the Knights of Columbus Selection Committee increased to five the number of times he has been honored over three seasons. He was named once in 1952 and once in 1953.

Hudson gained 138 yards in 15 carries against Ridgeley, scored two touchdowns, one on a 38-yard gallop, and booted two extra points from placement. He also had runs of 27 and 19 yards and snared a 14-yard aerial uncorked by Bill Buzzard.

Quarterback Bill Buzzard and Halfbacks Ken Lowery and Mickey Bush, of LaSalle, and Ridgeley's George Earnest and Ronnie Phillips also were mentioned in the balloting for backs.

Mike Dougherty, LaSalle junior end, was named Linemen-of-the-Week yesterday by the K. of C. Selection Committee of sportswriters and sportscasters.

He was cited for his offensive and defensive play against the Blackhawks Friday night. He made a number of nice tackles, caught a pass thrown by Buzzard for an 18-yard gain and started the Explorers on the way to their fourth touchdown with a nice runback of a short kickoff. He is LaSalle's first lineman nominated for the Player of the Year Award this year.

LaSalle was the only Cumberland school playing at home over the weekend and will occupy the spotlight for the second straight week when Altoona Catholic is met here Friday night.

Here are the players cited thus far as candidates for the annual award:

LINEMEN—Mike Dougherty, LaSalle; Dale Hillegas, Kenneth Poling and Jack Andrews, Fort Hill; Barry Sterner, Rodney Breedlove, Dick Johnson and Carl Brown, Allegany.

Navy, Iowa Make Top 10 In Grid Poll

UCLA Retains Lead, Miami, Purdue Drop

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

What keeps the UCLA Bruins in championship form?

Coach Red Sanders was asked that today after his smooth, powerful club gained the No. 1 national ranking for the second straight week in The Associated Press poll of sports writers and broadcasters.

His answer: Teamwork.

"There are two things that go to making up a good football team," the affable coach said, "enough good football players and a fine staff of assistants. I happen to be blessed with both."

Observers might add that a solid job of coaching has as much importance.

The Bruins, undefeated in eight games, have rolled up 333 points—to 40, for a new school record.

An even 300 votes were tabulated in the poll this week and 117 had the high scoring Uclans in first place as compared with 80 for Ohio State, which drew the second spot, followed by Oklahoma, Arkansas, Notre Dame and Army. Rounding out the top 10 in order are Mississippi, Southern California, Iowa and Navy.

Miami of Florida and Purdue both dropped out of the top 10. The Hurricanes were beaten by Auburn and Purdue took a 25-14 beating from Iowa. With that victory the Hawkeyes moved into the select group along with Navy's middies, who beat Duke 40-7.

The leading teams with first place votes and season's records in parentheses (points based on 10 first place, 9, 8 etc.)

1. UCLA (117)	8-0	2,660
2. Ohio State (8)	7-0	2,594
3. Oklahoma (44)	7-0	2,292
4. Arkansas (43)	7-0	2,207
5. Notre Dame (3)	5-1	1,480
6. Army (4)	6-1	1,452
7. Mississippi (5)	7-1	729
8. Southern California	7-1	672
9. Iowa	5-2	564
10. Navy	5-2	495

The Second Ten:

11. Miami (Fla	6-1	168
12. Cincinnati	8-0	155
13. Minnesota	6-1	148
14. Wisconsin	5-2	110
15. Virginia Tech	6-0-1	95
16. West Virginia (2)	5-1	92
17. Maryland	4-2-1	84
18. Baylor	6-2	76
19. Southern Methodist	4-1-1	65
20. Georgia	6-1-1	62

28 Cage Teams To See Action On Two Courts

Evening Contests Planned In Order To Shorten Season

Twenty-eight of the 29 teams of the YMCA Sunday School Basketball League will launch their 27th season on Saturday in games scheduled for the "Y" and Allegany High School courts, it was announced last night by Clifton Van Roby, secretary-treasurer, following a meeting at the YMCA.

A plan to split the league into two divisions was abandoned and a committee appointed by President Ralph Wimer to study the scheduling policy and structure of the league recommended that three or possibly four rounds of games be played during early evening hours instead of prolonging the regular season until April. This means that two, three or four games will be played between the hours of 5 and 8 p. m. until a round of games (14) would be completed. During a week of "picking up" these games practice sessions would be eliminated.

It was noted that there are 19 Saturday dates between Nov. 13 and April 2. Five Christmas holiday dates will be utilized as well as one Thanksgiving holiday date. To complete play earlier than heretofore three or four rounds would have to be completed during the course of the season.

Members attending the meeting were President Wimer, Roby, William Orndorff, Russell Minnicks, Paul Fisher and Arthur Davis.

New teams in this season's race are Living Stone Church of the Brethren, Centenary Methodist and Pentecostal Holiness.

Opening games Saturday are as follows:

AT YMCA:

Centre St. Methodist drew bye.
12 noon—St. John's vs. United Brethren.
12:55—Trinity Methodist vs. Calvary.
1:50—First Baptist vs. Presbyterian.
2:45—Emmanuel Methodist vs. Living Stone.
3:45—St. Matthew's vs. Holy Cross Episcopal.
4:35—First Methodist vs. Trinity Lutheran.
5:30—Park Place vs. Centenary.

AT ALLEGANY HIGH:

11 a. m.—LaVale Methodist vs. Central.
12 noon—Melvin Methodist vs. Maccabees.
12:55—Cresaptown vs. St. Luke's.
1:50—LaVale Baptist vs. Wiley Ford Nazarene.
2:45—Grace Baptist vs. Kingsley Methodist.
3:40—First Christian vs. Episcopal.
4:35—Grace Methodist vs. Pentecostal Holiness.

Lightweights Matched

NEW YORK, Nov. 9 (AP)—Frankie Ryff, undefeated New York lightweight, and veteran Orlando Zulueta of Cuba today were signed for a 10-round bout at Madison Square Garden, Dec. 3.

One of the finest 135-pound prospects developed in this area in several years, Ryff now is rated the No. 6 contender. Zulueta, who lost an unpopular split decision to Kenny Lane at St. Nicholas Arena Monday night, is ranked No. 4.

INJURED during the game with Penn in Philadelphia, Dick Szymanski, Notre Dame center, is reported out of danger after undergoing an emergency operation for a ruptured spleen. Szymanski, from Toledo, O., will be out the rest of the season. (International)

Supreme Court To Hear Boxing Monopoly Case

Government Suit Names IBC Outfits

WASHINGTON, Nov. 9 (AP)—The government goes before the Supreme Court tomorrow in a move aimed at breaking up what the Justice Department labels a monopoly in boxing.

The high court set aside two hours tomorrow afternoon for argument of the case in which the department contends the International Boxing Clubs of New York and Illinois, Madison Square Garden and their directors are violating the nation's anti-trust laws.

This action is an appeal from a ruling by the U. S. District Court for the Southern District of New York, which used the Supreme Court's historic baseball rulings as its basis for throwing out the government's suit.

In addition to the Garden and the two IBC outfits, the government's suit names as defendants James D. Norris, president of boxing clubs in New York and Chicago, and Arthur M. Wirtz, who is Norris' partner in running the Chicago Stadium and its subsidiaries.

Attorneys for the defendants maintain that since the Supreme Court has ruled baseball not subject to the anti-trust laws, the government has no right to bring monopoly charges against boxing.

Asst. Atty. Gen. Stanley N. Barnes replied that baseball and boxing are "markedly different" in the way in which they make their money.

Art Goldchien Will Referee City Contest

"Chick" Weihl, Noah And Newt Anderson Are Other Arbiters

Four West Virginia officials will handle the Fort Hill-Allegany football game at the stadium on Thanksgiving Day, it was announced last night by the local schools.

The arbiters will be the same as last year, namely, Art Goldchien, of Salem, referee; Noah Anderson, Shinnston, umpire; Fred "Chick" Weihl, Weston, field judge, and Newt Anderson, Buckhannon, head linesman.

Weihl is principal of Weston High School and is treasurer of the West Virginia High School Athletic Association while Newt Anderson is principal of Buckhannon High School.

The 1953 game which the four officiated here ended in a 7-7 deadlock. Allegany's last win over Fort Hill on Turkey Day was in 1945. The 1948 game also ended in a 6-6 tie.

Reserved seat tickets for the game went on sale Monday and may be purchased at both schools, Wilson Hardware Company and Truitt Drug Store. The price is $1.50, plus five cents City Recreation tax. General admission pasteboards are $1 each.

Fort Hill yesterday named Halfback Bob Andrews and Quarterback Jerry Landis as co-captains for the big game. Both seniors, they also will be honorary captains for the year.

No more games appear on the Allegany and Fort Hill schedules prior to their meeting on Thursday, November 25.

Blues' Successor To Retain Farms

NEW YORK, Nov. 9 (AP)—The new Kansas City franchise in the American League will keep the three minor league clubs owned by it predecessor — Ottawa, Savannah, Ga., and Lancaster, Pa.—as a nucleus for an expanded farm system.

Lancaster is in the Class B Piedmont League.

Denver May Replace Kansas City Blues

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Nov. 9 (AP)—An American Association realignment meeting today was scheduled for next Monday or Tuesday in Chicago.

Association President Ed Doherty said he expects his directors to decide upon a replacement for Kansas City. The American League yesterday approved transfer of the Philadelphia Athletics franchise to Kansas City.

League Plans Luncheon

The Bi-State Pony Baseball League will hold a luncheon Sunday, November 28, at 2 p. m. in the Midland Fire Hall.

ACCORDING to reports, Lou Boudreau, ousted as manager of the Boston Red Sox, is in line to pilot the Kansas City team in the American league.

Willie Clark Goes To Jail

Jockey Starts 30-Day Term At Hagerstown

HAGERSTOWN, Nov. 9 (AP) — Willie Clark, a popular jockey on the half-mile track circuit, returned to Hagerstown today to start a 30-day jail term imposed last Aug. 17.

Clark was fined $500, which he paid, on a drunken driving charge and sentenced to the 30-day term on a charge of driving on a revoked license while he waas riding at the Hagerstown track last summer.

He took an appeal on the jail sentence, however, to allow himself time to finish out the season on the half-mile tracks. His 30-day term will be up in time for him to get to the opening of the Charles Town Track's winter meet.

Clark told authorities he was a pretty good cook and will work in the county jail kitchen while serving his term.

Valley High Lands Four On WMI All-Star Soccer Team

Waddell, Mundeno, Brown, Wilson Picked By Coaches

Kertesz, Montgomery and Salesky Of Bruce Named; Two Teams Chosen

Valley High School's undefeated soccer team was voted four places on the first All-Star team selected by coaches of the W.M.I. League at a meeting on Monday night.

Players of the championship team honored were Richard Waddell, fullback; Bobby Mundeno, halfback; Randall Brown and Jim Wilson, lineman, all of whom have played their final game for Coach John Meyers' booting aggregation.

Bruce High placed three on the all-star aggregation, namely, Bob Kertesz, "Kip" Montgomery and Billy Salesky. Kenny Johnson and Gene Wilson were the Beall players to land places as did Chester Devore, the Mt. Savage goalie, and Kenny Lough, Flintstone High's fullback.

Valley High dominated the second all-star array with five places. Three Beall, two Flintstone and one each from Mt. Savage and Bruce made the second team of 12 players. A tie vote resulted in the naming of two goalies, Les Hennen of Flintstone, and Bill Richmond, of Valley.

Nine of the 11 players on the first team and eight of the 12 on the second are seniors. The selections:

FROSTBURG, Nov. 9 — Gene Wilson's field goal in the third period gave Beall High School a 1-0 decision over Bruce High of Westernport today and enabled Coach "Ebbie" Finzel's Mountaineers to finish in second place as the W.M.I. Soccer League season drew to a close.

Wilson headed the ball between the uprights for the game's only score following a corner kick by Jim Green, Beall's outside left. It was the eighth point tallied this season by Wilson and enabled the Beall High center forward to tie Jack Mongold of Valley High for high scoring honors for the the 28th campaign of the county circuit.

Beall concluded its campaign with a 5-3 record while Bruce won three and lost four. Bruce's postponed game with Mt. Savage has been cancelled.

Ronnie Rice, Kenny Johnson, Gene Wilson and Jim Green, of Beall, and Bob Kertesz and Robert "Kip" Montgomery of Bruce were the game's outstanding players.

Valley High won the championship last week with an 8-0 record. It was the second straight title won by the Lonaconing school. The lineups:

Golden Nu'get	11	7	Purple Heart	7	11
Hi Dee Club	10	8	Cas Taylor's	5	13
F'stb'g Legion	8	7	Cresaptown	4	11

Baseballs taken out of play in professional games are used up in batting practice.

TOUCH FOOTBALL'S POWER HOUSE — Pictured above may be Cumberland high school football stars of the future. They are the Columbia Street Blues who set a dizzy pace in winning the Grade School championship in the City Recreation Department's Touch Football League. They won seven consecutive games during the regular season to cop the Northern Division title then knocked off Carver in the playoff game, 36-6, to bag the title. The Blues, coached by Gary Shook, scored 486 points, an average of 69 per game, while holding the opposition to 12. They beat SS. Peter & Paul, 120-0, West Side Tigers, 96-0, Columbia Street Whites, 72-0, Mt. Royal, 42-0, Centre Street, 54-0, West Side Lions, 66-6 and won by forfeit over Gephart. The squad, left to right: FRONT ROW — Tommy Miller, Ronnie Shook, Doug Shook, Lee Judy and Bernard Galford. BACK ROW — Jim Stratton, Eddie Gaus, Gary Mulligan, co-captain; Wayne Shook, co-captain; Allen Kaplon and Ivan McDaniel. Coach Shook is in the background on the left.

Gene Wilson, Jack Mongold Head Scorers In WMI Loop

Tally Eight Goals Each In WMI League

Jack Mongold of Valley High's champions and Gene Wilson of Beall High's runner-up eleven tied for high scoring honors in the W.M.I. Soccer League this year with eight points each.

Mongold booted eight field goals while Wilson scored six times from the field and twice from the penalty line.

Thornton Robinette of Flintstone High's Aggies finished third with six tallies while "Kip" Montgomery of Bruce, George Bishields, Mt. Savage, and "Butch" Young of Valley scored four points each.

Valley High rolled up a total of 25 points while holding its opponents to five in eight games to turn in the best offensive and defensive records.

Boudreau Is Top Candidate For Job As Pilot Of A's

NEW YORK, Nov. 9 (AP) — Lou Boudreau remained the leading candidate for the job of managing the new Kansas City Athletics today as Owner Arnold Johnson announced he expected to fill the job and also name a general manager within a week.

Johnson said he expected to talk with Joe Cronin, Boston Red Sox general manager who fired Boudreau after the 1954 season. Boudreau had another year to go on his contract at $45,000 a year.

Johnson didn't close the book with Boudreau, however. He said he expected to talk with several others. Asked about the status of Eddie Jost, the 1954 manager, he said he still was under consideration.

"I have made some inquiries about a general manager," he said. "But I definitely have not offered anybody a job."

WANTING something, have something to sell, need help or tenants? Your best bet would be to put it in headlines in your local newspaper; but since that is impossible, the next best place is in the want ads. They're small but mighty and very economical.

The Election

Well, another election has come and gone, leaving its memories and its problems. For my money, the high point of the election coverage came when James Roosevelt was being interviewed about his victory in California.

Mr. Roosevelt, beaming, opined that he was very happy about the victory and declared that he had just congratulated his brother, Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr., on his victory for the attorney-generalship of New York State. The CBS picture then bounced back to Walter Cronkite in New York who declared somewhat grumpily that he wished one candidate would stop talking about the victories of other candidates.

"This doesn't square with our information at all," he said wearily. "At last report, Mr. Roosevelt was not winning the race here in New York; he was trailing." And, as a matter of fact, young Franklin Roosevelt lost. But that's the way things went all night long. Come to think of it, the congratulations to James Roosevelt in California were a little premature, too. Later returns showed that the race was far from over there, though Roosevelt did win eventually.

This was one of the most puzzling, one of the most exciting and one of the most unpredictable elections to come along in years and it highlighted television's great strength and its weakness at this sort of thing. The great strength is the immediacy. The moment returns are in they are on the air. Under normal conditions, a trend is established fairly early in the evening and then any veteran political newscaster can talk at great length about the fact that, well, the upstate farm vote has not been heard from yet but on the other hand don't expect too much from the upstate farm vote, either. That's the tipoff. And sure enough when the upstate farm vote comes in, it isn't enough.

News commentators on radio and television are fairly expert, very early in the vote counting, at detecting who is in and who isn't. But they are also very expert at maintaining the suspense—after all, they're going to be on the air for hours—until the folks at home dicide for themselves that Congressman X is a shoo-in and go to bed. Or until Congressman Y concedes.

But this time congressmen were conceding elections long before they had any right to. The speed of modern communications is a wonderful thing but it does create problems. The people feel that they have to jump to conclusions as fast as the machinery feeds them the statistics.

Fortunately, the wiser heads among the newscasters were not stampeded. Long after UNIVAC, the Remington-Rand electric brain used on CBS, had forecast a Democratic sweep, the more mortal brains of Eric Sevareid and Edward R. Murrow were advising us all to take it easy, that it wasn't over yet. And it wasn't by a long shot.

Technically, CBS, which went into this election much more thoroughly than anyone else, did a superb job. The pictures jumped from New York to California and back again, from one headquarters to another, from one race to another—hour after hour with scarcely a hitch. There were a few bloopers but the wonder is that there weren't more.

And the boys were working under terrible handicaps. Under normal circumstances, along about 11 p.m. EST, the trend has been sufficiently established so that the pundits start saying things like: "Well, while the outcome is far from certain, it looks as if the Democrats have wrested control of Congress from the Republicans. If this is the case, we may confidently expect that the farm program will . . ." etc etc. Or: "Now that the Republicans have recaptured Congress, we may look forward to a further strengthening of . . ." etc etc.

All this crystal-gazing — and there's nothing more nourishing than political crystal-gazing—was bottled up by the general uncertainty as to who was winning. And not all the wonders of electronics, including UNIVAC, could answer that one all the long, long night.

THE QUESTION BOX!

Q. IS CABLE TV PROVING PRACTICAL IN OTHER PARTS OF THE U.S.A.?

A. Yes, it is proving the most satisfactory and economical way to get good TV, not only in Cumberland, but in over 300 other cities. Over one million are seeing TV by cable TV systems right now and it is estimated by 1960, this number will grow to over twenty million!

Daily Bridge Lesson

by Barclay

DECEIT MUST BE TRIED

KEEPING the enemy from knowing the true situation is part of the strategy of fine bridge. But deliberate deceit, to make him think the facts are entirely different from what they are—perhaps that is the acme of craftiness. In certain spots, the sole chance for you is to mislead him into believing a certain exact lineup exists. If you get away with it, you are successful. If you fail in the try, well you could not have made out anyway.

	♠ Q J 10 6 ♥ K 4 ♦ A Q J 10 9 ♣ 4 3
♠ A 5 3 2 ♥ 10 9 3 ♦ 6 2 ♣ 10 7 6 5	N W E S	♠ 9 8 7 ♥ A Q J 7 ♦ 8 7 5 4 3 ♣ J
	♠ K 4 ♥ 8 6 5 2 ♦ K ♣ A K Q 9 8 2

(Dealer: West. East-West vulnerable.)

West	North	East	South
Pass	1 ♦	Pass	2 NT
Pass	3 ♣	Pass	3 NT

South had experienced a terrible evening. Everything had gone wrong. So he was ready to resort to desperate measures. These he launched when he kept his club suit concealed on the first round, determined that, if North next bid anything but hearts on the second, he would go into a No Trump game.

He saw, as soon as East put the J on the lead of the club 5, that West, with four of the suit, could stop its run. Also, if he himself took a couple of tricks or three in it, West would get a signal from East to lead hearts and perhaps ruin him.

Then he figured out how to make West help him. By winning with the K and then leading the 9, he would maybe cause West to think East had held the club Q-J, in which event West would hold up his 10 to take a second club trick for his side. The defender fell for the trap, playing his 6 on the 9. The A and Q then felled the 10, and South proceeded merrily to cash eleven tricks in the minor suits.

Would you have fallen for South's ruse, if you had been in the West seat? Don't be too sure that you would have seen through it.

Tomorrow's Problem

	♠ K 7 5 ♥ A 9 8 4 2 ♦ 7 ♣ Q 10 8 2
♠ J 10 9 4 3 ♥ Q J 6 ♦ J 4 2 ♣ A 3	N W E S	♠ Q 8 2 ♥ 10 7 3 ♦ Q 10 9 ♣ K 9 7 5
	♠ A 6 ♥ K 5 ♦ A K 8 6 5 3 ♣ J 6 4

(Dealer: Soutth. East-West vulnerable.)

What should South do, after the spade J lead, before he begins play for his 3-No Trump contract?

NEW YORK, Nov. 9—(INS)—A change of scenery can, and sometimes does, change a good but disgruntled ball player into a star.

But no such change is ever going to help a poor ball club.

Therefore, we must conclude that whether the Athletics play in Kankakee, Kalamazoo or Kansas City it will make no difference in the quality of their play.

The Athletics are a bad ball club and it may take a few years and more than a million dollars to make them presentable even to the natives of Thailand.

The A's will have to build up a strong farm chain and that can't be done overnight nor for peanut money.

We stress the word strong because as a rule high class prospects do not come from weak minor league clubs. As Branch Rickey once said: "You can't build a pennant winner with a bunch of boys out of Class D leagues."

True, once in a while a minor leaguer will be dug up from the deep bushes to be an immediate winner in the majors. Or a Frankie Frisch or a Ted Lyons will leap from a college campus into immediate stardom. Or a Walter Johnson will come from nowhere to amaze the baseball world.

But those birds are almost as rare as teeth in a hen's head.

You might suppose that good business sense would dictate a helping hand for the Athletics from the strong clubs, because a well-balanced league means a big boost all around in attendance.

But it never works that way. We recall that when the late multi-millionaire Col. Jake Ruppert and Cap Houston bought the Yanks, the other club owners promised to help them out with some ball players.

Well, the new Yankee owners soon discovered that the promised help consisted in offers to sell them a bat boy or a bull pen catcher for $100,000 or so.

Ruppert then got Ed Barrow to run the front office, bought Babe Ruth, spent money lavishly, built up a farm system and in time started the Yanks on their long and victorious career.

The trouble with the A's has been that they had no money, no management in the front office and no farm system worth mentioning.

They also had, and still have, few players worth mentioning and therefore virtually no trading material.

They have one marketable infielder — Jim Finigan — and one pitcher — Arnold Portocarrero.

But, judging by past performances, the strong clubs will offer them half a dozen palukas and cash for either of them.

We can hope for the best for the A's next year but we fear the worst and as of now we expect them to finish in the cellar.

Cards Have 25 Negroes Listed In Organization

AP Newsfeatures

ST. LOUIS — Twenty-five Negro baseball players now are in the St. Louis Cardinal organization.

They are headed by Brooks Lawrence, whose 6—4 pitching record with Columbus, Ohio earned him a chance with the Cardinals last season. He won 15 games and lost 6 during the last two-thirds of the campaign.

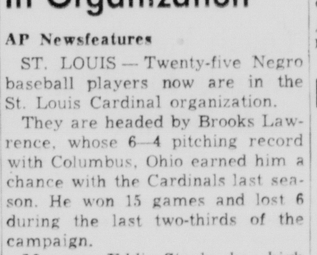

Manager Eddie Stanky has high hopes for the husky 30-year-old right hander who was drafted last winter from Cincinnati's Tulsa farm.

First baseman Tom Alston, the first Negro to wear a St. Louis Cardinal uniform, will be back in spring training at St. Petersburg. After failing last spring he hit .293 for Rochester.

Pitcher Bill Greason, who saw limited service with St. Louis last season, lost his only big league decision. Winner of four games at Columbus he will be with Rochester in 1955.

Two other Negro players who have been in the majors and are now in the Red Bird organization are first baseman Bob Boyd, formerly of the White Sox, and Willard Brown, formerly with the St. Louis Browns. Boyd hit .319 at Houston and will go to Rochester in 1955 while Brown will again be with Houston after hitting .314.

Board Asks Plan To Reduce Acid Mine Drainage

Values Of Savage River Dam Lauded

The Upper Potomac River Board yesterday laid plans for reviving legislation designed to minimize the pollution of streams in Maryland by acids draining from a strip mining operations.

The legislatio nis part of a plan being sought by the board to reduce acid drainage from both existing and abandoned mines.

Mark. W. Roe, chairman, said the board will discuss plans for the strip mining legislation with members of the Allegany County delegation.

The action was taken after the reading of a letter from Joseph T. Singewald, director of the Department of Geology, Mines and Water Resources, who pointed out that a law passed several years ago regulating strip mining was declared discriminatory and unconstitutional because it excluded Garrett County.

To Seek Revision

Officials indicated they will seek to have the previous law modified so it will include Garrett County.

Officials said they do not want to work a hardship upon the industry but feel that new mining operations should be conducted in such a way as to guard against further pollution.

Meanwhile, other agencies, both federal an dstate, are working on the problem of acid mine drainage in the Potomac River. One of the most active adoocates has been the Interstate Commission on the Potomac River Basin.

Cuts Flood Damage

The board, which is completing a quarter century of service in decreasing pollution in the North Branch of the Potomac River in this area, heard a report from J. G. Patrick, supervisory engineer of the Savage River Dam, and the important part it played in reducing damage from the flood waters which accompanied Hurricane Hazel's ivsit here.

He also pointed out that the conduits built by the Corps of Engineers to handle surface water in Cumberland worked satisfactorily under the severe test.

J. B. Dowling, who represents the Health Department on the board, reported on effects to reduce pollution from community dumps.

Dowling said Piedmont, W. Va., plans to take care of its dump, now located halfway between there and Keyser, in connection with plans for sewage treatment.

Group Receives Scout Awards

The renewal of the charter of Boy Scout Troop 76, Wiley Ford, was made last night in a ceremony at the elementary school of that community.

The troop is sponsored by the Parent-Teachers Association of Wiley Ford School. Michael Sirna was in charge of the program and introduced the various participants.

Marshall Nield, scoutmaster, and Edward Knippenburg, assistant scoutmaster, presented Second Class Scout pins and one-year pins to the following members in a Court of Honor:

Tenderfoot pins were presented to David Hutt and Lawrence Wolf. During the meeting, J. F. Wagner, neighborhood commissioner, gave a talk on scouting.

Another Oil, Gas Lease Recorded

Another oil and gas lease between a Flintstone area resident and the New York Natural Gas Corporation of Pittsburgh, Pa., was filed for record yesterday in the office of Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court.

Mrs. Emma E. Koontz has leased 139 acres to the corporation for 10 years and will receive $1 per acre per year for the lease. In addition she will receive one-eighth of the price of all oil and gas produced in the area.

The New York Natural Gas Corporation has leased over 3,000 acres of land in Election District 3 at Flintstone and Election District 1 at Little Orleans. The Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company has leased 990 acres east of Flintstone.

Hooky-Playing Increases With Hunting Season

Parents Are Urged To Curb Absences

Monday is the second of three fall days which traditionally have been affecting Allegany County public school attendance adversely, according to Homer S. Higgins, supervisor of pupil personnel in county schools.

The three days are opening days for portions of the Maryland hunting season. Monday will open the season on rabbit, quail, pheasant and grouse which runs until January 1, except for the week of deer season.

First of the three troublesome days for school authorities was October 5 when the squirrel and turkey season opened. It ended October 31. Last of the three will be December 6 when the one-week deer season begins.

School offiicals are asking parents to cooperate in eliminating this problem by ascertaining that their sons go to school on the opening day of the next hunting season Monday.

Higgins cited a number of reasons why absenteeism on the part of schoolboy hunters is such a problem. The first is safety. When a great number of children go into the woods they are endangering their lives which will be crowded with hunters. A number of tragic accidents have occurred among hunters in this area this fall.

School officials cite the importance of continuity of attendance in a child's school program. Days lost have a tendency to create lack of interest in the subjects which the pupil is taking.

Higgins observed that this unexcused absenteeism is a waste of money because the students are not taking advantage of the money that the public has spent for their education. On October 5, between 200 and 250 schoolboys were absent to go hunting. That represents, if considered as one person, the loss of between one and one and one-half school years. In dollars it is a waste of between $244 and $366, Higgins added.

The majority of failures in school are caused by irregular attendance which creates for the pupil a lack of interest and a feeling of lack of success. That is one of the principal causes of many dropouts once the pupils reach the age when compulsory school attendance no longer is required.

Higgins concluded with a request that teachers and principals urge parents of boys in their schools to cooperate in eliminating this absenteeism problem among young hunters.

Red Cross Cuts Two Hours From Training

The Red Cross has changed the standard first aid course from a minimum of 20 hours of training to 18 hours, according to Mrs. Lee Witherup, local chapter secretary.

The Civil Defense supplement is now included in the Red Cross first aid text book, and the training program has been stepped up to train more people in fewer hours.

During the past fiscal year, reports indicate that 789,531 persons received first aid certificates. The Eastern Area, of which Allegany County is a part, issued certificates to 350,212 trained first aid personnel.

Correction

Due to an error in a caption furnished by a news picture service, Monday morning's issue of The Cumberland News erroneously identified Charles M. Carter of Shepherdstown, W. Va., as the man killed in a recent accident at Breathedsville. A photo of one of the automobiles in the collision was identified as Carter's.

Carter was in "fair" condition last night at Washington County Hospital in Hagerstown, where he underwent surgery yesterday. The other driver, Clyde R. May, Lappans (Md.) was killed.

VFW Post Disbands Drum Corps; May Form New Unit

Henry Hart Post 1411, Veterans of Foreign Wars, has disbanded its Drum and Bugle corps, but hopes to form a new musical organization soon.

Harry Reiber, post adjutant, said the post plans to sell the more than 60 uniforms of the drum corps to help raise money for the new organization.

The corps, long a mainstay of Cumberland parades with its flashy uniforms and snappy cadence, had to be abandoned when it became too great a financial burden, Reiber explained.

Insurance Men To Meet Here In October '55

The Allegany-Garrett Association of Insurance Agents will be host to the 19th annual convention of the Maryland Association of Insurance Agents, Inc., October 16, 17 and 18, next year in Cumberland.

A delegation of local insurance men attended the 18th annual convention at the Lord Baltimore Hotel in Baltimore last week, and extended an invitation to the state group to convene here in 1955.

The last time the state association held a convention in Cumberland was in 1941.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Holzshu, John Geare, Robert Barnard, Mr. and Mrs. James B. Reinhart, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar A. Kendall, all of this city, and Miss Naomi M. Flanagan, Westernport, comprised the local delegation to the Baltimore conclave.

Holzshu said last night that committees are to be named to make detailed plans for the meeting here, and a general convention chairman will be appointed.

He said that more than 500 attended the Baltimore rally and at least that number is anticipated in Cumberland next fall.

Reinhart is retiring secretary of the state association.

Four Will Attend Farm Bureau Meeting

Four representatives from the Allegany County Farm Bureau will attend the second annual meeting of the Maryland Farm Bureau voting delegates at the Lord Baltimore Hotel in Baltimore Friday, November 19.

Voting delegates from here will be K. O. Nelson, Frank Morgan and Robert Heavener. Floyd Buser, county Farm Bureau president, will have a vote as a member of the state board.

The Baltimore meeting will deal only with national resolutions on problems affecting agriculture. Local and state issues will be resolved at the regular January convention of the State Farm Bureau.

Polio Attacks Two Adults In Allegany County

Are First Cases Reported This Year

Two Allegany County residents, both adults, are recovering from attacks of polio which hit several weeks ago, the Health Department announced yesterday.

Both of the polio patients suffered mild cases, authorities said, late in October at the onset of cold weather which normally brings an end to the polio season.

The first affected, Ronald Kaiser, 23, of LaVale, became ill about October 19, official's said, and is recuperating at his home after treatment in Memorial Hospital.

Treatment Continues

Officials said the attack left him with some slight paralysis in the left leg, and that treatment is being continued by his physician and by the Allegany County League for Crippled Children.

The other affected is Mrs. Marie Beal, 30, of Mt. Savage, who became ill October 26 and is due to be discharged from Memorial Hospital in about a week. Officials said the attack was of the nonparalytic type.

Dr. Winter R. Frantz, city and county health officer, said all contacts have been immunized with gamma globulin, and that the disease is past the communicable stage for both.

Are First Of Year

If any new cases were going to arise from the cases, they would have occurred by now, the Health Department said.

The polio cases were the first to be reported in Allegany County during 1954, and occurred just as health officials were beginning to feel that the greatest danger had passed.

There is no hard and fast rule for the end of the polio season here, but the danger is considered fairly well over when cold weather arrives.

This county escaped with only two polio cases last year, one occuring in Gilmore and the other in Frostburg.

36 Persons Killed In Auto Accidents During September

During the month of September some 36 persons met death as a result of highway accidents in Maryland.

According to a report compiled by the State Police, 368 persons have been killed this year as a result of mishaps on the highways.

In September nine persons met death on Thursdays and eight persons died as a result of accidents occurring on Mondays. On Sundays a total of six persons were killed with five persons being killed on Tuesdays. Four persons were fatally injured on Saturdays of September while two persons were killed on Wednesdays and Fridays of that month.

A continual reminder of the Maryland State Police is "Highway Safety is Everybody's Business—Let's Stop This Killing."

Remodeling Being Done At Local Methodist Church

A program of remodeling work is now under way at Trinity Methodist Church, 122 Grand Avenue, and future plans call for a proposed Sunday School building addition adjoining the church.

Rev. Louis P. Chastain, pastor, last night said that S. Russ Minter, local architect, has been engaged to draw up plans for the building.

He is scheduled to make several "rough" sketches and present them with other data at a future meeting of the Building Committee. The new addition, Rev. Chastain pointed out, would be in the rear of the present church.

The building program for new Sunday School quarters is necessitated by the increase in enrollment, he added. At present the sanctuary of the church is being rewired. Fluorescent lights will be installed and the building will be insulated.

After the electrical work is completed the sanctuary will be redecorated, Rev. Chastain said. The art windows of the church are also to be repaired before the redecoration work is done.

Members of the Building Committee are Dr. C. E. Durrett, James Garland, C. W. Nickel, P. E. Nixon, Delbert Proudfoot, Allan Reuschel, Oscar Swartley, Arie Wagner, C. G. Watson and the pastor.

Support Urged For Junior Rifle Club

Mayor Says Suitable Building Is Needed

Public support for a program to provide supervised training in firearms for youths was urged yesterday by Mayor Roy W. Eves.

The mayor suggested that emphasis be placed, during the observance of the Sixth Annual Allegany County Safety Week November 12-20, upon the efforts of a small group of interested citizens to provide a rifle range for boys up to 19 years of age who would be organized in a junior rifle club.

The first requirement, he added, will be a suitable building, 20 by 70 feet, to be used by the rifle club.

Mayor Eves said club would be set up under the supervision of the National Rifle Association.

Outline Program

Plans for such an organization to provide a safe means of satisfying the desire of youths to become proficient in the use of firearms were outlined to Mayor Eves by James L. Gross, president of the Western Maryland Rifle League; James A. Spitznaugle, secretary of the Hercules Powder Company rifle team, and George J. Miller, representative for junior activities of the Western Maryland Rifle League.

It was pointed out that up to 150 boys have indicated desire to participate in the program.

Experience in other cities, the mayor said, has been that a project of this kind practically eliminates the illegal use of firearms by boys, and halts the breaking of windows, street lights and often injury to innocent bystanders.

Statistics also support the claim that such a program results in the decrease, if not elimination, of hunting accidents by adults.

Those who have been trained in the proper use of firearms, it was pointed out, seldom make the mistakes that result in injuries while handling guns or in hunting accidents.

Keegan Offers Help

William V. Keegan, commissioner of fire and police, has offered the use of the police pistol and rifle range at Constitution Park and the pistol range in City Hall annex.

The annex range, however, cannot be used for rifles, since it provides a range of only 25 feet. The Constitution Park range is in the open and suitable for use only in summer months.

Commissioner Keegan said a check of police records indicates such a program would be helpful to the Police Department.

Mayor Eves commented that one police official told him recently that the organization of a junior shooting club, such as is planned here, has solved the problem of careless use of firearms and BB guns in his community.

Boys who belong to properly supervised clubs the Mayor said, are allowed to shoot their rifles only on the range, where they can become proficient under strict supervision and under rules which have been formulated by competent firearms authorities.

County Volunteer Firemen To Attend State Meeting

Allegany-Garrett County Volunteer Firemen's Association plans to be well represented at the first executive board meeting of the State Firemen's Association to be held Sunday at 10 a. m. at the Havre de Grace Fire House.

Attending from this area will be William A. Wilson of Midland, state treasurer; John Prichard, Grantsville, chairman of the board of trustees; Cromwell Zembower, LaVale, chairman of the liaison committee for the state convention; Joseph Stuckey, Corriganville, chairman of the topic and statistical committee; David E. Kirk, Barton, association president and member of the state fire prevention committee; Nelson W. Russler, Chapel Hill, co-chairman of the state convention committee; Homer Ambrose, McCoole, and Albert Snelson, Corriganville.

The association will be host to the state association on June 22, 23 and 24 in Cumberland for the 63d annual convention.

Conroy Pledged To Acacia

Edward A. Conroy, son of Mrs. Mary B. Conroy, 711 Louisiana Avenue, has been pledged to the Cornell Chapter of Acacia fraternity. He is a freshman at Cornell.

Nine Allegany Communities Elect Their ASC Committees

Nine communities in Allegany County have elected their Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committees for 1955, Miss Elizabeth A. Hoover, clerk of the County ASC Committee, announced yesterday.

Some 114 farmers, 44.5 per cent of the 258 eligible voters, cast ballots in the election, Miss Hoover said. That is a higher percentage than has been recorded here in years.

The nine community chairmen have been invited to attend a convention at the ASC office, 37 Washington Street, at 10:30 a. m. Friday for the selection of a new county committee. Present members are Albert O'Neal, chairman; James H. Weimer, vice chairman; Joseph W. Silber, regular member; Leonard J. Stegmaier, first alternate, and Russell M. Valentine, second alternate.

Because Silber was elected chairman of his Community No. 2 committee, at Oldtown, the vice chairman from there, Roy A. Shryock Jr., will replace him at the convention.

The community committees:

Community No. 1, Little Orleans, John H. Frail, chairman; D. D. Norris, vice chairman; Dale T. Mann, regular member; Marshall T. Mann, first alternate, and Harry A. Norris, second alternate.

Community No. 2, Oldtown, Joseph F. Silber, chairman; Roy A. Shryock Jr., vice chairman; William T. McLaughlin, regular member; Eugene Carder, first alternate; Edward I. Shryock, second alternate.

Community No. 3, Flintstone, Ernest R. Slider, chairman; Wade Wallizer, vice chairman; James H. House, regular member; Martin M. Gordon, first alternate, and C. J. Robosson, second alternate.

Community No. 4, North Branch, Roy M. Twigg, chairman; William Hetrick, vice chairman; James W. Shank, regular member; John H. Tipton, first alternate; Lloyd N. Twigg, second alternate.

Community No. 5, Union Grove, Leslie E. Hinkle, chairman; J. Robert Adams, vice chairman; Theodore Stegmaier, regular member; Joseph B. Hardman, first alternate, and Henry S. Grabenstein, second alternate.

Community No. 6, Mt. Savage, Harry H. Delbrook, chairman; Wilbert R. Paul, vice chairman; John N. Poorbaugh, regular member; Lester K. Beal, first alternate; Theodore Thoerig, second alternate.

Community No. 7, Potomac Valley, Harry J. Barton, chairman; Paul N. Yoder, vice chairman; A. E. Light, regular member; Charles G. Llewellyn, first alternate, and George M. Barton, second alternate, and George M. Barton, second alternate.

Community No. 8, George's Creek, Charles T. Clise, chairman; L. B. Shaw, vice chairman; Dewey Llewellyn, regular member; Frank Ravenscroft, first alternate, and William A. Goodwin, second alternate.

Community No. 9, Frostburg, James A. Morgan, chairman; Nat Workman, vice chairman; Arch Davis, regular member; Marshall R. Porter, first alternate, and Ivan Wilson, second alternate.

Four Wills Are Filed

Four wills were admitted to probate yesterday in Allegany County Orphans Court.

Dr. H. Hall Sharp, pastor of St. Luke's Lutheran Church for 34 years at the time of his death October 23, left his entire estate to his widow, Mrs. Matilda M. Sharp, 230 Bedford Street, who also qualified as executrix of his estate under $100 bond.

Also admitted was the will of Mrs. Margaret E. Goldsworthy, who was 76 and lived on Park Avenue in Frostburg at the time of her death November 1. Her attorney, James S. Getty, qualified as executor of the estate under a $2,000 bond.

After several small cash bequests she left all of the rest of her estate to three sisters, Mrs. Bertha M. Thompson, this city, one half; Mrs. J. Phillips and Mrs. Catherine I. Wattenschaidt, both of Lonaconing, one-fourth each.

The will of Mrs. Annie E. Gerdeman Shinholt, who was 74 and resided at 721 North Mechanic Street when she died October 19, left her estate to three children, Cecelia, Henry J. and Annie May. The will was dated October 23, 1917. James B. Gerdeman, RFD 6, Roberts Place, qualified as administrator c.t.a.

Also admitted to probate was the will of Henry B. Wilson, of Frostburg, who was 81 when he died May 3. He left his daughter, Mrs. Melissa Wilson Price, of Frostburg, a life estate in all of his real property. Upon her death it is to go to his grandson, Enoch W. Price Jr. When he dies his children will share the estate equally.

Young Republicans Honor New Delegate

The Young Republican Club of Allegany County last night congratulated George R. Hughes Jr. for his successful campaign for election to the House of Delegates.

Hughes' election was cited by James S. Getty, chairman of the Republican State Central Committee of Allegany County, in a review of the work of the GOP organization in last Tuesday's election.

The club met in Central YMCA last night, with Mrs. Elaine Palmer, president, presiding.

Plans were made to hold a Christmas party at the home of Delegate-elect Hughes on December 18 at 8 p. m.

Mixup Is Blamed For Early Alert

Ridgeley's premature participation in Monday night's surprise Civil Defense alert was blamed last night on a misunderstanding.

Fire Chief Leo Rice, who was in charge of the Ridgeley participation, said Police Chief Harry Detrick, who gave the word to start the siren, reported he was told by J. Walter Byer, assistant CD coordinator of Cumberland, that the alert would be at 7 p. m.

Byer said he had advised Ridgeley authorities he understood the alert would take place about 7 p. m. and that they should wait until they heard the Cumberland sirens.

Byer said there would have been plenty of reason for a false start.

He said he was standing by, some minutes before 7 p. m., and heard a siren sound from South End. This was followed, he said, by a long engine whistle and another siren, all prior to the blasting of the Ridgeley siren.

Rites Planned For Victim Of Hanging

A funeral service for Kenneth Wade Sellers, 21, who was found hanging from bars of a cellblock in City Jail early yesterday less than two hours after his arrest, will be held tomorrow at 2 p. m. in Green Spring Methodist Church.

Rev. William Keller, of Springfield, W. Va., will officiate and interment will be in Forest Glenn Cemtery, Green Spring. The body is at the George Funeral Home.

The body of the young magazine salesman was discovered at 2:15 a. m. by Officer John F. Daum and efforts to revive him were futile, police said. He had lived at a local rooming house.

Detective Joseph H. Stitcher and officer Kenneth Morrissey who made the arrest at 12:40 a. m. in connection with an investigation of the alleged theft of clothes and jewelry belonging to a fellow-roomer, said Sellers took his shirt and knotted the sleeves around the door bars. Then he put his head in the loop and slumped to the floor, causing strangulation.

Patrolman Daum made the discovery while transfering a "sleeper" to another cell. Sellers was last seen alive when the officer offered him a light for a cigaret at 1:30.

Sgt. Charles D. Manges applied artificial respiration and the police resuscitator was used to no avail. Dr. H. V. Deming, deputy county medical examiner, and County Investigator Edwin R. Lilya were notified at 2:40. Also investivating was Detective Donald H. Smith.

As customary, police had taken Sellers' belt and necktie when he was booked.

Sellers was taken into custody at the home of his estranged wife, Mrs. Victoria (Twigg) Sellers, North Mechanic Street, who is employed in a local restaurant.

Born October 10, 1933 in Westerly, W. Va., he served in the Army and was discharged last August 17. He was a member of Green Spring Methodist Church.

Survivors include his parents and a brother, David Sellers, who is serving in the armed forces.

Valley Road Man Is Injured In Fall

An 85-year-old Valley Road man fell near the home of a daughter on Pine Avenue yesterday afternoon and was admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital suffering bruises of the face and head.

In "fair" condition at the hospital, according to attaches, is George Cooper, RD 3, city, who was reported to have fallen in a vacant lot near the home of Mrs. Effie Elsworth, 527 Pine Avenue, and was knocked unconscious. He regained consciousness at the hospital dispensary where he was taken about 2 p. m.

The Weather

Pleasant Indian Summer weather continued here again yesterday but it was not quite as mild as it has been the past several days. High reading at Constitution Park was 54 and low 33. At 8 o'clock last night it was 42. The 6 o'clock humidity reading was 53 per cent. Continued fair and mild weather is the outlook for today with high temperature ranging between 50 and 55.

State Tax Body Favors Payroll Deduction Plan

Legislative Council Outlines Home Rule

By LOU PANOS

BALTIMORE, Nov. 9 (AP) — New support for putting Maryland's state income tax on a withholding basis, just like the federal tax, developed today in a Legislative Council committee hearing.

Benjamin F. Marsh, chief of the Income Tax Division which opposed a similar idea several years ago, told the Budget and Finance Committee his agency now favors the idea.

He held out the possibility of the State's picking up about two million dollars it now loses through delinquents. The estimated total delinquency is about three million, he said, but a third of this is tracked down.

Marsh appeared before the committee to express opposition to a proposal for moving the due date of Maryland tax returns from April 15 to May 15. This had been suggested because the federal return due date had been changed from March 15 to April 15 and there was talk of burdening the Maryland taxpayer by making both his state and federal returns due on the same date.

Could Upset Treasury

Marsh said a change to the May 15 date for state income taxes could upset Maryland's fiscal operations. About 66 per cent of all returns are filed on the due date itself, he said. This would mean the tax division would have only six weeks to process more than 350,000 returns between May 15 and June 30, the closing day of the State's fiscal year.

"Why we'd have 10 to 15 million dollars lying on the floor in bags and envelopes instead of in the State treasury at the close of the year," he said.

On the other hand, said Marsh, the federal withholding tax system could prevent the Maryland taxpayer from being overburdened by a coincidence of due dates for federal and state returns.

The Maryland date was changed in 1941 from March to April, he said, because the federal withholding system was not then in effect.

Would Favor Plan Now

State Sen. Ramsburg (R-Frederick) then asked about the possibility of setting up a withholding system for Maryland returns as well. Sen. Kimble (R-Allegany) also expressed interest in the possibility.

Marsh said he would favor the idea now.

When it was brought up years ago, he added, the State tax agency opposed it because the federal government then refused to withhold state income taxes on its employes living in Maryland. These workers have been among the most difficult to reach for collection of the state levy, Marsh said.

The federal government now withholds state income taxes from its employes, he said.

Marsh also reported there is less opposition among business people to a state withholding plan.

The income tax discussion was one of the highlights as Maryland lawmakers began their last round of screening legislative proposals before the 1955 General Assembly.

Home Rule Outlined

Committees of the Legislative Council, interim reviewing body of the assembly, also took up questions of censorship, state aid in educating handicapped children under 6, and blind vendors.

The council subcommittee on home rule approved two proposals dealing with the mechanics of setting up new municipal corporations and allowing existing ones to amend their own charters.

One proposal, submitted by Executive Secretary Edward Johnson of the Maryland Municipal League, includes the ABCs of how a group of residents might go about making their community a municipal corporation.

Ten per cent of the voters in the affected area would present a petition to their county commissioners, asking for an election. Their petition would include a proposed charter for the new community.

This proposed charter is the substance of the other measure approved by the home rule subcommittee today, but the petitioners could draft one of their own and substitute it in their petition.

The county commissioners, after checking the petition to make sure all signers are registered voters from the affected area, would then set the date for a special election between 40 and 60 days later.

The State Constitution was amended in the Nov. 2 election to make home rule possible throughout Maryland, instead of just in Baltimore City, which already was self-governing powers.

The amendment says the Legislature may set up "not more than four" classifications of municipal corporations, depending on their populations, and adds that any State law affecting one town shall apply to all other towns in its class.

The proposal given a favorable report by the subcommittee, headed by Sen. Redden (D-Caroline), establishes only one classification applicable to all communities.

Equity Suit Filed

An equity suit was filed yesterday in Allegany County Circuit Court. The bill of complaint was titled Fleada S. Cox vs. Luther C. Cox.

NEW YORK, Nov. 9—(INS)—A change of scenery can, and sometimes does, change a good but disgruntled ball player into a star.

But no such change is ever going to help a poor ball club.

Therefore, we must conclude that whether the Athletics play in Kankakee, Kalamazoo or Kansas City it will make no difference in the quality of their play.

The Athletics are a bad ball club and it may take a few years and more than a million dollars to make them presentable even to the natives of Thailand.

The A's will have to build up a strong farm chain and that can't be done overnight nor for peanut money.

We stress the word strong because as a rule high class prospects do not come from weak minor league clubs. As Branch Rickey once said: "You can't build a pennant winner with a bunch of boys out of Class D leagues."

True, once in a while a minor leaguer will be dug up from the deep bushes to be an immediate winner in the majors. Or a Frankie Frisch or a Ted Lyons will leap from a college campus into immediate stardom. Or a Walter Johnson will come from nowhere to amaze the baseball world.

But those birds are almost as rare as teeth in a hen's head.

You might suppose that good business sense would dictate a helping hand for the Athletics from the strong clubs, because a well-balanced league means a big boost all around in attendance.

But it never works that way. We recall that when the late multi-millionaire Col. Jake Ruppert and Cap Houston bought the Yanks, the other club owners promised to help them out with some ball players.

Well, the new Yankee owners soon discovered that the promised help consisted in offers to sell them a bat boy or a bull pen catcher for $100,000 or so.

Ruppert then got Ed Barrow to run the front office, bought Babe Ruth, spent money lavishly, built up a farm system and in time started the Yanks on their long and victorious career.

The trouble with the A's has been that they had no money, no management in the front office and no farm system worth mentioning.

They also had, and still have, few players worth mentioning and therefore virtually no trading material.

They have one marketable infielder — Jim Finigan — and one pitcher — Arnold Portocarrero.

But, judging by past performances, the strong clubs will offer them half a dozen palukas and cash for either of them.

We can hope for the best for the A's next year but we fear the worst and as of now we expect them to finish in the cellar.

Cards Have 25 Negroes Listed In Organization

AP Newsfeatures

ST. LOUIS — Twenty-five Negro baseball players now are in the St. Louis Cardinal organization.

They are headed by Brooks Lawrence, whose 6—4 pitching record with Columbus, Ohio earned him a chance with the Cardinals last season. He won 15 games and lost 6 during the last two-thirds of the campaign.

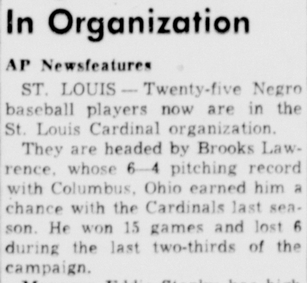

Manager Eddie Stanky has high hopes for the husky 30-year-old right hander who was drafted last winter from Cincinnati's Tulsa farm.

First baseman Tom Alston, the first Negro to wear a St. Louis Cardinal uniform, will be back in spring training at St. Petersburg. After failing last spring he hit .293 for Rochester.

Pitcher Bill Greason, who saw limited service with St. Louis last season, lost his only big league decision. Winner of four games at Columbus he will be with Rochester in 1955.

Two other Negro players who have been in the majors and are now in the Red Bird organization are first baseman Bob Boyd, formerly of the White Sox, and Willard Brown, formerly with the St. Louis Browns. Boyd hit .319 at Houston and will go to Rochester in 1955 while Brown will again be with Houston after hitting .314.

Board Asks Plan To Reduce Acid Mine Drainage

Values Of Savage River Dam Lauded

The Upper Potomac River Board yesterday laid plans for reviving legislation designed to minimize the pollution of streams in Maryland by acids draining from a strip mining operations.

The legislatio nis part of a plan being sought by the board to reduce acid drainage from both existing and abandoned mines.

Mark. W. Roe, chairman, said the board will discuss plans for the strip mining legislation with members of the Allegany County delegation.

The action was taken after the reading of a letter from Joseph T. Singewald, director of the Department of Geology, Mines and Water Resources, who pointed out that a law passed several years ago regulating strip mining was declared discriminatory and unconstitutional because it excluded Garrett County.

To Seek Revision

Officials indicated they will seek to have the previous law modified so it will include Garrett County.

Officials said they do not want to work a hardship upon the industry but feel that new mining operations should be conducted in such a way as to guard against further pollution.

Meanwhile, other agencies, both federal an dstate, are working on the problem of acid mine drainage in the Potomac River. One of the most active adoocates has been the Interstate Commission on the Potomac River Basin.

Cuts Flood Damage

The board, which is completing a quarter century of service in decreasing pollution in the North Branch of the Potomac River in this area, heard a report from J. G. Patrick, supervisory engineer of the Savage River Dam, and the important part it played in reducing damage from the flood waters which accompanied Hurricane Hazel's ivsit here.

He also pointed out that the conduits built by the Corps of Engineers to handle surface water in Cumberland worked satisfactorily under the severe test.

J. B. Dowling, who represents the Health Department on the board, reported on effects to reduce pollution from community dumps.

Dowling said Piedmont, W. Va., plans to take care of its dump, now located halfway between there and Keyser, in connection with plans for sewage treatment.

Group Receives Scout Awards

The renewal of the charter of Boy Scout Troop 76, Wiley Ford, was made last night in a ceremony at the elementary school of that community.

The troop is sponsored by the Parent-Teachers Association of Wiley Ford School. Michael Sirna was in charge of the program and introduced the various participants.

Marshall Nield, scoutmaster, and Edward Knippenburg, assistant scoutmaster, presented Second Class Scout pins and one-year pins to the following members in a Court of Honor:

Richard Wolf, Billy Manning, Joseph Nield, Roger Taylor, Elwood Lambert, Richard and Wessley Burkhart and Bernie Sherman. Also receiving a Second Class Scout pin was Ernie Glase.

Tenderfoot pins were presented to David Hutt and Lawrence Wolf. During the meeting, J. F. Wagner, neighborhood commissioner, gave a talk on scouting.

Another Oil, Gas Lease Recorded

Another oil and gas lease between a Flintstone area resident and the New York Natural Gas Corporation of Pittsburgh, Pa., was filed for record yesterday in the office of Joseph E. Boden, clerk of Allegany County Circuit Court.

Mrs. Emma E. Koontz has leased 139 acres to the corporation for 10 years and will receive $1 per acre per year for the lease. In addition she will receive one-eighth of the price of all oil and gas produced in the area.

The New York Natural Gas Corporation has leased over 3,000 acres of land in Election District 3 at Flintstone and Election District 1 at Little Orleans. The Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company has leased 990 acres east of Flintstone.

B&O Carmen Retire

N. A. Stewart, (left), assistant general chairman of the local Brotherhood of Railway Carmen of America, presents a purse from fellow employes to two retiring Baltimore and Ohio Railroad carmen, D. C. Mangus (center) and T. B. Frieland. Thirty members, including Mangus and Frieland, received 20 and 30-year pins in ceremonies last night at the Odd Fellows Hall on Virginia Avenue.

Hooky-Playing Increases With Hunting Season

Parents Are Urged To Curb Absences

Monday is the second of three fall days which traditionally have been affecting Allegany County public school attendance adversely, according to Homer S. Higgins, supervisor of pupil personnel in county schools.

The three days are opening days for portions of the Maryland hunting season. Monday will open the season on rabbit, quail, pheasant and grouse which runs until January 1, except for the week of deer season.

First of the three troublesome days for school authorities was October 5 when the squirrel and turkey season opened. It ended October 31. Last of the three will be December 6 when the one-week deer season begins.

School officals are asking parents to cooperate in eliminating this problem by ascertaining that their sons go to school on the opening day of the next hunting season Monday.

Higgins cited a number of reasons why absenteeism on the part of schoolboy hunters is such a problem. The first is safety. When a great number of children go into the woods they are endangering their lives which will be crowded with hunters. A number of tragic accidents have occurred among hunters in this area this fall.

School officials cite the importance of continuity of attendance in a child's school program. Days lost have a tendency to create lack of interest in the subjects which the pupil is taking.

Higgins observed that this unexcused absenteeism is a waste of money because the students are not taking advantage of the money that the public has spent for their education. On October 5, between 200 and 250 schoolboys were absent to go hunting. That represents, if considered as one person, the loss of between one and one and one-half school years. In dollars it is a waste of between $244 and $366, Higgins added.

The majority of failures in school are caused by irregular attendance which creates for the pupil a lack of interest and a feeling of lack of success. That is one of the principal causes of many dropouts once the pupils reach the age when compulsory school attendance no longer is required.

Higgins concluded with a request that teachers and principals urge parents of boys in their schools to cooperate in eliminating this absenteeism problem among young hunters.

Red Cross Cuts Two Hours From Training

The Red Cross has changed the standard first aid course from a minimum of 20 hours of training to 18 hours, according to Mrs. Lee Witherup, local chapter secretary.

The Civil Defense supplement is now included in the Red Cross first aid text book, and the training program has been stepped up to train more people in fewer hours.

During the past fiscal year, reports indicate that 789,531 persons received first aid certificates. The Eastern Area, of which Allegany County is a part, issued certificates to 350,212 trained first aid personnel.

Correction

Due to an error in a caption furnished by a news picture service, Monday morning's issue of The Cumberland News erroneously identified Charles M. Carter of Shepherdstown, W. Va., as the man killed in a recent accident at Breathedsville. A photo of one of the automobiles in the collision was identified as Carter's.

Carter was in "fair" condition last night at Washington County Hospital in Hagerstown, where he underwent surgery yesterday. The other driver, Clyde R. May, Lappans (Md.) was killed.

VFW Post Disbands Drum Corps; May Form New Unit

Henry Hart Post 1411, Veterans of Foreign Wars, has disbanded its Drum and Bugle corps, but hopes to form a new musical organization soon.

Harry Reiber, post adjutant, said the post plans to sell the more than 60 uniforms of the drum corps to help raise money for the new organization.

The corps, long a mainstay of Cumberland parades with its flashy uniforms and snappy cadence, had to be abandoned when it became too great a financial burden, Reiber explained.

Insurance Men To Meet Here In October '55

The Allegany-Garrett Association of Insurance Agents will be host to the 19th annual convention of the Maryland Association of Insurance Agents, Inc., October 16, 17 and 18, next year in Cumberland.

A delegation of local insurance men attended the 18th annual convention at the Lord Baltimore Hotel in Baltimore last week, and extended an invitation to the state group to convene here in 1955.

The last time the state association held a convention in Cumberland was in 1941.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Holzshu, John Geare, Robert Barnard, Mr. and Mrs. James B. Reinhart, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar A. Kendall, all of this city, and Miss Naomi M. Flanagan, Westernport, comprised the local delegation to the Baltimore conclave.

Holzshu said last night that committees are to be named to make detailed plans for the meeting here, and a general convention chairman will be appointed.

He said that more than 500 attended the Baltimore rally and at least that number is anticipated in Cumberland next fall.

Reinhart is retiring secretary of the state association.

Four Will Attend Farm Bureau Meeting

Four representatives from the Allegany County Farm Bureau will attend the second annual meeting of the Maryland Farm Bureau voting delegates at the Lord Baltimore Hotel in Baltimore Friday, November 19.

Voting delegates from here will be K. O. Nelson, Frank Morgan and Robert Heavener. Floyd Buser, county Farm Bureau president, will have a vote as a member of the state board.

The Baltimore meeting will deal only with national resolutions on problems affecting agriculture. Local and state issues will be resolved at the regular January convention of the State Farm Bureau.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Broll, 327 Arch Street, a son, Sunday.

Polio Attacks Two Adults In Allegany County

Are First Cases Reported This Year

Two Allegany County residents, both adults, are recovering from attacks of polio which hit several weeks ago, the Health Department announced yesterday.

Both of the polio patients suffered mild cases, authorities said, late in October at the onset of cold weather which normally brings an end to the polio season.

The first affected, Ronald Kaiser, 23, of LaVale, became ill about October 19, official's said, and is recuperating at his home after treatment in Memorial Hospital.

Treatment Continues

Officials said the attack left him with some slight paralysis in the left leg, and that treatment is being continued by his physician and by the Allegany County League for Crippled Children.

The other affected is Mrs. Marie Beal, 30, of Mt. Savage, who became ill October 26 and is due to be discharged from Memorial Hospital in about a week. Officials said the attack was of the nonparalytic type.

Dr. Winter R. Frantz, city and county health officer, said all contacts have been immunized with gamma globulin, and that the disease is past the communicable stage for both.

Are First Of Year

If any new cases were going to arise from the cases, they would have occurred by now, the Health Department said.

The polio cases were the first to be reported in Allegany County during 1954, and occurred just as health officials were beginning to feel that the greatest danger had passed.

There is no hard and fast rule for the end of the polio season here, but the danger is considered fairly well over when cold weather arrives.

This county escaped with only two polio cases last year, one occuring in Gilmore and the other in Frostburg.

36 Persons Killed In Auto Accidents During September

During the month of September some 36 persons met death as a result of highway accidents in Maryland.

According to a report compiled by the State Police, 368 persons have been killed this year as a result of mishaps on the highways.

In September nine persons met death on Thursdays and eight persons died as a result of accidents occurring on Mondays. On Sundays a total of six persons were killed with five persons being killed on Tuesdays. Four persons were fatally injured on Saturdays of September while two persons were killed on Wednesdays and Fridays of that month.

A continual reminder of the Maryland State Police is "Highway Safety is Everybody's Business—Let's Stop This Killing."

Support Urged For Junior Rifle Club

Mayor Says Suitable Building Is Needed

Public support for a program to provide supervised training in firearms for youths was urged yesterday by Mayor Roy W. Eves.

The mayor suggested that emphasis be placed, during the observance of the Sixth Annual Allegany County Safety Week November 12-20, upon the efforts of a small group of interested citizens to provide a rifle range for boys up to 19 years of age who would be organized in a junior rifle club.

The first requirement, he added, will be a suitable building, 20 by 70 feet, to be used by the rifle club.

Mayor Eves said club would be set up under the supervision of the National Rifle Association.

Outline Program

Plans for such an organization to provide a safe means of satisfying the desire of youths to become proficient in the use of firearms were outlined to Mayor Eves by James L. Gross, president of the Western Maryland Rifle League; James A. Spitznaugle, secretary of the Hercules Powder Company rifle team, and George J. Miller, representative for junior activities of the Western Maryland Rifle League.

It was pointed out that up to 150 boys have indicated desire to participate in the program.

Experience in other cities, the mayor said, has been that a project of this kind practically eliminates the illegal use of firearms by boys, and halts the breaking of windows, street lights and often injury to innocent bystanders.

Statistics also support the claim that such a program results in the decrease, if not elimination, of hunting accidents by adults.

Those who have been trained in the proper use of firearms, it was pointed out, seldom make the mistakes that result in injuries while handling guns or in hunting accidents.

Keegan Offers Help

William V. Keegan, commissioner of fire and police, has offered the use of the police pistol and rifle range at Constitution Park and the pistol range in City Hall annex.

The annex range, however, cannot be used for rifles, since it provides a range of only 25 feet. The Constitution Park range is in the open and suitable for use only in summer months.

Commissioner Keegan said a check of police records indicates such a program would be helpful to the Police Department.

Mayor Eves commented that one police official told him recently that the organization of a junior shooting club, such as is planned here, has solved the problem of careless use of firearms and BB guns in his community.

Boys who belong to properly supervised clubs the Mayor said, are allowed to shoot their rifles only on the range, where they can become proficient under strict supervision and under rules which have been formulated by competent firearms authorities.

County Volunteer Firemen To Attend State Meeting

Allegany-Garrett County Volunteer Firemen's Association plans to be well represented at the first executive board meeting of the State Firemen's Association to be held Sunday at 10 a. m. at the Havre de Grace Fire House.

Attending from this area will be William A. Wilson of Midland, state treasurer; John Prichard, Grantsville, chairman of the board of trustees; Cromwell Zembower, LaVale, chairman of the liaison committee for the state convention; Joseph Stuckey, Corriganville, chairman of the topic and statistical committee; David E. Kirk, Barton, association president and member of the state fire prevention committee; Nelson W. Russler, Chapel Hill, co-chairman of the state convention committee; Homer Ambrose, McCoole, and Albert Snelson, Corriganville.

The association will be host to the state association on June 22, 23 and 24 in Cumberland for the 63d annual convention.

Conroy Pledged To Acacia

Edward A. Conroy, son of Mrs. Mary B. Conroy, 711 Louisiana Avenue, has been pledged to the Cornell Chapter of Acacia fraternity. He is a freshman at Cornell.

Remodeling Being Done At Local Methodist Church

A program of remodeling work is now under way at Trinity Methodist Church, 122 Grand Avenue, and future plans call for a proposed Sunday School building addition adjoining the church.

Rev. Louis P. Chastain, pastor, last night said that S. Russ Minter, local architect, has been engaged to draw up plans for the building.

He is scheduled to make several "rough" sketches and present them with other data at a future meeting of the Building Committee. The new addition, Rev. Chastain pointed out, would be in the rear of the present church.

The building program for new Sunday School quarters is necessitated by the increase in enrollment, he added. At present the sanctuary of the church is being rewired. Fluorescent lights will be installed and the building will be insulated.

After the electrical work is completed the sanctuary will be redecorated, Rev. Chastain said. The art windows of the church are also to be repaired before the redecoration work is done.

Members of the Building Committee are Dr. C. E. Durrett, James Garland, C. W. Nickel, P. E. Nixon, Delbert Proudfoot, Allan Reuschel, Oscar Swartley, Arie Wagner, C. G. Watson and the pastor.

Nine Allegany Communities Elect Their ASC Committees

Nine communities in Allegany County have elected their Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committees for 1955, Miss Elizabeth A. Hoover, clerk of the County ASC Committee, announced yesterday.

Some 114 farmers, 44.5 per cent of the 258 eligible voters, cast ballots in the election, Miss Hoover said. That is a higher percentage than has been recorded here in years.

The nine community chairmen have been invited to attend a convention at the ASC office, 37 Washington Street, at 10:30 a. m. Friday for the selection of a new county committee. Present members are Albert O'Neal, chairman; James H. Weimer, vice chairman; Joseph W. Silber, regular member; Leonard J. Stegmaier, first alternate, and Russell M. Valentine, second alternate.

Because Silber was elected chairman of his Community No. 2 committee, at Oldtown, the vice chairman from there, Roy A. Shryock Jr., will replace him at the convention.

The community committees:

Community No. 1, Little Orleans, John H. Trail, chairman; D. D. Norris, vice chairman; Dale T. Mann, regular member; Marshall T. Mann, first alternate, and Harry A. Norris, second alternate.

Community No. 2, Oldtown, Joseph F. Silber, chairman; Roy A. Shryock Jr., vice chairman; William T. McLaughlin, regular member; Eugene Carder, first alternate; Edward I. Shryock, second alternate.

Community No. 3, Flintstone, Ernest R. Slider, chairman; Wade Wallizer, vice chairman; James H. House, regular member; Martin M. Gordon, first alternate, and C. J. Robosson, second alternate.

Community No. 4, North Branch, Roy M. Twigg, chairman; William Hetrick, vice chairman; James W. Shank, regular member; John H. Tipton, first alternate; Lloyd N. Twigg, second alternate.

Community No. 5, Union Grove, Leslie E. Hinkle, chairman; J. Robert Adams, vice chairman; Theodore Stegmaier, regular member; Joseph B. Hardman, first alternate, and Henry S. Grabenstein, second alternate.

Community No. 6, Mt. Savage, Harry H. Delbrook, chairman; Wilbert R. Paul, vice chairman; John N. Poorbaugh, regular member; Lester K. Beal, first alternate; Theodore Thoerig, second alternate.

Community No. 7, Potomac Valley, Harry J. Barton, chairman; Paul N. Yoder, vice chairman; A. E. Light, regular member; Charles G. Llewellyn, first alternate, and George M. Barton, second alternate, and George M. Barton, second alternate.

Community No. 8, George's Creek, Charles T. Clise, chairman; L. B. Shaw, vice chairman; Dewey Llewellyn, regular member; Frank Ravenscroft, first alternate, and William A. Goodwin, second alternate.

Community No. 9, Frostburg, James A. Morgan, chairman; Nat Workman, vice chairman; Arch Davis, regular member; Marshall R. Porter, first alternate, and Ivan Wilson, second alternate.

Four Wills Are Filed

Four wills were admitted to probate yesterday in Allegany County Orphans Court.

Dr. H. Hall Sharp, pastor of St. Luke's Lutheran Church for 34 years at the time of his death October 23, left his entire estate to his widow, Mrs. Matilda M. Sharp, 230 Bedford Street, who also qualified as executrix of his estate under $100 bond.

Also admitted was the will of Mrs. Margaret E. Goldsworthy, who was 76 and lived on Park Avenue in Frostburg at the time of her death November 1. Her attorney, James S. Getty, qualified as executor of the estate under a $2,000 bond.

After several small cash bequests she left all of the rest of her estate to three sisters, Mrs. Bertha M. Thompson, this city, one half; Mrs. J. Phillips and Mrs. Catherine I. Wattenschaidt, both of Lonaconing, one-fourth each.

The will of Mrs. Annie E. Gerdeman Shinholt, who was 74 and resided at 721 North Mechanic Street when she died October 19, left her estate to three children, Cecelia, Henry J. and Annie May. The will was dated October 23, 1917. James B. Gerdeman, RFD 6, Roberts Place, qualified as administrator c.t.a.

Also admitted to probate was the will of Henry B. Wilson, of Frostburg, who was 81 when he died May 3. He left his daughter, Mrs. Melissa Wilson Price, of Frostburg, a life estate in all of his real property. Upon her death it is to go to his grandson, Enoch W. Price Jr. When he dies his children will share the estate equally.

Young Republicans Honor New Delegate

The Young Republican Club of Allegany County last night congratulated George R. Hughes Jr. for his successful campaign for election to the House of Delegates.

Hughes' election was cited by James S. Getty, chairman of the Republican State Central Committee of Allegany County, in a review of the work of the GOP organization in last Tuesday's election.

The club met in Central YMCA last night, with Mrs. Elaine Palmer, president, presiding.

Plans were made to hold a Christmas party at the home of Delegate-elect Hughes on December 18 at 8 p. m.

Mixup Is Blamed For Early Alert

Ridgeley's premature participation in Monday night's surprise Civil Defense alert was blamed last night on a misunderstanding.

Fire Chief Leo Rice, who was in charge of the Ridgeley participation, said Police Chief Harry Detrick, who gave the word to start the siren, reported he was told by J. Walter Byer, assistant CD coordinator of Cumberland, that the alert would be at 7 p. m.

Byer said he had advised Ridgeley authorities he understood the alert would take place about 7 p. m. and that they should wait until they heard the Cumberland sirens.

Byer said there would have been plenty of reason for a false start.

He said he was standing by, some minutes before 7 p. m., and heard a siren sound from South End. This was followed, he said, by a long engine whistle and another siren, all prior to the blasting of the Ridgeley siren.

Rites Planned For Victim Of Hanging

A funeral service for Kenneth Wade Sellers, 21, who was found hanging from bars of a cellblock in City Jail early yesterday less than two hours after his arrest, will be held tomorrow at 2 p. m. in Green Spring Methodist Church.

Rev. William Keller, of Springfield, W. Va., will officiate and interment will be in Forest Glenn Cemtery, Green Spring. The body is at the George Funeral Home.

The body of the young magazine salesman was discovered at 2:15 a. m. by Officer John F. Daum and efforts to revive him were futile, police said. He had lived at a local rooming house.

Detective Joseph H. Stitcher and officer Kenneth Morrissey who made the arrest at 12:40 a. m. in connection with an investigation of the alleged theft of clothes and jewelry belonging to a fellow-roomer, said Sellers took his shirt and knotted the sleeves around the door bars. Then he put his head in the loop and slumped to the floor, causing strangulation.

Patrolman Daum made the discovery while transfering a "sleeper" to another cell. Sellers was last seen alive when the officer offered him a light for a cigaret at 1:30.

Sgt. Charles D. Manges applied artificial respiration and the police resuscitator was used to no avail. Dr. H. V. Deming, deputy county medical examiner, and County Investigator Edwin R. Lilya were notified at 2:40. Also investivating was Detective Donald H. Smith.

As customary, police had taken Sellers' belt and necktie when he was booked.

Sellers was taken into custody at the home of his estranged wife, Mrs. Victoria (Twigg) Sellers, North Mechanic Street, who is employed in a local restaurant.

Born October 10, 1933 in Westerly, W. Va., he served in the Army and was discharged last August 17. He was a member of Green Spring Methodist Church.

Survivors include his parents and a brother, David Sellers, who is serving in the armed forces.

Valley Road Man Is Injured In Fall

An 85-year-old Valley Road man fell near the home of a daughter on Pine Avenue yesterday afternoon and was admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital suffering bruises of the face and head.

In "fair" condition at the hospital, according to attaches, is George Cooper, RD 3, city, who was reported to have fallen in a vacant lot near the home of Mrs. Effie Elsworth, 527 Pine Avenue, and was knocked unconscious. He regained consciousness at the hospital dispensary where he was taken about 2 p. m.

The Weather

Pleasant Indian Summer weather continued here again yesterday but it was not quite as mild as it has been the past several days. High reading at Constitution Park was 54 and low 33. At 8 o'clock last night it was 42. The 6 o'clock humidity reading was 53 per cent. Continued fair and mild weather is the outlook for today with high temperature ranging between 50 and 55.

State Tax Body Favors Payroll Deduction Plan

Legislative Council Outlines Home Rule

By LOU PANOS

BALTIMORE, Nov. 9 (AP) — New support for putting Maryland's state income tax on a withholding basis, just like the federal tax, developed today in a Legislative Council committee hearing.

Benjamin F. Marsh, chief of the Income Tax Division which opposed a similar idea several years ago, told the Budget and Finance Committee his agency now favors the idea.

He held out the possibility of the State's picking up about two million dollars it now loses through delinquents. The estimated total delinquency is about three million, he said, but a third of this is tracked down.

Marsh appeared before the committee to express opposition to a proposal for moving the due date of Maryland tax returns from April 15 to May 15. This had been suggested because the federal return due date had been changed from March 15 to April 15 and there was talk of burdening the Maryland taxpayer by making both his state and federal returns due on the same date.

Could Upset Treasury

Marsh said a change to the May 15 date for state income taxes could upset Maryland's fiscal operations. About 66 per cent of all returns are filed on the due date itself, he said. This would mean the tax division would have only six weeks to process more than 350,000 returns between May 15 and June 30, the closing day of the State's fiscal year.

"Why we'd have 10 to 15 million dollars lying on the floor in bags and envelopes instead of in the State treasury at the close of the year," he said.

On the other hand, said Marsh, the federal withholding tax system could prevent the Maryland taxpayer from being overburdened by a coincidence of due dates for federal and state returns.

The Maryland date was changed in 1941 from March to April, he said, because the federal withholding system was not then in effect.

Would Favor Plan Now

State Sen. Ramsburg (R-Frederick) then asked about the possibility of setting up a withholding system for Maryland returns as well. Sen. Kimble (R-Allegany) also expressed interest in the possibility.

Marsh said he would favor the idea now.

When it was brought up years ago, he added, the State tax agency opposed it because the federal government then refused to withhold state income taxes on its employes living in Maryland. These workers have been among the most difficult to reach for collection of the state levy, Marsh said.

The federal government now withholds state income taxes from its employes, he said.

Marsh also reported there is less opposition among business people to a state withholding plan.

The income tax discussion was one of the highlights as Maryland lawmakers began their last round of screening legislative proposals before the 1955 General Assembly.

Home Rule Outlined

Committees of the Legislative Council, interim reviewing body of the assembly, also took up questions of censorship, state aid in educating handicapped children under 6, and blind vendors.

The council subcommittee on home rule approved two proposals dealing with the mechanics of setting up new municipal corporations and allowing existing ones to amend their own charters.

One proposal, submitted by Executive Secretary Edward Johnson of the Maryland Municipal League, includes the ABCs of how a group of residents might go about making their community a municipal corporation.

Ten per cent of the voters in the affected area would present a petition to their county commissioners, asking for an election. Their petition would include a proposed charter for the new community.

This proposed charter is the substance of the other measure approved by the home rule subcommittee today, but the petitioners could draft one of their own and substitute it in their petition.

The county commissioners, after checking the petition to make sure all signers are registered voters from the affected area, would then set the date for a special election between 40 and 60 days later.

The State Constitution was amended in the Nov. 2 election to make home rule possible throughout Maryland, instead of just in Baltimore City, which already was self-governing powers.

The amendment says the Legislature may set up "not more than four" classifications of municipal corporations, depending on their populations, and adds that any State law affecting one town shall apply to all other towns in its class.

The proposal given a favorable report by the subcommittee, headed by Sen. Redden (D-Caroline), establishes only one classification applicable to all communities.

Equity Suit Filed

An equity suit was filed yesterday in Allegany County Circuit Court. The bill of complaint was titled Fleada S. Cox vs. Luther C. Cox.
